

CINCINNATI GATHERS
TO HONOR MEMORY
OF 'OLD TIPPECANOE'

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 24.—The first steps towards establishing a permanent memorial here for William Henry Harrison, "Old Tippecanoe," were taken today at formal dedication of the William Henry Harrison Park, and the breaking of ground for an ornamental gateway to the park at North Bend, near here.

Under an act of the legislature, the state took over the tomb site of the former president, and established the park.

The gateway will be semi-circular, and will contain seats on both sides, with a walk leading to the Harrison tomb.

General J. Warren Keifer of Springfield, former speaker of the national house of representatives, was to deliver the oration today.

Children of the upper grades of Cincinnati's schools were dismissed so they could attend the ceremonies, augmenting the crowd that gathered near the tomb entrance.

The tomb of General Harrison is a stone box, 18 feet long, 14 feet six inches wide, and 10 feet high. Two-thirds of it is under ground.

TRAMP TRAIN RUNS
WITHOUT SCHEDULE

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 24.—There is a tramp train on the Duluth and Iron Range railroad running up into the north woods that has gone on for year after year unheeding the advance of progress. The train is known as the Highball. She makes her nightly flight into the north woods for the accommodation of lumberjacks, sportsmen, fishermen, hunters and seekers of work, picking up as a side issue a parcel of hogs or a herd of sheep.

The Highball is composed of box cars, one wooden passenger coach, a combination smoker and baggage car and then a caboose, the latter serving as a sleeping car.

So the Highball wends her merry way almost unheeding of a schedule, for she will drop off a fisherman or a hunter in any hour in the dead of night at any place he chooses to select station or no station; or one of the crew may stop to pick up a pig or a cow from growing in the field near the tracks. The Highball waits. Or it may stop at a little cottage just around a curve where a little woman is nursing back to health a husband with a cough. The Highball stops while the crew takes up a collection of butter, eggs and potatoes gathered along the right of way.

Truly, the Highball is unique as a train running in this advanced age.

EPSOM SALTS
LIKE LEMONADE

If you want epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, ask your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headache or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

MURRAY
Clarence Badger, director of "An Unwilling Hero," starring Will Rogers, which opened at the Murray Monday, was also director of "Jes' Call Me Jim," "Old Hutch," "Guile of Women," "Boys Will Be Boys," all Will Rogers' successes. He and the popular star work together in perfect harmony, and Goldwyn believes that by putting the two of them on a story something fine is bound to develop. Badger has a penchant for locations, and usually takes his company miles away from the studio, into the Sierras, the coast range, or the desert, to secure genuine local color.

MURRETTE
As all experienced raconteurs know, their pastime is fraught with the gravest danger, for, especially among actors, the "bolt from the blue" may strike at any time. Harry Fraser, the well known character actor, once a resident of Fresno, Cal., before his introduction to things theatrical, is the latest of a long list of victims. Inspired by environment when on location recently in a small New Jersey town where the thrilling racing scenes were staged for Johnny (Torchy) Hines' initial feature length starring vehicle, "Burn 'Em Up Barnes," which is at the Murrette theatre.

FIRST SHOPPING
TRIP IN MONTHS

Indianapolis Woman Tells of Experience That Proved Revelation to Her.

"Peppen improved my health so much that I was able, a few days ago, to go down town to do some shopping for the first time in months," says Mrs. C. F. Albertson, of 1725 Spruce street, Indianapolis.

"I hardly know what was the trouble with me. It was just a general run down condition, I suppose. I ached and pained all over. I just felt miserable. I was often so tired I even hated to change clothing or walk a few blocks. I didn't feel like going anywhere. My appetite was poor. I scarcely ate enough to keep a bird alive. I suppose this lack of food and nutrition helped to make me weak. The little food I ate did not agree with me because my stomach was disordered. I often suffered attacks of indigestion. I also was nervous and restless. I couldn't sleep right. I woke up many times every night."

"Day after day I read in the Indianapolis papers about Peppen. Finally, I started taking this medicine. Peppen has improved my health 100 per cent. The tired out feeling I had before has entirely disappeared. I have new energy and strength. A few days ago I went down town for the first time in months. The trip didn't exhaust me or wear me out at all. I have a splendid appetite since taking Peppen. In fact, I can't remember when I ever ate as much or enjoyed my food as I do now. I never suffer from attacks of indigestion. In addition to all this, Peppen has improved my nerves. I sleep soundly from the time I go to bed until morning without waking."

Peppen is a new system tonic which is now being specially introduced at Quigley's drug stores, Richmond; B. A. Carpenter's drug store, Cambridge City, and at other leading drug stores in nearby towns.—Advertisement.

Fraser was chatting with the very dignified J. Barney Sherry, the millionaire of the screen, about his boyhood days in Fresno. Incidentally he mentioned that his dearest possession was a lignum-vitae top.

RICHMOND
It is said students of the drama, generally conceded to be one of the most fascinating of all arts, will be given an unusual opportunity to study new phases of the merely screen-old "exact science" of visualization, of conveying the workings of a human mind without the aid of words, when Lionel Barrymore is shown in "The Master Mind," his latest photoplay creation, which will be exhibited at the Richmond theatre Monday. Until came the advent of the silversheet as a medium for imparting entertaining knowledge of life, the study of the histrionic art was truly considerably limited, for it encompassed only the things which could be done on a stage of comparatively small dimensions.
