

BEVERIDGE SOUNDS BACK-TO-PROSPERITY SLOGAN AT ANDERSON

(By Associated Press)
ANDERSON, Ind., Jan. 17.—"Back to Prosperity" was the slogan sounded by Albert J. Beveridge of Indianapolis, former United States senator, in an address here last night at a meeting held under the auspices of the Kiwanis club and the Chamber of Commerce. Three causes for bad business, he said, were high railroad rates, lack of agricultural credit, and the present federal system of taxation, all of which he declared could be removed by legislation.

Reduction of freight rates, Mr. Beveridge continued, hinged on reduced wages for all workers whose pay, he asserted, was still on "a war basis." Congress, he added, should repeal the Adamson law, and the Interstate commerce commission and the railroad labor board should be consolidated so as to end diverse control that he said was exercised by the government.

A non-cumulative sales tax in place of the present federal system of taxation was advocated by Mr. Beveridge, and a successful plan for extending agricultural credits, he added, might be obtained from the experience of foreign countries.

THREE ARE ARRESTED FOR SLAYING DEER IN INDIANA, REPORT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 17.—Game wardens of the state conservative department in December last made 198 arrests which resulted in 179 convictions for violations of the fish and game laws, George N. Mannfeld, a conservation department official, says. Three defendants were acquitted and sixteen cases remain to be tried. Total fines and costs assessed against the 179 convicted persons aggregated $4,237.60.

Mr. Mannfeld points out that in December, 1920, the total arrests numbered 125, convictions 123 and fines and costs amounted to $2,788.10. The December, 1921, record shows an increase of 73 arrests, 56 convictions and $1,449.50 in fines and costs.

In an itemized list compiled by the fish and game division it is noted that twenty-one persons were arrested in December, 1921, for hunting on Sunday, sixteen for hunting with ferrets, fourteen for digging fur-bearing animals out of holes, twelve for possession of illegal size fish nets, ten for hunting on lands without permission of landowners or tenants, and six for possession of ferrets without a permit. One hundred and eight persons were arrested for hunting without licenses.

A surprising feature of the month's work, Mr. Mannfeld says, is that three persons were arrested for killing deer when it was generally believed that deer were extinct in this state. These animals, conservation officials believe, escaped from parks or reservations and probably were pets. They were killed in Montgomery county.

KU KLUX KLAN LIFE IN SCALE'S BALANCE IN OKLAHOMA TRIAL

ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 17.—A case which, in the words of State Attorney General S. P. Freeling, "will mean the life or death of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma," will be called here today when 11 of Carter county's most prominent citizens are to be arraigned before Judge Thomas W. Champion in district court for trial on charges of murder.

The defendants, all well known business and professional men of the county, were among 17 arrested following an attack by nine masked men upon Joe Carroll at his home in Wilson the night of Dec. 15, when three men, one of them Carroll, were fatally shot.

Originally, 15 were held for murder and two as witnesses for the state, but at subsequent sessions of the joint examining trial of seven of the men before Justice D. W. Butcher, the cases against four, one of them a Baptist minister, were dismissed on mo-

NEED BETTER HOMES FOR POSTERITY, SAYS BUILDING ENGINEER

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 17.—When we build fewer pasteboard houses and more permanent buildings, when we will pay less for fires and more for fire-resistant materials, then the American homes can be expected to endure long enough to have a few memories and traditions, and our home builders may be credited with thrift in the building of homes for their children and their children's children, Wharton Clay, construction engineer of this city today told the Associated Metal Lath Manufacturers annual convention here.

"In order to accomplish the end," said Mr. Clay, "thrift must be practiced even in the design of the house. Thrift must be considered in selecting a location—sure of advance in land values, close to transportation and

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

Tells How He Did It.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement convenience, and with a clear understanding of the special assessments to be paid, if any.

"Salability is an important factor and should be considered in deciding the type of architecture.

"The completed cost should be known. The home builder must not delude himself that the house is finished without the lot being graded, the lighting fixtures installed, screens and storm sash provided for, and other necessary features included.

"There is great advantage in arranging for a mortgage that can be paid off at stated periods, but the interest must not be too large to embarrass the home owner.

Everyday Ad-Ventures

When on several separate occasions you've planned to attend concerts given by artists of international fame—

But each time you've failed to get there because of inclement weather or an unexpected visit from mother-in-law or the illness of the baby—

And you begin to think you never will hear the voices of any of these great singers about whom you've read so much—

Until one day while perusing the "Musical Instruments" column in The Palladium's classified section you learn that you can get a talking machine at a lower figure than you thought possible—

And you read on to the last words of the ad which say, "Why don't YOU buy a talking machine and have daily concerts in your home?" You exclaim—

WHY, I NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT!

But after receiving the inspiration from that classified ad, you buy, and now you say to the family, "Who shall it be tonight, Caruso, Melba or McCormick?"

Prisoner's Thrift Shown In Communication to Wife

A curious tale has come to light concerning a recent liquor law violation who was taken to the state penal farm to serve his sentence. Just before the deputy who had taken him to the farm left, the man asked him to take a message to his wife. It was a request for her not to pay his fine at once. He was asked why.

"Well," he said, "Fitzgerald died down at the farm. I may not die there, but you can't be too sure. It would be a waste of money if I should die after that fine had been paid.
