

Y. M. C. A. TO STAGE "QUIET" OBSERVANCE DURING THRIFT WEEK

What will be known as a "quiet" campaign in connection with the national thrift week, Jan. 17-23, will be conducted by the local Y. M. C. A. Thrift cards will be passed out over the city and large bulletins will be placed over the city in public places.

National thrift week has adopted as its slogan "Make Your Money Mean More," and has become a national institution founded on the basis of a 10 point financial creed: Work and Earn, Make a Budget, Record Expenditures, Have a Bank Account, Carry Life Insurance, Own Your Own Home, Make a Will, Invest in Reliable Securities, Pay Your Bills Promptly, Share With Others.

List Special Days
A list of special days has been arranged by the national committee and every day in the week will have a special meaning. The list of special days to be observed during the week are: "National Thrift Day" (savings bank day), Jan. 17; "Budget Day", Jan. 18; "Life Insurance Day", Jan. 19; "Own Your Own Home Day", Jan. 20; "Make a Will Day", Jan. 21; "Pay Your Bills Promptly Day", Jan. 22; "Share With Others Day", Jan. 23.

HANDLEY IN FAVOR OF AID FOR VETERANS

That an adjusted compensation measure of some kind, passed now will be of more immediate benefit to the former service men than a marble monument, was the opinion expressed by Mayor Lawrence Handley, during a discussion of the matter in the city hall Saturday morning.

"Instead of putting their money into marble monuments for the county and state service men, the officials should be trying to help the boys through the present hard times," he said.

"Fellows were fighting for $30 per month during the war while others were at home, making good money and putting it into savings banks, to tide them over times such as these. I think we should defer the monument business until the present conditions are over with."

DAVID WORTH DENNIS JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL TO BE OPENED TO STUDENTS MONDAY, JAN. 30

David Worth Dennis junior high school building will be completed and ready for occupation by the students on Monday, Jan. 30. The workmen have been pushing the work on the interior and now have the major portion of it ready for the finishing touches. The building represents one of the most modern built and equipped junior high schools. The work on the building was started one year ago Monday. Exceedingly rapid progress has been shown considering conditions.

Necessity for a new junior high school had been felt during the past six years. Finally the school board was forced to look for a site upon which to build a school which would relieve the crowded situation at the Garfield Junior high school building, where all the students, between the elementary and high school age, attend.

The first plan was to extend and build upon the present Garfield structure and continue to bring the children from all over the city into the central part to attend the school, but the need for a school in the west end and one in the east end caused the school board to cast in other directions for a location suitable.

The site of the David Worth Dennis school on the west side covers about six and one-half acres of land and is so situated that it can be enlarged. A careful consideration of the program of studies to be held in the various parts of the building and the needs of the program were furnished the architects before the plans were made.

It was generally believed that 750 pupils would be a large enough group to teach economically, give the selective opportunities necessary, and still not have so large a group that the individual could not know all the faculty and the greater part of his fellow students. The science laboratories will be equipped with large tables and chairs. The room will be equipped with water, gas and electricity.

Provide for Girls.
Practical arts for girls will be carried on in a large kitchen room equipped with unit kitchens consisting of four burner double-oven gas ranges such as are found in most homes. The kitchen adjoining the lunch room will be taken care of by the girls who take additional work outside of the compulsory courses. The large dining room is divided by folding partitions into two rooms for sewing classes. This device has been found to work efficiently.

Practical arts for boys will afford two large shops and a drawing room. The general wood shop is to have opportunities for bench work, pattern making and electrical work. The metal shop is to be equipped for metal work, machine shop work, electricity, forging and foundry work.

Modern Drawing Room.
The drawing room will be modern and afford the students every possible convenience for the advancement of machine and pattern work. Physical education will be organized on the game basis, permitting the students to compete in interclass games and some interschool contests. The gymnasium is one of the best.

BRESHER'S ATTORNEY ASKS VENUE CHANGE

Request for change of venue was filed by Will Reller, attorney for George Bresher of this city, with Mayor Lawrence Handley, in police court Saturday. No action has been taken on the request as attorneys for the defense and prosecution have not yet had a chance to confer, Mr. Reller said.

Judge A. C. Lindemuth was appointed special judge in the last case, where a special judge was asked in police court.

Bresher is charged with having in his possession intoxicating liquor. Attorney Reller filed a motion for delay in the case until next Tuesday when it came up in court Saturday. The motion for change of venue was brought in later in the day.

25TH ANNUAL EXHIBITION BY INDIANA ARTISTS LARGEST AND FINEST EVER HELD IN RICHMOND

The 25th annual exhibition of paintings by Indiana artists, which will have its opening at the Public Art gallery Sunday afternoon, will be notable not alone for the fact that it marks alike the 25th year of its own existence and that of the Richmond Art Association, but also because it is said to be the largest and finest Indiana show which has been held in the local gallery.

One hundred pictures have been hung, which are the work of 39 artists, over the United States, who by birth or residence lay claim to being native Hoosiers.

Announcement will be made at the opening of the awarding of the Mary T. R. Foulke purchase fund prize of $125, which is won by "the most meritorious painting by a resident or native Indiana painter, shown in the annual exhibition." The jury awards, which meets Sunday morning to make its decision, is composed of Randolph L. Coats, Cincinnati chairman; H. T. Brown, Dayton Museum of Arts, and Harold Putnam Brown, director Columbus Art school.

Musical Program
A musical program will be presented during the afternoon Sunday by an instrumental septette. The gallery will be open from 2 until 5 o'clock. Everyone will be welcome.

Many artists are exhibiting for the first time in the local gallery at the 25th exhibition, while others who have not sent pictures for a period of years have sent them this year. Notable among the new exhibitors are Lucy Taggart of New York, Paul Plascchke of New Albany, and Ralph Britt. Exhibitors of former years who are back are J. Otis Adams, Wayman Adams, Ed Forkner and Robert Grafton.

The two largest, and probably the two most valuable paintings in the exhibit this year, by a strange coincidence both picture a woman looking at her reflection in a mirror. One entitled "Eleanor," is by Lucy Taggart. The girl wearing a taffeta gown in golden shades, is seated in a chair over which a scarf elings and her reflection is cast into a gilt-framed mirror. Her hair of rich golden color is coiled and waved softly on her head.

Grafton Painting
The other painting, "The Mirror," was painted by Robert W. Grafton, and posed by his wife. Like the figure in the Taggart painting, she stands facing a mirror through which her reflection is seen. She wears a long blue and gold gown which forms a lovely contrast to her auburn hair and the deeper blue candles which stand on either side of the mirror in their tall holders.

Most striking among the pictures of still life is one by Lucy Taggart, which shows the light in lovely reflection.

NINE OLD SUBMARINE SENT TO DAVY JONES' LOCKER BY GUNNERS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Nine of Uncle Sam's old submarines have just ended their careers by serving as targets for the guns of the destroyer squadrons attached to the Asiatic fleet. A brief cablegram telling of the completion of the target practice which had been going on during the past two weeks was received today at the navy department.

The resting place of these obsolete submarines is not "davy Jones' locker," but the Pacific outside Manila Bay. Weeks before the target tests were begun the work of dismantling the old submarines and taking everything of value off had been completed.

Eight of them had months ago been decreed worthless and placed out of commission. The A2, A4, A6, A7 and B2 were taken off the active list on Dec. 12, 1919. The A3, A5 and B5 were declared obsolete July 25, 1921 and the B1 joined them on Dec. 1.

One Replaced
Coincident with the passing of these old boats, early types of American-built submarines, 10 S-boats, some of them the best the navy has, have arrived at Cavite, Manila Bay, and have replaced them with the Asiatic fleet. The command of Captain Thomas H. U. S. N., and conveyed by the tender Beaver, eight of the S-boats, left Honolulu Nov. 3, arriving at Cavite Dec. 1 after an eight-day stop at Guam. The other two, conveyed by the tender Rainbow, left Nov. 12 and arrived Dec. 6 after stopping three days at Guam.

The safe arrival at Cavite marked the end of a tour of more than half way around the world, from the submarine base at New London, Conn., down the Atlantic coast, through the canal and across the Pacific, a distance of more than 13,000 miles. Of this distance 8,600 miles were made by the S-2 alone with but four stops and in 26 days sailing time.

LODGES ARE WARNED AGAINST IMPOSTERS

William J. McGinley, supreme secretary of the Knights of Columbus, has issued a general warning against what appears to be a group of bogus "joiners" operating in various parts of the country. "Their stock in trade," he states, "is simply a stock of false buttons of various fraternal organizations, such as the Masons, the Knights of Columbus, Elks, etc. We have evidence that one man who applied for and received assistance from a K. of C. council on the plea that he was a stranded Knight of Columbus approached Masons with the plea that he was a stranded Mason. Similar complaints have been received from many different points."

"The councils of the Knights of Columbus are ready to render what aid they can to the really distressed and destitute, but, as a rule, the fakers are able-bodied men who are well able to look after themselves."

$4,597.82 EXPENDED BY WAYNE FOR ROAD MACHINERY IN 1921

That Wayne county expended $4,597.82 for machinery used in road building during the year 1921 is shown by the report filed with the auditor late Friday and presented to the county commissioners Saturday morning by W. O. Jones, county superintendent of highways.

The report shows in considerable detail just what amounts have been expended on various branches of road work. The total spent during the year was $4,017.39 and the amount was divided as follows: Supplies, $3,815.35; gravel, $11,767; freight, $806; coal, $1,023; lumber, $76; tarvia, $403.60; sewers, $567; labor, $15,695; team labor, $53,253; superintendent's salary, $2,010.

Material used amounted to 42,805 loads, and the total cost per mile of the 440 miles of roads of the county was $212.

Proceeds from the sale of automobile licenses, which in the past have come to the county road fund, were taken from the county a year or so ago, and as a result the tax levy for the county had to be raised to meet this deficit, Mr. Jones explained. "Later the raised levy was cut in half by the state tax board and the county was unable to get the proper amount of material in 1920."

For this reason a greater amount of money than usual was expended in 1921 in order to regain the normal condition. That condition has been attained.

The road levy has been cut from 14 cents to 10 cents for 1922 because of this fact, he said.

their January meeting Wednesday, Jan. 25. Meeting will be called at 1 o'clock for the convenience of the country members. This will be guest day, each member being entitled to invite guests.
