

PARIS IS AWAITING OUTCOME OF DISPUTE
OVER PAPER'S POLICY

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, March 3.—All Paris is awaiting the outcome of an effort by Louis Latzarus, retiring editor in chief of the Figaro, to obtain satisfaction from the new editors of the newspapers for the initial editorial, to which he took offense.
M. Latzarus first challenged Alfred Capus, but the latter, who is 64 years old, told M. Latzarus' seconds he had long ceased to be even amused by such challenges and that, anyway, it was customary that the younger man should be challenged when two were jointly involved referring to Marquis Robert De Fiers, aged 50, his co-editor. Later when the Marquis heard of the incident, he promptly sent his seconds to M. Latzarus, who has not yet replied, as far as known. Both M. Capus and the Marquis De Fiers are members of the French academy, and the former is well known as a dramatist.

The Figaro an influential morning newspaper was taken over on Feb. 26 by M. Coty, a perfume manufacturer, and a group of associates. When the purchase was first announced M. Latzarus attacked the new proprietor in bitter terms, and described him as a radical socialist belonging to the "party of which Calixta was formerly the acknowledged chief." At the same time Edouard Calmette, son of the former director, Gavon Calmette, who was shot dead by Mme. Calixta, announced his resignation as general secretary of the Figaro.

DORMITORY BURNS
AT OXFORD COLLEGE

OXFORD, Ohio, March 3.—Fire originating in an overheated furnace destroyed Fenton House, a dormitory for women, and endangered the lives of many young women and faculty members Thursday morning.

Dr. Clara Schreiber, faculty member, was aroused from her slumber and escaped in scanty attire. Miss Marcia Watkins, Pataskala, Ohio, distinguished herself as a heroine when she carried Miss Rodman Hayes, Bloomfield, Ky., down a flight of stairs. Miss Mary Lake, of Springfield, Ky., and Miss Ruby Richardson, Cincinnati, were assisted by firemen from a second story window. They were nearly suffocated by smoke. Three others escaped down a ladder held by Louis Rockhold, a workman.

A number of young women lost all their personal belongings, although nearly all the furnishings were salvaged.

Members of Delta Upsilon fraternity, Miami university, whose chapter house is across the street from Fenton House, assisted in saving property. Miss Marie Lecuyer, professor of French, lost heavily, as did also Miss Madeline Bryant, violin instructor. Two valuable violins, however, belonging to Miss Bryant, were saved.

WOMAN ARRESTED IN LIQUOR PROBE

Mrs. Lorena Dunham, wife of Alfred Dunham, was taken to the Home for the Friendless Friday morning, to be held pending further investigation of charges that she was violating the liquor law. Mrs. Dunham was arrested at her home Friday morning. Officers had found a coil and cooler for a still in her garage at 2 o'clock Friday morning. Search of the house when Mrs. Dunham was arrested brought forth a tin lard can which had served as the boiler for the still.

Mrs. Dunham's husband, Alfred Dunham, was arrested Jan. 30, fined $100 and costs and given a 30 day sentence to the penal farm, on conviction of violation of the liquor laws. The still he had at that time was confiscated and destroyed.

Announce Earlham
Honor Students

Honor students of the Earlham senior class were announced Friday morning by Dr. A. D. Hole. Scholars standing during their four years in Earlham were given consideration in making the awards.

Miss Julia Sherow of Millbrook, New York was awarded the Bryn Mawr scholarship for next year. The honor students in order of their rank are: Julia Sherow, Clyde Caldwell, Hazel Quigg, Margaret Timberlake, Clara Pierce, Ruth Blossom, of Richmond, Walter P. Varnall, Glen Dewey Bookout. Those receiving honorable mention were Josiah Cox Russell, Leslie Pennington, Leon Cox and Luelia Winslow.

Circuit Court

BEGINS SENTENCE

Raymond Daugherty, formerly of Fountain City, was sent to Michigan City Friday in charge of a deputy sheriff to start serving a sentence of one to eight years for stealing chickens.

AWAITING TRIAL

Homer Tyler, colored, is in the county jail awaiting trial on a charge of wife desertion. Tyler was brought back from Cadiz, Ky., by Sheriff Wadman, Thursday. He had been gone since May.

ASKS POSSESSION

One suit was filed in circuit court Friday. It was brought by Eben Louck and Theodore Hill, against Ed Miles for possession of real estate and damages.

To Replace National Theatre at Capital

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Plans to replace the new National theatre here with a 12-story building occupied on the ground floor by the theatre, were announced today by the management. The National was one of a number of theatres closed recently for repairs after investigations which followed the Knickerbocker disaster.

The management announced that the work of demolishing the present structure to make room for the new building would start about May 1, soon after completion of its current program which has been resumed. The National which is the third or fourth theatre to occupy its site, was built in 1885.
