

SAYS ENGLAND SLOW TO ADMIT CHINESE LABOR IN WORKSHOPS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 3.—Chinese students in England are complaining that British manufacturers are chary of admitting them to their workshops, according to S. B. Tan, ex-secretary of the London Chinese Students' association. He contrasts this attitude with the practice in the United States and France, where, he says, every opportunity is given to Chinese students to combine work and study.

First secretary Chu Chao Hsin of the Chinese embassy in London has just made some very pointed remarks in regard to the attitude of many English people toward China. He said that so-called friends of China sometimes remark "the most interesting thing would be to find out how to open up China."

Was it not fair, he urged, to ask whether China had not views of her own as to how she should be opened up? Judging from the way some people talked, Chu Chao Hsin continued, China was very much in the position of some joint at a sacrificial feast, with every guest trying to discuss how they could best carve it up to their own advantage, while all the time they were really actuated by the greatest goodwill toward the animal which had furnished the chief dish.

He reminded his hearers that the American Secretary of State, John Hay, who originated the policy of the "Open Door," had said: "Whoever understands China socially, politically, economically, religiously, holds the key to the world's politics for the next five centuries."

Travelers Notes
By Post C. Scribner

Election of officers will occur Saturday evening, March 18, at Post C. club rooms and a heavy ballot is anticipated. Nominations have been made as follows:

President, Charles B. Beck, James G. Martin; vice-president, R. T. Bowman, G. A. Diggins; secretary and treasurer, Marcus L. Hasty; board of directors (three to elect), John P. Highley, Roy C. Fry, Walter H. Bates, E. W. Coate, E. E. Lebo; chairman R. R. committee, O. F. McKee, L. C. Nie; chairman, press chairman, J. C. Jones; chairman hotel committee, J. G. Martin, S. H. Morse; chairman legislative committee, Gath P. Freeman; chairman employment committee, A. E. Holmes, Fred Miller; chairman good roads committee, H. M. Kramer; chairman membership committee, L. E. Browne, O. F. McKee; chairman social and relief committee, L. C. Wood; chairman waterways committee, John E. Ulrich; chairman entertainment committee, C. O. Tooker; chairman reception committee, Theodore H. Hill, Thomas Tarkelson.

A royal good time is planned for election night. In addition to the eats and drinks which Charlie Tooker will provide probably a few smokes will be in evidence and every candidate is expected to make a speech, sing a song and tell a story. Recitals of past T. P. A. achievements will be absolutely barred. Only fresh up-to-the-minute stuff will be tolerated. Charles Beck will tell of "The Postal Cards I Have Read," Marcus Hasty of "What to Do When Your Pants Are Stolen," Lewis C. Nel, etc., of "Why to Part the Hair and Where," Leroy E. Browne of "Listening In," Elmer E. Lebo of "When Is a Prune," Fred Miller of "Six for a Nickel," and Scott Morse will orate on "The Duties of a President Officer." The Post Punk Pot will not be allowed to release any jingles but at his own urgent request John P. Highley will be permitted to sing "Promise Me." Other assignments will be equally interesting.

The remaining members of the class of 1904 are as follows: Fred J. Bartel, Wendell A. DeWees, Gilbert T. Dunham, George A. Diggins, William P. Haughton, Charles Kinert, Harry L. Leffhardt, W. E. McWhinney, David J. Miller, Joseph N. Phenix, Harlan G. Simmons, Lester E. Turner and I. N. Worth.

In April 1897, Post C. attended the state convention at Marion in style. Every man was bedecked with badges galore, carried a special T. P. A. umbrella and rode on a special train. What are we doing for the next convention in that line? It would be interesting to know just how many of the 1897 delegates are yet with us. The early meetings of Post C. were held at the Westcott hotel. The present club rooms were rented in July 1897 and the first reception in the present club rooms occurred on Aug. 13, 1897. The furniture was purchased with money donated by members. Active workers in matter were John E. Lebo, D. S. Dibble, C. W. Morgan,

M. O'Brien, and W. H. Quigg, with various special committees. It is reported that another state T. P. A. souvenir publication is about to be perpetrated upon the defenseless public, under the authority of the state board. Members who consider themselves more or less prominent and indispensable to the organization are invited to break into the limelight by supplying data of their activities and a halftone reproduction of their classic features. Really meritorious workers will require urging to induce them to recount their efforts for the upbuilding of the order, but ambitious climbers, seeking further emoluments, will not be "backward in coming forward."

The reminiscence vein of Brother W. A. Ryan's recent letters in regard to past national conventions is delightfully interesting and instructive. He recalls the names of men who labored faithfully and well and does not hesitate to point out where and when the conventions and delegates were in the wrong and shows the after results of injudicious action. The years between 1900 and 1910 he regards as "the valley of the shadow" during which serious troubles arose and the association made but little real progress. From the wonderful storehouse of his memory he reviews circumstances and situations which perhaps are not unlike present-day conditions, which, to his mature mind require delicate and far-sighted wisdom in handling. Neither has he forgotten the foolish horseplay of the delegates, the badger flights, Scully's army and numberless fake initiations, all of which seem hardly compatible with the dignity of the association or the serious purpose for which men were appointed, and at the expense of the organization. A less number of delegates, armed with proportionate voting powers, level-headed business men instead of "joy riders," would undoubtedly bring better results than our present motley crowd of sightseers.

"The heads of lettuce and cabbage are better than heads of bone" said the man who forgot his auto and walked the whole way home. We will keep John Ulrich's secret as close as close can be. For never a word must ever be heard by the "Boss" of the I. H. C.

Running for the Senate

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The senatorial situation in several states has been outlined in two Haskin letters. This survey is concluded in this article.

Since the beginning of this series another vacancy has occurred in the senate through the acceptance of an appointment to the federal bench by Senator Kenyon, of Iowa. Iowa usually can be counted upon as safely Republican. Representative Sweet, now representing the Third congressional district in the house, is looked upon as the Republican candidate for the seat in the senate. It is known he will seek the nomination, and thus far has no opposition. No announcement has been made at the time this is written of the possible Democratic seekers for the nomination.

The situation in Missouri has changed in the past few weeks. The prospects for Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, are much brighter than they have been. Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state under Wilson, is looked upon as the main contender for the Democratic nomination against Senator Reed, as Mr. Long's friends have been counting up on the Wilson Democrats to oppose Senator Reed. Recently, however, several Democratic senators who were bitterly against Senator Reed in the league of nations fight have decided to support him and try to help his re-election on the ground that he is too valuable to lose to the senate, and that his opposition to the Treaty of Versailles is not sufficient ground to warrant turning the cold shoulder on him.

A dozen or more Republicans have been suggested, but it is believed that the selection for the nomination will not be narrowed down in the Republican ranks until after the Missouri city elections are held in April, when some idea of the political state of mind can be obtained.

Montana and the N. P. League.
In Montana the Non-Partisan league is having some effect in the deliberations of both big parties. Senator Myers, Democrat, has not yet announced his candidacy, but is expected to do so shortly. He has been firm in his opposition to the league, and at the election two years ago, supported Republican contenders for public office in cases where the league endorsed Democrats. The league is said to be grooming B. K. Wheeler to oppose Senator Myers for the Democratic nomination.

On the Republican side Representative Carl Riddick and State Senator Edwards are looked upon as the leading candidates for the nomination. Mr. Riddick is a bitter opponent of the Non-Partisan league, but despite this has been elected to the house of representatives by big majorities.

Frank Mondell, who has been a member of the house of representatives for more than two decades, and is now Republican floor leader, is expected to have no opposition for the Republican nomination for the senate. No Democrat has yet announced his intention of running, although it is expected that Senator Kendrick will seek re-election. The Wyoming Republicans claim that the election of Senator Kendrick was a fluke, coming at a time when there was a division in the ranks of the Republicans of the state, and that now the Republicans will present a solid front and elect Mr. Mondell. The Non-Partisan league claims a considerable membership in the state, but neither side seems to be much worried about what the league intends to do.

The situation in Utah, according to Republicans here, is much the same as the situation in Wyoming with the Non-Partisan league left out. Utah Republicans declare that Senator King was elected six years ago because of a split in the ranks of the other party, but that this breach now is healed. There are no primary elections in Utah, the convention system still holding sway. It is believed that Senator King will be the candidate again, although this is not certain.

Republican Situation in Utah.
Two Republicans are prominently mentioned as seekers for the nomination. They are former Governor William Spry, who is now commissioner-general of the land office here, and J. Reuben Clark, who was solicitor of the state department when the late Philander C. Knox was secretary of state. Senator Smoot, it is believed, will throw his support to Spry.

Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, has no opponent yet for the Democratic nomination, and it is believed by his friends that no other Democrat will contest with him for it. Representative S. S. Arentz has announced that he will try for the Republican nomination, and it is generally believed that he will not have serious opposition in this fight. The outcome of the election is in doubt.

In the state of Washington the Newberry case may enter into the situation. Senator Miles Pindexter returned to the senate after a trip to Washington just in time to vote for seating the Michigan senator, and his foes declare that this will hurt him considerably. Senator Pindexter does not think so, however. It is the belief at the capital that Senator Pindexter will have no trouble in capturing the Republican nomination.

On the Democratic side former Representative C. C. Dill is looming up now as the probable candidate. Mr. Dill was a member of the house but a short time, being defeated for re-election the last time he came up because of his votes on the war and war legislation.

The California situation right now seems to indicate the re-election of Senator Hiram Johnson. For a time

Much Rheumatism

Local Druggists' No-Cure-No-Pay Offer Attracts Many Sufferers.

If there are any rheumatic sufferers who have not availed themselves of our local druggists' generous offer they should do so at once. Read what Rheuma did for this sufferer:

"I have been laid up for one year with chronic arthritis. I had doctors galore, also spent four months in the sanitarium at Troy, N. Y., but had practically no relief. Then I started taking Rheuma. I have now taken five bottles, and can go without crutches or other aid, which I could not do for the last nine months. I highly recommend it, and would gladly answer any questions on receipt of stamp for postage."

Interested In Dairy School at Lewisburg

(Special to the Palladium)
LEWISBURG, Ohio, March 3.—Much interest was shown in the instruction given in the dairy rationing figuring school which was conducted in Lewisburg March 1. About a dozen farmers were present for the all-day instruction given by J. M. McKellip, of Columbus. E. D. Turner of Eaton, Preble county agent, also was present.

Instruction was given in the comparative feeding values of the different home-grown and commercial feeds with examples of working out most economical balanced rations from the different ones available, considering their relative market prices.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia all start with a cold. At the first sign of fever, the moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that goes right after congestion (which is what a cold really is) and restores normal circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the unpleasant sting and blister. During the big "Flu" epidemic several years ago Musterole was used in our training camps. The Y. M. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to our boys in France. Doctors have been recommending it to their patients for years.

Just rub it on the congested parts with your finger tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

If there are colds in your house get Musterole on the job at once. It is a good plan to have Musterole always on the bathroom shelf for the emergency.

Sold by all druggists, 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes; hospital size $3.00.
