

DATA ABOUT DR. NOLAN RECEIVED BY COUNTY AGENT DOLAN TODAY

There is no such disease as hog cholera, is an interesting declaration made by Dr. W. B. Nolan, a veterinarian, who was recently attempting to sell a hog remedy in this county. This statement, together with an account of his activities is included in literature relative to Dr. Nolan which has just been received by the county agricultural agent, J. L. Dolan.

Mr. Dolan congratulated the farmers of the county on the co-operation which they are giving his office in preventing the operation of unlicensed practitioners, as Dr. Nolan had not been inside the county line for an hour last Wednesday until telephone messages reporting his presence began to come into the office.

Dr. Nolan canvassed Dalton and Jefferson townships and then left the county, his usual practice being not to remain in one territory for longer than a day.

Dolan Has Data
Literature in the hands of the Wayne county agricultural agent reports Dr. Dolan as having at various times claimed to be president of the Kansas veterinary examination board, secretary of the Kansas Veterinary Association, to be a graduate of McGill University at Montreal, Canada, to have operated for four years as a surgeon with the Mayo brothers at Rochester, Minn., to have an M. D. degree from Michigan university, and to have been associated with John B. Murphy, famous surgeon of Chicago, for several years. Of all these claims, only the first has even a semblance of truth, according to reports from the parties mentioned.

The preparation sold by Dr. Nolan, who is not a licensed veterinarian of Indiana and who is strongly condemned by Dr. Julian, state veterinarian at Indianapolis, was known as Noxine in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana. It is now being sold under the name of Porceline which "will cure any hog disease except cholera." He has dropped the claim made in Iowa, that hog cholera does not exist. A chemical analysis made of his preparations by the state chemists of Iowa agricultural college and of other state and educational institutions, shows it to be deficient in known qualities, the Noxine containing, among other chemicals, an abundance of arsenic.

AUXILIARY PLANNING WORLD WAR MEMORIAL

What kind of a memorial will be dedicated has not been decided, as plans are as yet only tentative. It is to be nothing elaborate, it was stated. The site has been considered as a desirable one, as it is on the National road where it will be seen by the hundreds of tourists who each year go through. Mrs. Arthur Roach has been appointed chairman of the committee. The session of the auxiliary on Friday afternoon is recorded as the largest ever held. Three new members were taken into the organization.

Mrs. Millard Warfel was appointed to represent the auxiliary before the Welfare league. The next meeting will be held in a fortnight.

VASSAR GIRLS ANXIOUS FOR DANCE PARTNERS

(By Associated Press)

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Vassar girls are so anxious to get more men in the neighborhood that they are planning further activities to help along the campaign for $500,000 wanted to enlarge St. Stephen's college near here. More men for St. Stephens, they argue, means more dancing partners for Vassar.

Miss Helen C. Kohl, a junior from New Rochelle, made two pounds of fudge which were sold at auction at St. Stephens annual freshmen dance last night. It brought what is considered the record price for the country, it not for the world—$23.50 a pound.

The Vassar girls helped bid it up. St. Stephens is the only college of liberal arts for men in the entire Hudson valley below Albany.

TRANSIENTS DIFFICULT PROBLEM FOR BUREAU OF SOCIAL SERVICE

A large number of applicants for help were received by the social service bureau and cared for by the township trustee during the month of January, according to the report of the Social Service bureau submitted to the board of directors Friday.

Applicants to the number of 675 have applied in person during that month, it was stated, with 264 families made application. Seventy-one of these were families which have not applied to the bureau before.

The relief work proper was extended by the township trustee, the bureau merely conducting the investigation into these cases.

"Transients are one of our most difficult problems," said Miss S. Ethel Clark, executive secretary, in discussing the report. "In many cases we find men from all parts of the country, and even men from nearby towns, asking transportation. Some of them are drifting from coast to coast. It is the policy of the bureau to return these men to their point of legal settlement, as far as possible. If they are allowed to go on, it merely means that the burden is transferred to another community which is not able to care for them."

Report of Nurse.
The report of a nurse who is doing bedside nursing showed that 218 bedside visits were made, during the month. Baby clinics were held every Friday and the infants weighed, measured, and examined. In cases where they needed medical attention, the parents were referred to their family physicians for further treatment.

Six hundred and eighty-five school children were examined, and 129 hours spent in the schools of the city, according to the report. Several home visits were also made. The report of the venereal disease clinic at Easthaven showed 261 visits of patients and 217 under treatment at the end of the month.

Soldiers Aided
The usual activities for former service men were carried on by the Red Cross and home service departments. Soldiers were aided in putting through claims for compensation and vocational training. Local men entitled to the Ohio bonus were given aid in filling out their applications for bonus.

Thirty former service men are now receiving vocational training in this county under the United States War Veterans' bureau.

In connection with the transient situation, Miss Clark said numerous imposters had been found going from door to door in the city asking for aid. That they were imposters, she said, was evidenced by their refusal to allow the officers to communicate with their home town.

Reports of the various activities of the bureau were given by the staff Friday. Members of the staff are: Esther W. Barker, visitor; Goldie A. Van Dress, registrar; F. Louise Study, stenographer; Virginia A. Jones, Sarah Shute and Katherine Daub, public health nurses.

Chilean fruit, he stated, does not compete with California fruit, as the seasons of the two countries are opposite, while Chile during the winter season imports lemons, oranges and apples from California.
