

UKRAINE, RUSS SUGAR BOWL AND FLOUR BIN, DANGEROUSLY EMPTY

(By Associated Press)

KIEV, Ukraine, Jan. 24.—The Ukraine has been long known as Russia's sugar bowl and flour bin, but the sugar bowl has been empty for three or four years and now the flour and cornmeal are so low that it is doubtful whether the Ukrainians will have enough bread to carry themselves through to another harvest. The hungry folks from the Volga famine district have invaded the Ukraine by hundreds of thousands. Moscow and Petrograd have drawn on its bread supply at the limit of their power.

The Ukrainians are, however, a fighting, independent lot, who have stubbornly resisted requisition and defeated plans to divert their foodstuffs in large quantities to other parts of Russia. These requisitions and general dissatisfaction with conditions have played a large part in limiting the Ukrainian food supply.

Besides, the snows were so late in coming last fall that much of the grain seed was frozen in the ground before the snows came to give it protection. Consequently the Ukraine faces the possibility of a small grain yield next year. Even an extraordinary spring sowing can not compensate for the unfavorable condition of the crops planted last fall.

The attitude of the Ukraine toward Moscow is of far greater importance than that of all the other so-called "federated" republics because of its great wealth and common boundaries with Poland and Rumania. Moscow apparently regards the Ukrainian republic as a federated part of the government having its headquarters in Moscow. But Ukraine, probably under pressure of the intense Ukraine nationalistic sentiment, holds that it is quite independent of Moscow and aspires to support diplomatic negotiations with European powers to obtain recognition as an independent nation.

LIBERTY STUDENTS TAKE EXAMS JAN. 28

LIBERTY, Ind., Jan. 24.—The pupils of the Liberty and Greenwood high schools respectively, will take the state examinations held under the direction of the county superintendent next Saturday, Jan. 28. This is the decision handed down by the state high school inspector in a letter to high school inspector in a letter to Superintendent Lee O. Sacko. This week.

Mr. Sacko, who wrote the letter, stated that Liberty high school, and consequently Greenwood high school, since this school comes under the same management, is to be considered as an unclassified school until the local board of education has let a contract for the erection of a new school building. This will force every high school pupil to undergo the state examinations in order to receive credit toward graduation.

WILLARD MACK TAKES FOURTH WIFE; BRIDE IS SALT LAKE CITY DIVORCEE

According to word from Salt Lake City, Willard Mack, much-married actor-playwright, is to enter upon his fourth matrimonial venture. The bride-to-be is said to be Mrs. Beatrice Stone, a Salt Lake City divorcee, a member of a very prominent family there. Mack's first wife was Maude Leone, his second was Marjorie Rambeau and his third Pauline Frederick. All ob-scenes in desert sandstorms, action piled on action—such are the ingredients of this photoplay by Monte M. Katterjohn, adapted from E. M. Hull's novel. And Miss Ayres has a role that is difficult, filled with hard work and tense acting, to which she does, it is said, more than full justice.

MURRAY VAUDEVILLE

Without the splendid performance of the "Three Aces of Harmony," Taylor, Macy and Hawks, at the Murray theatre Monday afternoon, the bill would have been several degrees below zero. This trio of men not only won recall from the audience while in their act, but also find renewed favor when they again appeared in the last act to add in "piecing" out a bill minus one act. Perhaps the most notable member of the company is the young lyric tenor.

If the four Camerons could have ended when their bit was done there is no doubt about their making a much better impression. They also were compelled to add in little hokum to fill out the lack of the needed fourth act. They present a comic performance unique and entertaining.

The Eugene Brothers offer an acrobatic feature. While skillful, they have little to present that has not been viewed here in other like acts.

Van and Vernon, "A Peach and a Stew," comedy act, was the absent member, but they are now here to entertain.

"Partners of the Tide" is the film attraction.

Congregation Changes Mind About Ball Playing

LAPORTE, Ind., Jan. 24.—About 12 years ago Rev. W. G. Titus, of Mishawaka, Ind., was pastor of a Christian church at St. Johns, New Brunswick. Titus had a penchant those days for playing baseball; in fact, he was a star player.

The congregation objected to the ball playing, and as a result his resignation was forthcoming.

Titus then came to Indiana and accepted the pastorate of the First Christian church at Mishawaka. Yesterday the Indiana clergymen received a call to the pastorate at St. Johns, which he vacated because he could not see any harm in ball playing. It is likely he will accept the call.

When it first became public that the great operatic star would sue for divorce, it was rumored that she charged Tellegen with committing statutory offenses in "every state of the Union."
