

2 LIQUOR VIOLATORS
FINED BY HANDLEY;
LENIENCY IS DENIED

James Goodwin, pleading guilty to a charge of violation of the liquor law, was fined $100 and costs by Mayor Lawrence Handley, in police court Monday morning. Goodwin, who lives at 510 North Twentieth street, was arrested at 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Harry Goodwin, a son, living on the Henley road, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 60 days on the penal farm for violation of the liquor law. He was arrested at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Legal counsel was employed by the two Goodwins in their trial Monday morning. The trial was held at 10 o'clock after the regular list of cases had been run through by the court. Officers who arrested James Goodwin found a jug of whiskey in his home. At the home of Harry Goodwin a still was found in working order. Harry Goodwin also had a small touring car, minus license plates and a certificate of title. The car was brought to police headquarters and held pending further investigation.

Goodwin Released
Everett Goodwin, another son of James Goodwin, living on the Chester pike, was also arrested Sunday evening. He was released after questioning by the prosecutor.

Attorney Will Reller, appearing on behalf of James and Harry Goodwin, cited Victor Hugo's story of Jean Valjean, hero of Les Miserables, as a precedent for tempering justice with mercy.

"I am not asking that the court desist from enforcing the liquor law and I am glad the present administration does not contemplate any laxity in dealing with these cases," he said. "Yet are sufferers from present economic conditions to be made to suffer the full force of the law, when they may have been lured into violation by the fact that others have been getting away with violations, seemingly without molestation?"

Cites Jean Valjean.
"The court may remember the story of Jean Valjean who stole a loaf of bread, was sentenced to prison, and was finally made a confirmed criminal through his sentence."

"I know there is a strong sentiment for the enforcement of the liquor law, yet some of those who call loudly for action, would, in your place, be touched by the peculiar circumstances of each case."

Points to Oath
Mayor Handley in sentencing the defendants, took the position that if he made an exception in one case, he must make an exception in all. "When I took the oath to enforce the Constitution, it included the eighteenth amendment," he said. "Both these men are American citizens and cannot plead ignorance of the law. I have made the statement that no suspended sentences would be allowed. That statement should have been warning enough. Every case that comes in here has its particular appeal for leniency."

Mike Swartzkopf, arrested at his home, 607 North Thirtieth street, at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening, entered a plea of guilty in court Monday morning. His case was taken under advisement.

DETAILS ARRANGED FOR DUROC MEETING

Plans for an all-day meeting of Duroc Jersey swine breeders and pig club members of several counties of eastern Indiana and western Ohio, with motion pictures of the International Livestock show and the National Swine show, addresses by national and state authorities, and a dinner served at the K. of P. temple at noon, of which a roast pig of the breed favored will be the feature, were the results of the conference of the Wayne County Duroc Jersey association Saturday afternoon.

Another committee meeting, to which will be invited representatives of all counties interested, was called Monday by L. C. Palmer, newly elected president of the Wayne County association. The meeting will be held in the directors' room of the Second National bank Wednesday afternoon.

Many to Come
Breeders in neighboring counties are showing great interest in the meeting and have promised liberal attendance. The original intention was to include delegations from Darke and Preble counties, in Ohio, and from Randolph and Union, in Indiana, but since the meeting was announced it has been stated that Rush county, Indiana, may send some of its breeders, and Charles Hildebolt, of Eaton, executive committee man of the Ohio State association, reports that Butler county has shown a very marked interest and breeders there have stated an intention of coming to Richmond for the meeting.

Details of Program.
The program, as formulated Saturday, will include a round table discussion at 10 o'clock of the morning of the day of the meeting, Jan. 21, to be led by Charles Trowbridge of Mays, and Bent Wilson of Cambridge City, C. C. Terrell of Ohio, former state secretary of Duroc Jersey breeders, will speak at 11 o'clock after which the meeting will adjourn for dinner.

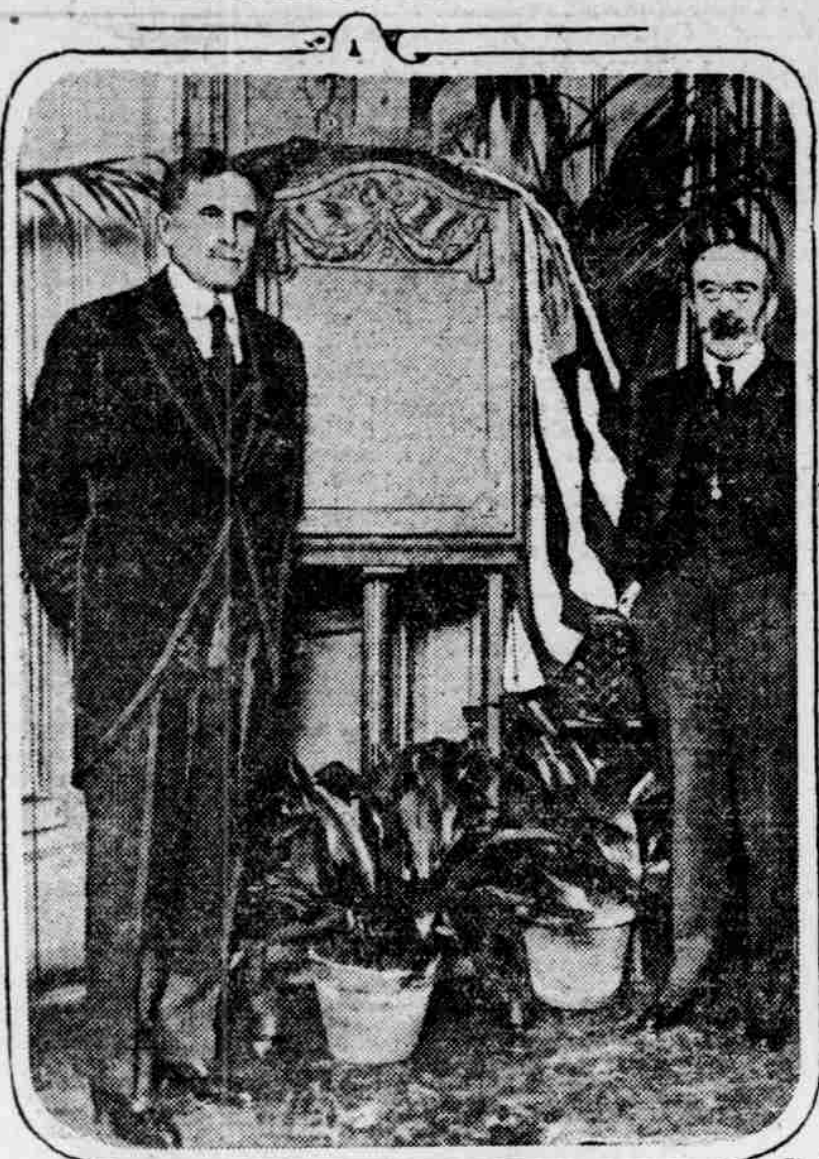

The moving pictures will be shown in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Other features may be added to the program later, after discussion and consideration by the members of the committee meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Election of officers for the coming year was the only other important business of the association in its meeting Saturday. L. C. Palmer of Webster was elected president; William Wilcox of Webster, vice-president, and Harry Caldwell of Cambridge City, was re-elected to his position of secretary and D. R. Funk, treasurer.

John Brooks Recovering
From Fractured Hip

John T. Brooks, proprietor of the Brooks grocery store, located at North Nineteenth and E streets, received a broken hip when, rising Saturday night, he fell from a chair, his legs gave way, and he fell, causing him to fall heavily to the floor. Mr. Brooks was said to be resting easier Monday.

HERRICK AND FRENCH WAR MINISTER
UNVEIL TABLET TO AMERICAN HEROES

Ambassador Herrick, left, and M. Barthou before the tablet after the unveiling.

Myron T. Herrick, U. S. ambassador to France, and M. Barthou, French war minister, recently officiated at the unveiling of a tablet placed in the American library in Paris to honor the memory of members of the American soldiers of the foreign legion who gave their lives in the world war. The tablet was erected by Americans who wished to pay tribute to the men who fell on French soil.

COMPTROLLER WOULD LIMIT REDISCOUNTING
OF ALL BANK PAPER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Limitation of the privilege of rediscounting bank paper as a means of extending credit was recommended to congress today by D. R. Crissinger, comptroller of the currency, in his report for the year ending last Oct. 31.

Rediscounting of one bank's paper by another bank is, at best, he said, "a questionable procedure" and is liable to become a menace when "a bank pyramids its credit" through misuse of the privilege.

"I feel that recent experience admonishes us of the need for limitations and safeguards against the possibility of excesses," Mr. Crissinger said. "If the law had placed a wise and proper limitation upon the extent of these rediscounts, very few national banks, in my opinion, would have failed or even been gravely embarrassed."

The comptroller recorded his emphatic opposition to the tax exemption, proposed by congress, of $300 of income received from money invested in building and loan associations, declaring that it "offers a new method for the tax dodger, is undesirable and class legislation." He reiterated sundry recommendations to meet changed conditions in methods of banking, all of which, he said, already have been embodied in resolutions presented in congress.

Stability Is Marked
Mr. Crissinger devoted considerable space in his report to an eulogium of the national banks of the country, which, he said, throughout the trying period of last year "demonstrated a most impressive stability, strength and soundness of management."

National banks chartered during the year totaled 169, the report showed, with aggregate capitalization of $29,005,000. In the same period 24 banks were reported to have failed and 93 to have gone into voluntary liquidation.

State commercial banks showed the greatest increase for any single class of banking institution, the comptroller reported, growing from 18,195 to 19,875 with aggregate resources increasing by $190,000,000. Loan and trust companies increased 66 in number, but decreased $138,900,000 in resources.

Police Court News

FINED FOR INTOXICATION

Vita Fierro arrested at 11:30 o'clock at the corner of Eleventh and North I streets, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness, Monday. Fierro was arrested Saturday night.

FINED FOR THEFT

William Ellison, colored, was fined $1 and sentenced to serve one day in the city jail on a charge of petit larceny Monday morning, after trial in police court. Ellison, according to his story, called at the coal yard of the Independent Ice and Fuel company to buy some coal for heating his house. He carried away the coal in a wheelbarrow. Harvey Smith, also colored watchman for the company, claimed that Ellison's story was correct except for one thing, that he had failed to mention a sack of coal which was filled in the yard and thrown over the fence by Ellison before he left the yard.

NURSE RECRUITER TO TALK AT EARLHAM

As a part of a nurse recruiting campaign, Miss Mary Gladwin, a well-known Red Cross nurse, will speak to the women of Earlham on Jan. 17. Miss Gladwin is a nurse of wide experience who has served in many capacities during different wars and disasters.

She served in the Spanish-American war, the Japanese-Russian war, the World war, and was in charge of the nurses at Dayton, Ohio, during relief for the flood there. In September, 1914, she was sent to Belgrade, Serbia, in charge of a Red Cross unit and was there when the Austrians captured the city in December of the same year, remaining until it was again taken by the Serbians. During the spring and summer of 1915 Miss Gladwin nursed hundreds of cases in the typhus epidemic.

Four governments have honored Miss Gladwin with medals. From Serbia she holds the St. Laza, the Royal Red Cross, and the Cross of Charity medals. Russia presented to her the Ribbon of St. Anne. The Order of the Golden Crown, the Royal Red Cross, and a medal made of metal picked up around Port Arthur, together with other honors, have been conferred upon her by the Japanese government.

The fixtures of a New London, Conn., bar that cost $17,000 fifteen years ago, were knocked down at auction for $75.

9 GRADE ORCHESTRAS
SEEKING TROPHY CUP

Competition of the nine grade school orchestras for the Lee B. Nusbaum cup will be held Jan. 27, it was announced Monday. Although plans are as yet indefinite efforts are being made to make the occasion a free entertainment for everyone at the Coliseum. Enthusiasm is running high among the orchestras as each is eager to be the first on which the award is bestowed.

Mr. Nusbaum, sometime ago presented the cup to be given to the best grade school orchestra each year. The winner will have its name engraved on the cup and will keep it in their school for one year when another com-

Say Greatness of God
Is Back of Evolution

Back of evolution stands the greatness of God, who has been the great designer of the things which exist today, said Revs. G. G. Burbanck, and C. M. Woodman in a talk before the Ministerial association, Monday morning, upon the subject "The Influence of Evolution Upon Christianity."

The ministers said that evolution was not the only thing which had to do with the workings of perfecting the world and advancing the human race.

The Bank with

Industrial Vision

Commercial & Investment
BANKING SERVICE

Through your local bank—the strength, facilities and experience of the great financial institutions co-operating with the Fletcher American National Bank of Indianapolis, are placed at your disposal. It is entirely unnecessary for any Indiana industry to scour the country for financial accommodations. There isn't a bank in Indiana that cannot serve you adequately and immediately, by availing itself of the services of this strongly organized institution.

Forty per cent of the banks of Indiana are correspondents of the Fletcher American National Bank of Indianapolis. The Fletcher American Bank, in turn, co-ordinates with the great metropolitan money reservoirs of the country, and with the Federal Reserve Bank.

In addition, the Fletcher American Company, at all times in closest co-operation with this bank, is equipped to handle those long-time industrial requirements and other financial operations which a bank could not handle.

This powerful financial machinery is at the disposal of Indiana industry. We will be glad to advise with you on your financial problems.
