

FUNERAL SERVICES
FOR LINNAES C. BOYD
AT CAPITAL TUESDAY

Funeral services for Linnaes C. Boyd, well known Indianapolis financier and former Richmond resident, who died Saturday at his country home near Indianapolis, will be held at his home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. F. S. C. Hicks, of the All Souls Unitarian church, of Indianapolis, will officiate. Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery at Indianapolis.

Mr. Boyd was a director of the Indiana National Bank and Union Trust company, of Indianapolis, and was president of the Indianapolis Gas company.

He had been in retirement since suffering a paralytic stroke about four years ago. He returned about two months ago from California, where he went in an effort to regain his health.

He is survived by the widow, a daughter, Mrs. Helen Higgins, and a son, Phillip Linnaes, who is in California, two brothers, Robert E. Boyd, and Orville A. Boyd, of this city.

Born in Wayne County.

Mr. Boyd was born in Wayne county, Jan. 18, 1864. His father, John C. Boyd, a prominent farmer of Wayne county, died in 1902. Mr. Boyd attended Wayne county grade schools and then studied two years at Earlham college. At the age of 16 he was given a teacher's license and was an instructor in Wayne county schools four years. During this period he also attended the Indiana State Normal school, Terre Haute, two terms.

Giving up the profession of teaching, Mr. Boyd studied law and was admitted to the bar at Noblesville in 1885, becoming a member of the firm of Stafford & Boyd. A few years later he became a claim adjuster for the Pennsylvania railroad. During his work as claim agent, Mr. Boyd traveled extensively in the oil and gas producing regions of the country and became interested in this phase of industry.

Director in Water Company.

Interested also in the commercial side of water, he became a director in the Indianapolis Water Company in 1904, removing to Indianapolis from Richmond the following year, when he was made vice president. In 1905 he was made president of the Indianapolis Gas Company, a holding company leasing to the Citizens Gas Company.

In 1930, Mr. Boyd married Miss Mary Thomas Spencer, of Richmond. William F. Spencer, her father, was a prominent manufacturer of this city.

Mr. Boyd was a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce, one of the governors of the Board of Trade at Indianapolis, and a member of the Country club, University club, Marion club and Columbia club, all of Indianapolis.

Mr. Boyd was one of the originators of the movement to erect a hospital as a memorial to James Whitcomb Riley and it was at a meeting in his home that the groundwork of what is the Riley Memorial association was laid.

It was a source of keen regret to Mr. Boyd that his illness in recent months prevented greater activity in the organization. In that, as in the benefactions which marked his life, he proceeded quietly. He held a keen interest in young men who came under his eye in business and frequently exerted his influence to their advancement.

VISIT OF JAPANESE TO U. S. IS REGARDED AS GOOD INDICATION

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—One of the most important business adventures since the war is the way some leaders of industry in New York regard the arrival at Seattle of a party of Japanese commercial leaders who will spend 45 days in the United States, journeying from coast to coast.

The party, due next Thursday from Yokohama, on the Kashima Maru, numbers 23, headed by Dr. Takuma Dan, general managing director of the combined Mitsui interests, and a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Their visit returns those made to Japan by three American groups within the last 18 months. Besides conferring with Chambers of Commerce throughout the country, the delegation while in Washington will meet President Harding and his cabinet.

Let No Corn
Spoil an Hour
Any Corn Can Be Stopped Now,
Any Moment, by a Touch

SCIENCE has solved the corn problem. One can now stop a corn ache instantly, and shortly remove the whole corn.

The method is gentle, scientific, sure. A famous chemist invented it. A surgical dressing house of world-wide fame produces it.

It is Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster. A touch applies it. The pain stops at once. Soon the whole corn, however ancient, loosens and comes out.

It makes harsh treatments unnecessary. It makes paring ridiculous. It makes every corn ache a folly.

Your druggist has Blue-jay. Let it end your corn—tonight.

These visits are increasing and the results are already pronounced."

New Yorkers have arranged an extraordinary reception for the visitors. Industrial leaders here hope that as a result of informal conferences, the United States and Japan will take the initiative in an international adjustment of trade relations in the Far East.

Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the Chamber of Commerce of New York City, holds this view of the visit:

"It represents the passing of the old diplomacy in favor of a frank and cooperative discussion of mutual problems by business men who, after all, are the ones chiefly concerned. The spirit which has prompted this visit by the Japanese merchants will meet prompt response from American business men all over the country. This insures not only better business relations but better political relations between Japan and the United States."
