HOLD FUNERAL RITES FOR LAST MONARCH OF HAWAIIAN RACE

HONOLULU, Jan. 15.—A five mile procession weaving its colorful way through palm-fringed roads today concluded the last rites in the funeral of John K. Kalaniana'ole, whose death Jan. 7 ended the old Hawaiian line of monarchs. Of these Kalaniana'ole, known to the natives as Prince Kuhio, was the last titular descendant.

The procession was led by a marcher carrying a christian cross, while by his side marched one who carried a tabu stick, an emblem of the ancient regime. Behind these were groups of all official Hawaii, with representatives of churches in their solemn clerical garb against Hawaiian warriors, clad in bright yellow and black cloaks and feathers.

As the body was taken from the palace armed batteries in the hills began the firing of minute guns, maintaining the saluting until the body had been borne to the royal mausoleum, where it was placed beside the older kings of Hawaii in a crypt hidden beneath a mound of floral offerings.

Silence Over Tomb

Silence lay over the tomb tonight, which is half concealed in a circle of towering palms. Last night the body lay in the throne room of the palace, resting there until 11 o'clock this morning, when simple Episcopalian ceremonies mingled with the chanting and chanting of old Hawaiian mourners.

At the grave, while the crowds formed deep around the crypt, subdued singing of hymns was begun—"Lead Kindly Light," "Safe In the Arms of Jesus," a short prayer, and, in closing, the farewell song written by the late Queen Liliuokalani, cousin of the prince, Aloha Oe.

Then slowly, with the sound of the last minute gun dying, the prince's body was placed in the crypt.

Richmond Skaters Enjoy

Premier Winter Sport

Skating, premier winter sport when the weather man keeps the temperature low enough, has been enjoyed by hundreds on the streams near Richmond for the last few days.

The ice in most places is rough, the skaters say, but they found enough smooth places to enjoy themselves. One enthusiast claimed he had been skating since Jan. 1, but others doubted his statement.

High School

"Miss Civilization," a one-act play, will be given in the junior and senior chapels on Wednesday and Friday mornings, respectively at the high school in the auditorium, by Miss Dora's public speaking class.

The play is by Richard Harding Davis and the story is of several burglars breaking into the home of the Gardners and Miss Gardner hearing them, telephones the station-agent for the wrecking crew. The burglars enter and are given a feast by the Gardners, along with all the jewelry and valuables in the house. In this way the burglars are delayed and when the wrecking crew arrives they are caught in the act of ransacking Miss Gardner. The wrecking crew saves her and captures the desperadoes.

Gold footballs and fancy letters will be given to the members of the 1921 football team in a specially called chapel Tuesday morning. Sixteen men will receive these honors as a recognition for the work which was done during the football season. The awarding was later than usual, but the gold footballs were late in arriving and therefore caused the delay.

EATON POLICE GET PASSER OF CHECKS

EATON, Ohio, Jan. 16.—A stranger giving his name as Clyde J. West and home as Hamilton, was arrested and lodged in jail here Saturday night for attempting to pass an alleged worthless check at the Spring Brothers general store. Chief of Police Willard Armstrong made the arrest.

The alleged worthless check called for $35.50 and was drawn in the name of Paul J. White and bore the name John O'Day, as maker. It was drawn on a check from the Union National bank of Richmond. The store became suspicious because the name on the check as maker was not spelled correctly and Armstrong was called. The proper spelling is O'Dea. O'Dea is a farmer living in the vicinity of New Paris, West said he worked for O'Dea. He bought a cap and tendered the check and then tried on shoes. In the meantime it was learned from O'Dea that West was not working for him and he had not given any such check.

It is believed by police that West put over two bad checks to which the name of Joe Poo, local business man, was forged. One was for $150 and the other for $10.50. Chief Armstrong has the checks and he believes the O'Dea and Poo checks are in the same handwriting. The $150 check was cashed in Winchester, Ind., and the one for $10.50 in West Alexandria. West, police believe, used various names in his check workings. The Poo check for $150 is in the name of Kenneth Pursley and the one for $10.50 is in the name of C. E. Petry. Chief Armstrong is of the opinion that several local forgeries will be cleared up as a result of the arrest.

THRIFT

"Save young man, and become respectable and respected. It is the surest way."
—Benjamin Franklin

This Week is National Thrift Week

Be Thrifty — Spend Less Than You Earn

The formula for successful saving is simple: Simply spend less than you earn.

All of the wise and successful men who ever lived have preached the common sense of thrift. Not one of them has ever praised extravagance. There are few people, regularly employed, who cannot undertake the moderate requirements of a plan for regular saving.

This bank welcomes the small depositor. You may open an interest-bearing account with one dollar or more.
