

NIGHT SCHOOL OPENS FOR SECOND TERM; COURSES COMPLETE

Public night school will open at the high school building Monday night, the regular classes starting at 7:30 o'clock and the special classes at 6:30 o'clock. The vocational director of the high school announced Monday that the schedule was complete and that practically every class would start as arranged.

The class in auto mechanics will start Wednesday night with a full enrollment. The director announced that those interested in the course could enroll in the class and some provision would be made for them. The Ford agency has contributed a display motor, which shows the working parts of the Ford motor, to the night school as a permanent gift.

The following equipment has been purchased for use in the class: one overhead motor, one Continental motor, either a four or six cylinder, one rear system, transmission, electric equipment and other necessary fixtures. This class will be under the personal direction of Dan Van Etten, an expert in this particular line.

Afternoon Course.
An afternoon machine shop course will be given between the hours of 4:30 and 6:00 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. Mr. Van Etten will have charge. Enrollments also are necessary in the blue print reading, shop arithmetic and machine drafting classes.

Typewriting classes are filling up and a third class probably will be necessary. Stenography classes are growing and some enrollments are wanted.

The class in spring millinery is full. The first afternoon class will start on Thursday and will run Tuesday and Thursday afternoons between the hours of 2 to 4 o'clock. The first dress form class is filled to the proper membership and will start with the regular night school hours.

Cooking Enrollments.
Enrollments in the new cooking course are more slow than usual. A larger enrollment is needed to insure a successful operation. All classes scheduled in women's courses will go as per schedule. The ungraded class under Miss Morrow will be a success.

ACCEPT OTHER AID IN PLACE OF CASH BONUS, VETS URGED

Advance pledges from veterans of the World war not to accept a cash bonus unless they absolutely need money to relieve immediate distress have been called for by Robert G. Woodside, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S., according to reports received by the local post of the organization, Monday.

Woodside's call for a volunteer committee of ten thousand veterans to accept and spread the doctrine of accepting Adjusted Service Certificates or Land and Home Aid instead of cash was issued following a luncheon of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Commander with Senator McCumber, sponsor of the coddlers' bonus bill in the Senate, Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, member of the Finance Committee, and Congressman Roy Fitzgerald, Ohio, chairman of the veterans' organization in the House.

The senators and congressmen want to pass the bonus or adjusted compensation bill at this session, declared Woodside, after visiting a score of senate and house leaders, but they seem afraid that every veteran would immediately demand his bonus in cash. This is far from true, and the V. F. W. will organize a committee of ten thousand to prove to congress that is not the case. The Fordney-McCumber bill includes several provisions much more valuable to veterans than the ordinary bonus. The adjusted service certificates, which consist of a paid up insurance policy with definite value, are worth several

OUR 57th YEAR

THE YAP CABLE SETTLEMENT

Figures on map indicate location of cables awarded by the "big four" at the arms conference.

The "big four" at Washington have re-allotted the former German cables centering on the island of Yap, and the treaty is now ready for ratification. The Yap-Guam cable (1) goes to the United States; the Yap-Shanghai line (2) to Japan and the Yap-East Indies line (3) to Holland. Each of these nations shares equally in the central station on Yap.

times as much to a veteran as the cash bonus. The land and home aid section offers him forty per cent more than the cash section, if he applies the money on buying a city or country home. We anticipate that ninety per cent of veterans would accept these options, rather than the cash bonus. Only those veterans in distress will choose the cash option.

Our organization is offering its service through its thousand posts and 100,000 active members to organize sentiment in favor of accepting the promise of many members of both houses that the adjusted compensation bill will be passed at this session. We have not the least doubt that once the bill is passed, the ex-service men will accept $3.00 in paid up insurance with a government loan guarantee, rather than $1 in cash. This is especially true because the bill spreads the cash payments over two to three years in small quarterly sums. We insist that the cash feature be retained, because a certain number of veterans are unemployed or facing severe family distress, requiring immediate aid. But we will certainly urge every veteran to take the insurance or the home aid, which are worth much more to him and more to the country.

I believe my call for a volunteer committee of 10,000 will be answered with twice that many pledges, which will be placed in the hands of our National Legislative committee to be shown to congress. This committee will then be ready to aid in an active campaign when the bill is passed, to educate all veterans, both in and out of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to accept the bigger and better options of the four-fold bill.

The accumulations of Christmas funds in the United States the past year amounted to $150,000,000.

Publication Says Clubs of London Are Insolvent
LONDON, Jan. 9.—It is no exaggeration to say that 90 per cent of London's clubs are insolvent, an article in the Evening News states.
According to the writer, most of London's 150 clubs have been unable to pay their way for the past two years and have been keeping up a precarious existence by increasing subscriptions and entrance fees, and by raising loans and mortgages at high rates of interest. In many cases, salaries and board of the servants absorb the whole of the subscriptions.
