

GLOVES, QUAKER FIVE AND COLLEGE BOYS WIN NET CONTESTS

The Indianapolis Gloves won a hard fought game, from the Starr Plano team on the "Y" floor in the first game of the Community Service basketball league Tuesday night. The game was hard fought throughout and the Gloves rallied in the last few minutes of play and dropped four baskets through the nettings for eight points, which gave them the victory. The score at the first half was eight to seven in favor of the Gloves.

Neibuh and Hawekotte were the leading point getters for the winners, each making six points. Owens led the Starrs in the scoring department, making three goals from the field.

The lineup and summary:
Gloves (17) Starr (11)
Hawekotte.....F..... Owens
Neibuh.....F..... Byrrett
Weaver.....C..... Hoover
Allstadt.....C..... Kohne
Brunner.....G..... Schepman
Bescher for Kohne.
Field Goals—Hawekotte 2, Neibuh 3, Weaver 2, Owens 3, Byrrett 1, Bescher 1.
Foul Goals—Hawekotte 2, Weaver 1, Schepman 1.
Referee—Brehm.

The Quaker Maids had little trouble defeating the Kaysee quintet by the score of 18 to 7, in a Community Service game on the "Y" floor. The Kaysees could not hit the basket in the first half and were held without a score at the half way point, while the Quakers were scoring 11 points. The seven points collected by the losers were made in the last three minutes of play.

Phillips led the attack for the winners, making three field goals, while Geier and Klinger played the best for the losers.

The lineup and summary:
Quakers (18) Kaysees (8)
Phillips.....F..... Metz
Porter.....F..... A. Metz
Bristow.....C..... Geier
Heaton.....G..... Dahner
Fuller.....G..... Klinger
Substitutions—Monroe for Heaton; Aiken for Porter; Snyder for Klinger.
Field goals—Phillips 3, Porter 2, Bristow 1, Heaton 1, Monroe 1, A. Metz 1, Geier 1, Dahner 1.
Foul goals—Porter 2, Geier 1.
Referee—McBride.

Completely outclassing their opponents, the Business College five handed the Betsy Ross quintet a neat lacing to the tune of 20 to 7. The Betsy Ross five did not play its usual brand of game, or the score might have been somewhat closer. The score at the end of the first half was eight to five in favor of the College lads.

Benson and Mulligan led the scoring for the winners, making five and four goals from the field, respectively. Reid scored the most for the losers, making four points.

The lineup and summary:
Business College (20) Betsy Ross (7)
Benson.....F..... Manfield
Mulligan.....F..... McDearis
Nickelson.....C..... Reid
Leavelle.....G..... Belsman
Martin.....G..... Belsman
Substitutions—Smith for Nickelson; Dunham for Lee.
Field goals—Benson 5, Mulligan 4, Leavelle 1, McDearis 1, Reid 2.
Foul goals—McDearis 1.
Referee—Brehm.

CAMERA SHOP TEAM MEETS BOSTON MEN IN CURTAIN-RAISER

Boston Independent basketball quintet will come to bat tonight with the Richmond Camera Shop Kewpies on the Coliseum floor in the curtain-raiser Wednesday night.

This contest will be a feature attraction, inasmuch as each team has won every contest thus far this season and is anxious to finish with perfect records. Boston fans boast of an invincible team and will be on hand to support their team to the limit.

Several stars will appear on the Boston team, including Samuels, Davis and Ballinger who have been playing on the team for two straight years. Samuels appeared in a Legion uniform against the Junior Chamber of Commerce five or six games ago, and his ability to skim over the floor is undisputed. He jumps center and plays an under-basket game of ball.

The local "Cute" Kewpies will take the floor with their regular line-up and will put up their usual high class style of play. The following will be the line-up of the Kewpies: D. Manger and Brehm forwards; Sauter, center; Lohman and Eikenberry, guards.

FACULTY GOES DOWN BEFORE HI SECONDS

High school's faculty basketball team went down to defeat before the Hi seconds in the Coliseum by the score of 22 to 14. Stenger scored all the points for the teachers, assisted by the clever passing of Little.

The seconds opened with a rush and continued their bombardment of the goal until the entrance of Little when things tightened up. The score at half time was 17 to 10 in favor of the Seconds.

Numerous substitutions featured the contest which consisted of four 10-minute periods with two minutes intermission for rest. In this way, the faculty was able to keep up the pace and strangle down the score of the Seconds.

Line-up:
Faculty (14) Seconds (22)
Stenger.....F..... Good
Heaton.....F..... Rizio
Bristow.....C..... Walls
Cantwell.....G..... Minnick
VanEtten.....G..... Minnick
Field goals—Stenger 6, Good 4, Rizio 1, Walls 3, Hiatt 1, Thomas 1.
Foul goals—Stenger 2, Walls 2.
Substitutions—Little for VanEtten, Makey for Cantwell, VanEtten for Makey, Makey for Heaton, Cantwell for Bristow, Bristow for Hiatt, Thomas for Rizio, Eubanks for Walls, Rizio for Good, Porter for Eubanks.
Referee—C. Porter, Richmond.

Sensational Speed Skater

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—There probably is no boy in the metropolitan district who is not better equipped for skating than was Charley Jewtraw, the sensational speed skater, when he first took up the sport. Charley boasts Lake Placid as his habitat, and it isn't a far cry back to the time when he used to share with a chum a pair of steel runners which were a fifty-fifty proposition as to ownership.

TWO TIP-TOP GAMES ARE ON TAP TONIGHT; SEATS SELLING FAST

Earlham will meet Miami university Wednesday evening in the first basketball contest or athletic event of any kind held between the two schools for several years. Coach Mow, in accord with his policy of scheduling the best games in sight for his basketballers has booked the Ohio aggregation, believing that they will furnish some real basketball on the Coliseum floor tonight.

The Earlham-Miami contest will start promptly at 8 p. m. A curtain raiser will be played between the Camera Shop Kewpies and the Boston Independents, beginning at 7 p. m. Tickets for the games are being reserved at the Starr Plano store, and are reported to be selling fast.

The Miami quintet is known to be a fast aggregation, having defeated the Richmond American Legion basketball team earlier in the season on the Coliseum floor, 39-25. In this game the basket shooting of House and Midlers of the Ohio team, combined with the clever guarding of Essig, back guard, proved too much for the ex-soldiers.

Quakers Prepared. In some ways the Miami team plays much the same style of ball that the Wabash Little Giants put up last week—a lightning five-man offensive. Coach Mow has prepared his men to meet this style of play and during the past week has smoothed over some defects that were in evidence in the last game.

In case the Quakers are in shape tonight to stand the pace they undoubtedly will show the Miami quintet an interesting evening. Captain Goar has been able to practice during the past week, having recovered from the severe cold which hindered him against Wabash. Hinshaw also has rounded into shape and has been hitting the basket with deadly accuracy.

The probable lineup is:
Earlham.....F..... Miami
Hinshaw.....F..... Heater
Townsend.....C..... Midlers
Goar.....G..... Wire
Beardly.....G..... Essig

Waite Hoyt Granted License to Mary

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Waite Hoyt, who pitched the New York Yankees to two victories in the world's series with the peppy-winning Giants, is to be married soon.

He accompanied Miss Dorothy H. Pyle, 23 of Brooklyn, to the Brooklyn marriage license bureau yesterday and took out credentials for signing a life contract. He gave his age as 22, but refused to say when he planned to take the critical step. Friends, however, said he would wed before starting south for spring training with his team.

Sunday School Fives Battle On "Y" Floor

The Whitewater Friends forfeited their game to the Grace M. E. when they failed to appear on the floor at the scheduled time Tuesday evening, causing only three games to be played in the junior Sunday School league on the "Y" floor Tuesday evening.

The first game went to the St. Paul Lutheran, No. 2 when they trimmed the First M. E. five by the score of 15 to 4. The West Richmond Friends defeated the South Eighth Street Friends by the score of 10 to 4, in the second game.

PAL MORAN BEGGING FOR ANOTHER CRACK AT BENNY LEONARD

By FRANK G. MENKE
Down below the Mason and Dixon line they poke a stocky, youthful Italian at you and remark:

"Here's a bird that will take Benny Leonard if the lightweight champion ever will give him just one more outing."

In that way they introduce Pal Moran, a slugging descendant of Italy, now the pride of the Southland and the particular joy of New Orleans.

Moran, they insist down that way, has improved remarkably in the past year or so. He is pleading with Fred Digby, who pilots his pugilistic destiny:

"Get Leonard for me."
Digby's trying to do that—but in a way a little different than most managers use.

"Pal got a shot at Leonard a year and a half ago and wasn't able to put the championship away," he explains. "I told him that the only way he'd ever be sure of getting another crack at the title was to beat up everybody else that wanted to fight Leonard, by which simple process he would force a public demand for another Leonard-Moran meeting."

And Moran has been operating along those particular lines. Through more than a year of fistcuffing he has taken on and clubbed into the defeat column nearly a score of foemen.

Never Sent to Floor.
Moran, whose real name is Paul Morana, is a New Orleans product. His father was quite a bare knuckle fighter in the long gone days, the youngster has inherited the iron law and the concrete stomach of his father. In six years of ring warfare, although opposed by the hardest hitters in the game—including Leonard, Jackson, Mandot, Dundee, Hartley, Fitzsimmons, and Hanahan—no man has ever been able to send him to the floor.

The Italian began his career in a four round preliminary to the Dundee Mandot affair in the Crescent City six years ago. It was only three years later that Moran, who had gone along in meteoric fashion, was sent against the same Dundee in a 2 rounder.

Moran's fight against Dundee that night proved his greatness. He beat the best card in the South. He finally fought himself to ranking among Leonard's toughest rivals.

The champion gave him a fight in East Chicago—and won it. But Leonard tried with everything he had to drop Moran—and Moran took the Leonard wallop, grinned—and tore in harder.

Afterward Moran went back to New Orleans and decided to do some localing. He became a bit rusty from lack of action.

Comes Back with Hurrah.
But Moran has come back—with a hurrah. Around the New Orleans district they claim that he is at least a 50 per cent greater fighter than he ever was before—more aggressive, a master in the art of slugging, faster, an improved ring general—"and a sure thing to beat Leonard."

Digby says:
"If Leonard doesn't think that Moran has come back, he's the point where he is entitled to a return match. All Leonard needs to do is to name the fellow Pal should whip to get the final polish on his reputation. Pal will do it. And that goes for the ferocious Low Tender, the rushing Rocky Kansas, the wallowing Charlie White and all others."

"Moran will win," says Digby. "If he does, he will be in a position to name the fellow Pal should whip to get the final polish on his reputation. Pal will do it. And that goes for the ferocious Low Tender, the rushing Rocky Kansas, the wallowing Charlie White and all others."

"Moran will win," says Digby. "If he does, he will be in a position to name the fellow Pal should whip to get the final polish on his reputation. Pal will do it. And that goes for the ferocious Low Tender, the rushing Rocky Kansas, the wallowing Charlie White and all others."

Chips and Slips

Speaking of Middleweights.

Mike McTigue deserves a crack at the middleweight title—name your own holder of it.

McTigue's change from a ham and swat to a almost a finished scraper is interesting.

Six years ago Mike endeavored to fight the best men of his class and proved a bloomer. He met Harry Greb in Cleveland, Ohio, about that time and the only thing Mike had was a corner to sit in. Now he has victories over the best of the present day crop in his credit.

Jeff Smith, Al McCay, Angie Ratner, Sailor Petroskey, Battling Ortega, Jackie Clark and Johnny Klesch are some of his victims. And Byron Downey, who has a hold of at least one leg of the middleweight championship, will tell you that Johnny Klesch is a tough lad.

As for that bout with Greb, Mike got another chance at Harry and woked up the fistic world by flooring the Pittsburgher. The battle was a good draw.

Panama Joe Gans, dusky middleweight, might still be accusing the world of being afraid of him, but for the fact that Mike gave him an awful trouncing.

All of which is some record to be proud of—considering that the world gave him up as hopeless at one time.

Hagerstown threw a scare into the Red and White in their game on the Coliseum floor Tuesday night, playing them to a standstill in the first half. The locals went into the game overconfident and it took them until the second half to get the machine to running smoothly.

Irish Mulligan broke into the Community Service league Tuesday night and thrilled the crowd with several long shots from the center of the floor, for two point markers. His long basket shooting rather took the morale out of the Betsy Ross team.

Two good games of basketball are promised the basketball fans of the city, Wednesday night in the Coliseum when Coach Mow's Earlham college cohorts play the Miami university five in the big game of the evening and the Camera Shop Kewpies take on the Boston Independent five.

The Business College five gained a firmer grip on first place in the Community Service league Tuesday night, when they trimmed the Betsy Ross five in the last game of the evening.

"Do you think I shall live until I am ninety, doctor?"
"How old are you now?"
"Forty."

"Do you drink, gamble, smoke or have any vices of any kind?"
"No. I don't drink, I never gamble, I loathe smoking; in fact, I haven't any vices."

"Well, good heavens, what do you want to live another fifty years for?"

Purdue is making preparations for her next conference battle, which will be with Iowa, at Lafayette, Saturday night. If Purdue wins this battle she will be in a tie for first place with the Minnesota five. Although the Old Gold and Black has not lost a game this season, they have only won three while Minnesota has won four conference games to date.

Kennedy dropped two pretty ones in from the center of the floor in the Hagerstown game that made the nettings swish as they dropped through. It also put a little necessary pep into the team play for the remainder of the game.

Had Good Players.
If Richmond had not been forced to give up the baseball proposition here during the war, the club would have been on a good, firm financial standing by this time, as it had several promising players on its roster.

A good sum could have been realized from the sale of Goldie Rapp, for whom John McGraw paid a good sum. Pillett, a lengthy hurler that the Richmond club obtained from the Cincinnati club, was sold this season to the Detroit Tigers for $40,000. Another man that was the property of the Richmond club was Schiek, an outfielder, who was purchased by the Seattle club this year for $15,000 and two players. Incidentally there are now seven other ball players who were the property of the Richmond team that season, that are now connected in some form with major league baseball. Every one of these men would have brought at least the waiver to the Richmond club, and possibly much more.

Final decision of the committee will be given here within the next two weeks. Representatives of the league and men from Springfield will be here.

The Kewpies will have to depend largely on their speed to trim the larger Boston aggregation. The Boston team will outweigh the Kewpies about 10 pounds to the man, but the lads will overcome this by their speed.

HOLLAND BILLIARD CHAMP EXHIBITS SKILL IN U. S.

Ary Bos at the table.

Ary Bos, youthful Hollander and amateur billiard champion of Europe, is now in the U. S. to play special matches with Edouard Roudil of France and take part in the national amateur billiard tourney at New York Jan. 30. He is credited with being one of the most brilliant cue artists of the day.

DECIDE RICHMOND'S ENTRY INTO LEAGUE WITHIN TWO WEEKS

Richmond will enter the proposed Three-league if local officials can possibly see their way clear to an even break for the season, Elmer Eggenmeyer, a member of the local committee, said Wednesday.

Details of the proposition are being threshed out, he said, and the matter is being considered from every possible angle.

Meeting to determine whether or not Richmond will enter, will be called within the next two weeks.

During the season that Richmond was in league baseball, the team played to 26,831 fans. To make the season a go this year the team will have to play before 42,000 fans.

Increase in rate it will cost the local club an increase of 25 percent to operate. Included in this increase will be an increase on the lease of the park, higher railroad rates, and an increase in the mileage of the proposed league.

Whether or not the league will be an eight-club league depends entirely on the decision of the Richmond club. Springfield has been offered the other franchise, and will accept providing that Richmond enters.

President J. J. Cleary, of the Terre Haute club, addressed a meeting at Springfield last Sunday of business men interested. Three thousand six hundred dollars was pledged towards the forming of a Fans' association. They are now ready to go, providing Richmond enters into the league.

RICHMOND STEPS HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME; UPSETS HAGERSTOWN

Hagerstown high school basketball team lost to the local high school basketballers in the Coliseum Tuesday night by the score of 32 to 16. The game was decidedly better than the score would indicate. Score at half time was 15 to 8.

The opening of the first half saw the Red and White quintet getting off to a flying start and scoring four points in rapid succession, before the Hagerstown crew could connect. The local five continued its bombardment of the basket and run up a score of 13 points while the opponents were garnering three.

Hagerstown was beginning to feel the effects of the pace which was set on the larger Coliseum floor and fought hard to keep Richmond from gaining the edge. The work of the entire Blue and Gold five was indeed quite a decided feature. They had a different style of play which told the story of their success in the invitational tournament which was held at Hagerstown last week end.

H. May was the chief field goal scorer for the Blue and Gold five with three counters to his credit. His teammate, Root, was especially good on foul goals with eight marked up.

The guarding of Wichterman was a decided factor in the Hagerstown machine. He broke up many plays and started the ball down the floor only to have his teammates lose it when they had an opportunity to score.

Rest Stands Out.
Although the entire Richmond outfit worked as one unit, one man stood out in supremacy over the heads of any other player on the floor and that was "Dan" Root, the forward, who shoots baskets better when he has two men on his neck than when he is free. Root connected with two field goals in the first half of the game and then came back strong in the second period for five counters which tells the tale. His offense was the best of any player on the floor in the game Tuesday night.

Kessler and Kennedy played their usual strong game and worked the ball all over the floor to pass to the point getters on the five. Harkins connected for two field goals and played a better game than he has played for some time. He showed the effects of being ill during the past 10 days. Schumaker was substituted for Harkins in the second half and connected for one field goal.

The locals will meet the fast Columbus high school team on the Coliseum floor Friday night. The game will be the biggest drawing card of the year.
