Wireless Telephone News From Everywhere

Palladium Government License Call is 9ZAE, Fred Clark, operator.

A new amateur receiving set, with unusually easy detecting and tuning, has been built by C. O. Snyder, of West Richmond, and is on display at the Hart store.

With this set it is possible to find stations by using only one adjustment while a condenser and vernier are provided for fine tuning. In the final form, the set will have a detector and one stage of amplification.

Mr. Snyder has tuned in wireless telephones from Boston, Mass., Bristol, Conn., Philadelphia, Roselle Park, New York, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Chicago, University of Minnesota, Wichita, Kans., Kansas City, Mo., Parka, Mo., and Denver, Colo., within the short time since the set has been completed.

Other Richmond Sets William Kirkpatrick has completed a new set with which he has been getting very good results.

Gerard Harrington expects to have a four tube phone set within about three weeks.

Roland Wickett listened in on Angola, Ind., and St. Louis, Mo., recently, with his set.

Maurice Druley has been doing a great deal of message work lately. The absence of Walter Schultz has left Druley as the only other regular relay operator in Richmond.

Schultz reports hearing the Palladium telephone while at Fort Wayne a few days ago, and has worked Summit, N. J., Bridgeport, Conn., Cleveland, Ohio, and Sioux Falls, S. Dak., recently.

Meeting of DX Radio Club Wednesday, Jan. 4, will be the date for the regular meeting of the Richmond amateurs.

A talk by Walter Schultz is scheduled as one of the regular lectures in the new course of instruction. Schultz will talk on detecting and tuning.

President Winder especially requests that members bring in full reports of all work they have done and stations heard so that the report may be forwarded to QST; no reports from Richmond having yet appeared in the magazine.

Newcastle Amateurs Newcastle is listening regularly again, Ralph Wolfe having received his set and installed it. A number of new amateurs in the city are interested.

NEW ADMINISTRATIONS MARKED BY WOMEN

TAKING PUBLIC OFFICE

(By Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 3.—George Ade, Hoosier humorist, once wrote the following lines when the woman suffrage campaign was at its height: "Within six months our country's flag will be a talemum powder rag."

The author was promptly panegyrized by the ardent anti-suffragists, anatomized by the suffragists and giggled at by the neutrals.

The nineteenth amendment has enfranchised women, they are taking their places in the political structure of the national, state and municipal governments and the flag still waves, it is pointed out by suffrage leaders in this state, and they call attention particularly to the new city officials who have just been inducted into office.

Throughout the cities and towns of Indiana many women became office holders when the new administrations displaced the old at the beginning of the new year. Some of the women were elected and others received appointive offices. But another advance of women into the realm of politics has been marked.

Voted in April Women had their first opportunity to participate in municipal campaigns last April when the primary elections were held to nominate candidates for city offices. In cities large and small they mixed in; the candidates in the larger cities employing women to conduct their campaigns among the feminine voters. A number of women got in to the extent of being candidates themselves, and some were successful.

Then the November elections came on and women again figured prominently. Women campaign managers again appeared and the women candidates, selected at the primaries, entered in the race for offices. The advent of women into politics became commonplace and apparently no effort was made to ascertain in detail how their candidacies were received by the voters.

The Indiana League of Women Voters has maintained an active interest in the subject of suffrage since the ratification of the nineteenth amendment but even this organization ceased to keep statistics on the political performance given women.

No woman was elected mayor although there were several candidates. A number were elected as city clerks and at Michigan City Mrs. Ella K. Barnes was elected one of the five commissioners in the first commission-manager form of government plan adopted in the state.

Catarrhal Colds Spoil Companionship

Tuesday Health Talk No. 48 By G. C. Wilcoxon, D. C.

Catarrhal colds spoil companionship, cause bad breath, break up the sleep, and if not checked in time cause a rundown condition that makes the sufferer a ready victim of influenza or pneumonia. A catarrhal cold, in fact, is usually a forerunner of these dread diseases.

The onset of the cold is generally marked by chilliness along the back, headache and a tired feeling. There may be a slight fever, sneezing and a feeling of dryness in the nostrils. At first the secretion discharging from the nose is thin and watery, then it thickens and becomes purulent. It is in this stage that the breath becomes tainted, that companionship is impossible. Sometimes when the stoppage of the nose is very complete, there is deafness. Under chiropractic influence a normal condition of the mucous membrane is induced, the bowels and kidneys become more active and the disease gradually clears up.
