After a day's session here Tuesday, the grand jury for the January term of common pleas court had finished its work and filed a report. The report set forth that two true bills were found and one case ignored, and 10 witnesses examined. An indictment charging carrying concealed weapons was returned against George O. Bates.

The other true bill was not made public. Bates was arrested two or three weeks ago when he attempted to examine the state bank at Eldorado on a fake state bank examiner's certificate and was detected. Later he was arrested in Eaton, at which time an automatic gun was found in his possession, police say. He has been unable to furnish $1,000 bail for his release from jail.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT PRESBYTERIANS' OPENING SERVICES

Good attendance marked the opening service of the joint observance of the week of prayer under the auspices of the First Presbyterian and Reid Memorial United Presbyterian congregations at the First church Tuesday night. The devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. J. J. Rae, pastor of the First church. Charles M. Woodman, pastor of the West Richmond Friends meeting led in prayer, and the first church quartet gave a beautiful musical number.

The sermon was preached by W. McClean Work, pastor of the Reid Memorial church upon the subject of "Adoration." Mr. Work described adoration as the gateway to the prayer life of the individual and of the church and said the other aspects of prayer, confession, petition and intercession could not long live in a heart that did not adore its God. He said the attitude of adoration is a spiritual necessity, not to God but to man.

The speaker used the vision of Isaiah as an illustration of the attitude of adoration leading to spiritual progress. He outlined the reasons for adoration contained in the first five verses of Psalm 163. They were that God remits the debt of sin, relieves physical and spiritual ills, reclaims the lives of men, rewards according to his mercy, reveals his continued providence and renews man's waning strength.

Services Tonight.
The service Wednesday night will be in the Reid Memorial church. Dr. Rae will preach on the subject of "Confession." The Reid Memorial choir will furnish special music. Last night a count of the members of the two churches present showed the
