Garland Smokeless Heater

This Soft Coal Heater is as clean as a hard coal burner. It actually burns the soot and smoke.

Its construction enables it to get the very last heat unit out of the fuel.

What GARLAND Means

In the first place, the Smokeless Heater is the product of Garland makers, the world's largest makers of stoves and furnaces.

Absolutely Guaranteed

It is sold under an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction, backed by us and the Garland makers. This guarantee means that you are positively assured of plenty of CLEAN HEAT and of real heating efficiency at low cost.

No Other Heater Like It

The secret of the unequalled heating capacity of the heater is in the patented, exclusive principles of its construction. Fresh air is introduced at the surface of the fire, not at the top of the stove.

The oxygen strikes the gases, the smoke and the soot when they are the hottest. Perfect combustion results, and the most of the smoke and soot are consumed.

The Garland Construction

The air is introduced through the nickel screw-draft register at the front of the heater. It passes around between the ring and the slotted firepot, becoming heated, and then passes into a gas-ring filled with perforations, through which the heated air meets the inflammable gases as they leave the fire below.

Perfect Combustion More Heat

By the use of this patented exclusive construction, the Garland Smokeless Heater is enabled to utilize the heat which would otherwise escape up the chimney in the form of unconsumed smoke and gases.
