Beauty Chats

By Edna Kent Forbes

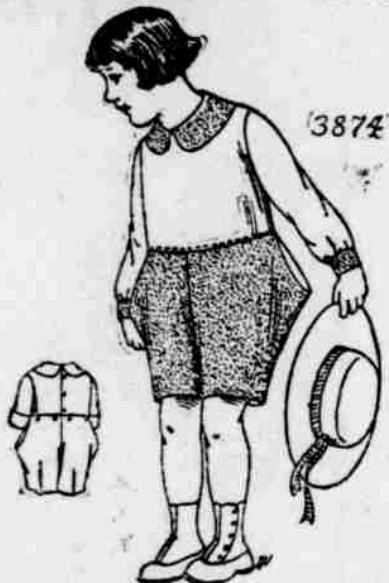

Even jewelry should be plain.

The market has been flooded recently with the most astounding amount of cheap, imitation jewelry. When I say cheap I do not mean cheap in price, for many of the so-called fashionable trinkets cost several dollars. I mean that the bulk of it is cheap in appearance.

You may not think this question of what jewelry to wear is important enough to bother with, but I assure you that it is quite worth giving thought to. You are always judged by

A GOOD GARMENT FOR PLAYTIME

3874—Trim and neat, and altogether practical, is the model portrayed here. The boy who likes to romp and run will welcome a play suit of this kind, with its spacious pockets, and comfortable lines. The style is good for wash fabrics, for serge, and pongee.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 2, 3, 4, and 5 years. A 4 year size requires 1 1/2 yard of 27 inch material.

COLONIAL BUILDING, ROOM 264, SUNDAY'S HEADQUARTERS HERE

Room 264, Colonial building, has been secured for the headquarters of the Billy Sunday workers in this city. Miss Alma Thomas, secretary to F. W. Rapp, Sunday's business manager, announced Friday.

Miss Thomas said that she would occupy the room starting Monday. Mr. Rapp will be here at that time to personally take charge of the work. Headquarters will be the scene of Billy Sunday activities here until the opening of the campaign, April 16.

The personnel of the Billy Sunday party which will be in Richmond during the six week's campaign, according to Miss Alma Thomas, secretary to Fred W. Rapp, Sunday's business manager, Friday, follows:

Rev. and Mrs. William Sunday; Homer Rodeheaver, chorister; R. Mathews, pianist and secretary to Mr. Sunday; Miss Florence Kinney, director of students' work; Mrs. William Asher, director of women's work, and Albert Peterson, tabernacle custodian.

Of this group, Miss Thomas says three are residents of Winona. They are Mr. Sunday, Mr. Rapp and Mrs. Asher. Miss Kinney is from Springfield, Ohio; Mr. Rodeheaver from Tennessee; Mr. Mathews from Kentucky and Mr. Peterson from Sweden.

Mr. Rapp, according to Miss Thomas speaks to factory and shop men during the noon hours, telling them about Mr. Sunday and inviting them to the tabernacle meetings. In that way, she said, large delegations representing various industries attend the meetings and are permitted reserved space.

Noon Lunches.

Mrs. Asher, head of the women's work, conducts noon luncheons three days a week for girls and women employees of offices and stores. At the close of luncheon Mrs. Asher talks briefly to those present. Miss Thomas said that usually a centrally located church is used for these meetings.

At present, according to Miss Thomas, workers here are seeking a building where all children under school age can be cared for while parents attend the Sunday meetings. While East Main Street Friends church may be used for this purpose, the matter has not been definitely decided.

The Rev. A. H. Backus, pastor of Grace M. E. church, has been named district chairman to have charge of neighboring prayer meetings. These meetings will be held every Tuesday and Friday nights, lasting half an hour.

little things, such as the neatness of your shoes, the cleanliness of your gloves, and even the sort of trinkets you put on.

For instance, if you met a woman whose hands were covered with a multitude of cheap and flashy rings, where red and green and yellow stones were mixed up with a lot of shiny gold, and if she wore large ear-rings and a pendant necklace, a watch and chain, a brooch and several clanking bracelets, you would think her a person of rather vulgar and ostentatious taste. You would expect her to wear inappropriate and fancy clothes, to have no sense of color, and to live in a house full of useless furniture and ornaments. She might be a perfectly nice woman, but at the same time you would have just that critical feeling about her.

Wouldn't you really prefer a neatly dressed woman who wore no more than the plain necessary to fasten her blouse, and perhaps a ring or a necklace? The new fancy necklets give a needed color touch to the costume, but should not be mixed with other jewelry.

S. K. L.—As you are slightly overweight for a girl of 17 there should not be any need to fatten portions of the body with these skin foods. You will be more evenly developed in another few years.

A FRIEND—There is no need to brush the body when using a bath brush. It should be very exhilarating to the skin, clearing up this tendency to the blackheads. Follow these hot scrubbings by cooling the bath gradually until the end, when you should dash cold water over your skin to close the pores.

The recurrence of these blackheads after you clear them up appears to be due to enlarged pores.

Often one bust is larger than the other which has no more significance than when one foot is larger than the other.

JEWELS FROM THE RIVER BED

Ceylon's great sport is the hunting of jewels, which are often to be found in the beds of rivers. Sometimes these streams are dried up for a time and then the rewards are great for the hunter. Government permission must be granted before one may go gem hunting, and having obtained this permission, the hunter is allowed to keep all he finds. To the inexperienced eye, the precious pebble, as it rests on the ground, looks like an ordinary stone, but the expert can detect the valuable ones at once.
