

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR BOY, GIRL CLUBS IN WAYNE COUNTY

Bright prospects for boys and girls club work in Wayne county this year are reported by the county agent, who will have supervision of all clubs. If present promises are fulfilled, it is certain that club work this year will be far in excess of last year's record, which in turn was an improvement over the year before.

Arrangements are being made in Washington township for a beef calf club, the Milton bank having promised to lend funds on approved security, to the boys and girls in the community who wish to buy calves for the club. Paul Cladwell is acting as local supervisor with the assistance of Charles Kerlin, and Cashier Pitman of the bank is lending his active interest, also.

In Perry township also, the bank is interested in the promotion of a dairy calf club, with the co-operation of Earl Fouts, chairman of the local farmers' association, who is acting as club supervisor. J. L. Dolan will visit Economy soon to complete arrangements for the calf club.

Explains Work
In Webster township, the club work, especially corn clubs, was explained by Horatio King and Charles Waedick, both officials of the farmers association, and by J. L. Dolan, when they visited the school Friday. Reports have come to the county office that Washington, Boston and Franklin townships are interested in corn clubs also.

The procedure of the club work requires, in the calf clubs, that the calves, which are steers or freemartin heifers a year old, be fed for five or six months and then be exhibited at a fair. Provision will be made for the Washington club at least entering the state club so that its members will have the privilege of exhibiting at the state fair.

In corn clubs, members will be required to exhibit samples at the county fair, and the pig club members must show their pigs.

Provide Two Classes
Two classes will be provided for young hog raisers this year, a breeding stock pig club such as was held last year, and in addition, a sow and litter club. All boys and girls who have sows farrowing this year are eligible, including particularly the children who were in the club last year.

The litters will be grown out and three of the best from each litter exhibited at the fair.

Full information regarding all club work that is planned for each township will be sent out to every school boy and girl in the township in letters from the county agent's office soon. Entries for the Washington calf clubs are expected within the next two weeks, before April 1.

Arrange for Work
So extensive does club work promise to be this year, that arrangements have been made to have all work done in township units under local supervision, with general supervision by Mr. Dolan. County prizes will be provided for all clubs showing in the county fair, but it is impossible to conduct a general county club this year.

In addition to county prizes and state prizes for those exhibiting at the state fair, club members will be offered special township prizes in Washington and Webster townships, and it is possible in other townships also, when arrangements are completed by the local organizations. In Webster $50 has been appropriated to send club winners to the Purdue Club Round-up.

BOYS' CONFERENCE AT Y.M.C.A. APRIL 1

The first Wayne County Older Boys' conference will be held in the Y. M. C. A. April 1, according to an announcement made by Perry Wilson, boys' work secretary of the association, Saturday morning. Every church, school, religious club or other religious organization in the county has been requested to have delegates present at the conference.

The purpose of the conference is to hold a fraternal gathering, to know what others are doing through exchange of ideas, plans and methods of work and to develop a consciousness of the need of county-wide solidarity of action if the standards of Christ are to become the standards of the boys of Wayne county.

Second: Inspiration, song prayer, address and fellowship will be blended into a program planned to inspire the delegates to rise above the prevalent low standards of life today, to higher levels of thinking and living.

Boys to be eligible for selection for this conference must be between the ages of 15 and 20 years of age, capable of leadership. Every group of boys attending the conference must be accompanied by an adult leader. Suggestions are: school superintendents or principals, athletic coaches or some teacher in the school, Sunday school boys' class teacher or church leader.

Programs for the convention will be announced later.

POSTPONE MONDAY POLO CONTEST HERE

The scheduled polo game between the Richmond and Muncie teams for Monday night has been changed to Thursday night, March 23, according to an announcement given out by the management of the Coliseum Saturday afternoon. Albert J. Beveridge is scheduled to talk in the Coliseum on that night and for this reason the game has been postponed.

Parent-Teachers to Elect Officers at Dennis High

Parent-teachers' association of Dennis junior high school will elect officers at a meeting to be held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the school.

Short News of City

Present Delightful Comedy.—Coffey-Miller players presented the "Imaginary Invalid," very successfully in the high school auditorium before a large audience Friday afternoon.

The following composed the Coffey-Miller company: Jess Coffey, Martha Miller, Neil Smith, Rose Shaw, O. J. Neuwerth and Charles Booth. This was the second time the company has been at the high school to present plays. They presented two plays when here last year and the productions were highly appreciated.

Enjoy Card Party.—Red Men, their families and friends enjoyed a card party in the lodge rooms Friday night, immediately following the regular meeting of the lodge. The evening was spent in playing euchre, at which there were nine tables. Another party will be given by the Red Men for their families and friends March 29.

Want Full Attendance.—A one hundred per cent attendance was expected at the rehearsal of the May Festival chorus to be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening in the high school. This is to be the last rehearsal before the Symphony concert, March 27.

Call to Mothers.—Mothers of Garfield Junior high school are asked to attend a special meeting Tuesday afternoon, March 21, at 3:30 o'clock in room 206, K. of P. building, Friday night under the leadership of Andrew Raub, president of the club. The evening was spent in playing community games and singing community songs.

Leaders' Club Meeting.—Recreation Leaders' club held its regular meeting in room 206, K. of P. building, Friday night under the leadership of Andrew Raub, president of the club. The evening was spent in playing community games and singing community songs.

Issued Marriage License.—Howard Charles Mullin and Leona Clamplitt were issued a marriage license Saturday in the county clerk's office.

Contractor Here.—Earl Kiger, of Indianapolis, who has the contract for furnishing the seats for Number nine school building, southeast of Richmond, was in this city Saturday.

SEN. ROBINSON ASKS SECRET DIPLOMACY BARRED BY TREATY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 18.—Amendment of the four-power Pacific treaty to bind the signatories against secret diplomacy was urged in the senate today by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, in a speech attacking the pact as a dangerous instrument if accepted as it is.

Many treaties of secret understanding regarding the far east already have been signed, Senator Robinson said, and not entirely cleared up by information furnished to the senate. He cited in particular the charge of the far eastern republic of China that a secret agreement exists between France and Japan relative to Siberia, and suggested there apparently was some well defined understanding between Great Britain and Japan relating to the Pacific.

Unless the truth could be learned about these alleged agreements, he argued, it would be unwise for the United States to enter a "partnership" with the three other Pacific powers. An argument in favor of a reservation designed to give outside powers the benefit of the four-power treaty, also was made by Senator Robinson, who said that although the proposal had been voted down three times when offered in the shape of an amendment, he would present it again in such form that senators who desire the pact "without political bias" need not fail to support it.

He declared an "unfair effort had been made to inject politics into the treaty fight particularly by 'that portion of the press which has been unqualifiedly in favor of the treaty.'"

In the course of the debate Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, a Republican leader, put into the record, without comment, a statement by Rene Viviani, French premier, in which he characterized the treaty as standing "outside all alliances."

Explains Reason
Mr. Lodge said he desired to present this statement in view of charges that Mr. Viviani regarded the pact as an alliance. Senator Shields, Democrat, of Tennessee, called attention to an address made by Los Angeles yesterday by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, in which he was quoted as saying the treaty had removed a menace from the far east.

Senator Robinson said that the press report made it even appear that Sir Auckland had indicated he believed "the treaty avoided a war that was imminent in the Pacific or the Orient."

"Does the senator mean to ask," asked Senator Johnson, Republican of California, "that the British ambassador now is engaged in making addresses for this treaty?"

Senator Robinson replied that he only knew what he had seen published, but hoped that the senate might have a fuller account later. Senator Robinson asserted, and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, concurred, that the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which is abrogated by the treaty, was not a menace to the United States.

An agreement of 1911, they said, exempted this nation from its operation. The Arkansas senator also argued that the four-power treaty might be construed as a "regional understanding" and thus exempt from the treaty of Versailles.

Secretary Hughes' letter to Senator Underwood, Mr. Robinson continued, did not disclose why Italy and The Netherlands were excluded from the four-power treaty.

"Whatever may be the motive," he said, "the senate is entitled and ought to have to reach an intelligent understanding of this treaty."

BOARD LOCATES BUILDING.
Inspection of various sites for the new custodial building to be erected on the county infirmary land west of Centerville, was the chief feature of the meeting of county commissioners Saturday morning. The commission decided to locate the building back of the superintendent's residence, and north of the dining hall.

Tearing Down Old Friends' Church On North Tenth

Work of tearing down the old White-Water Friends church is now under way and the majority of the larger timbers on top of the structure have been removed. It is hoped to have the entire structure removed by April 1.

Earlham

Both Earlham debating teams were victorious Friday night, the negative team defeating the Goshen affirmative in the Earlham chapel and the Quaker affirmative team defeating the Valparaiso debaters at Valparaiso. These two victories with those of two weeks ago give the Earlham debaters a clear record.

Vernon Hinchshaw has been elected editor-in-chief of the 1923 senior annual. Hinchshaw has not announced the remainder of the staff.

YOUNG DODGE WORKS IN DETROIT PRISON; BLISTERS HIS HANDS

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, March 18.—Counsel for John Duval Dodge, young Detroit millionaire, serving a five-day term in the house of correction in a charge of automobile speeding, renewed efforts today to obtain his release.

They appeared before Circuit Court Judge Ira L. Jayne and again asked for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Jayne, who yesterday dismissed the first writ obtained by Dodge's attorneys, set hearing for the new motion for this afternoon.

He declared, however, that it should not be brought into court for the hearing.

The young millionaire, who yesterday enjoyed a few hours' respite from the jail sentence, began his term in earnest today, being assigned the job of coal heaver in the city jail.

He began the job immediately after breakfast this morning, piling fuel into a handcart, wheeling it to the furnace room and dumping it for the stokers. Shortly before noon today his hands were covered with blisters, and he was urged to go a little slower with his efforts. He was served with other prisoners at the institution with a meal of meat pie, bread and coffee.

Dodge is taking his imprisonment in good spirit, apparently paying little attention to the efforts of his attorneys to bring about his release under his term expires Monday forenoon.

To the ingenious suggestion of a fellow prisoner this morning that he could escape hard work by the expedient of having himself confined in the dungeon for refusing to wield the coal shovel, he declared: "Not me; I'm going to work." His fellow prisoners characterize him as a good fellow.

PLANNING PROGRAM FOR 100 MERCHANTS

Local dry goods merchants are expecting 100 visitors from other cities near Richmond at the conference of the district Retail Dry Goods association of Indiana, which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday morning and afternoon.

The morning session is to start at 10 o'clock and the afternoon meeting will convene about 2 o'clock. Luncheon will be held in the Adam H. Bartel building at South Eighth and B streets.

General discussion of dry goods lines will be held at both meetings, and particularly in regard to ladies' wearing apparel. Several special speakers will be on the program at each meeting.

ASK BIBLE CLASSES TO ENTER CONTEST

Sunday schools of the city have been invited to enter the adult classes in the Famous Picture contest, which will start next week. A very valuable colored print will be given to the Sunday school scoring the largest number of points.

The rules for the Sunday school division say that every class in the Sunday school must have at least five members entered in the contest.

The Sunday schools have been called to the attention of the religious significance of the pictures in the contest, and each Sunday school superintendent has been requested to put a set of the pictures on exhibition in the Sunday school rooms.

Ministers of the various churches over the city have also been asked to preach a sermon some time during the contest, on art and religion.

Police Court News

FIND STOLEN AUTO
A large touring car, stolen from W. J. Kelting, March 5, was recovered by the police late Friday. The machine had been standing on North Seventeenth street for 24 hours, and the police were notified of its presence by a woman living in the neighborhood.

ALLOT PARTY DELEGATES
Delegates to state party conventions from Wayne county will number 20 for the Democratic party and 31 for the Republican party as a result of the meeting of the election commissioners held recently. The board based its allotment on a margin of one delegate to every 400 voters. The Republican vote numbers 12,491 and the Democratic vote 7,925 according to the figures of the boards.

Death of Rev. A. J. Brown, Prominent Friend, Reported

Death of the Rev. A. J. Brown, well known friend, was reported Saturday, from Indianapolis. The Rev. Brown was at one time president of Wilmington college, Wilmington, Ohio and held a pastorate, had recently been doing relief work in Europe. His death followed sudden illness Sunday, it is said.

HOLD SMITH, ROLL IN CONNECTION WITH FIRE AT RIDGEVILLE

(Special to The Palladium)
WINCHESTER, Ind., March 18.—Ralph Smith, colored, and Ed. Roll are being held on suspicion in connection with the burning of the Carryote implement company's plant at Ridgeville, early Thursday morning when the building and contents were totally destroyed, together with the garage owned by J. O. Carpenter. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

Both Smith and Roll were seen leaving Ridgeville between midnight and 2 o'clock Friday morning on the night of the fire. They admit having been at Ridgeville, leaving the town by beating their way on a freight train.

John Dahner, Byron S. Vail and Harry Carryote, all residents of Fort Wayne and owners of the implement company, were arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Richard and Chief of Police Durr of Winchester on an affidavit filed by J. O. Carpenter, of Ridgeville, charging the men with arson. Carpenter was able to get all the machines out of his garage, but lost most of his tools and machinery.

The three accused men arrived here on an early train Friday and each gave bond in the sum of $2,000. Dahner and Vail giving surety bonds furnished by Fred Pocock of Fort Wayne, who accompanied the men here, while Carryote gave a cash bond. Later in the day the three men were brought before Judge A. L. Bales charged with conspiring to commit a felony, and each gave a surety bond in the sum of $4,000. The judge did not set a date for trial.

QUAKER GLEE CLUB HARMONIES PLEASE

With a carefully arranged program of pleasing numbers, the Earlham Glee club opened its 1922 season Friday night with a concert at Economy. Numbers by the club and special vocal and instrumental numbers were all appreciated by the audience. A special number by Cyril Pitts and Alan Wallace was one of the most successful. Both Pitts and Wallace are well known singers of Richmond.

Indications seem to point together one of the best clubs since he has been head of the Earlham music department. He also has arranged the most pretentious schedule ever undertaken by a local club, a series of concerts in surrounding towns culminating in the spring trip, which will reach its climax with the appearance at Chicago. Saturday night the Glee club will appear at Centerville in its second public recital. The college men will make the trip in automobiles. Reports from Centerville show that the coming of the Earlham gleemen is being looked forward to with interest.

TO RECEIVE BIDS FOR GLEN PARK PAINTING

Bids for painting the buildings in Glen Miller park will be received by the board of works shortly. The bids will be received in three ways: first, contractor to furnish labor, tools and paint; second, contractor to furnish labor and tools only and third, contractor to furnish paint and oil.

By this means the board expects to determine which system would be the cheapest for the city to follow. Buildings to be painted are: bathhouse, pavilion, 38 tables, 292 small seats, 139 large, house and shed above pavilion, barn and shop, small animal cages, bird cage, deer shed, superintendent's house and coal shed and flag pole, all in Glen Miller park. One house known as the Star park residence and located on North Tenth street, will be given two coats of paint.

To Feature Amateur Night At Reid Memorial Church

Amateur night will be featured at the meeting of the Get Together club Tuesday in the lecture room of the Reid Memorial church. Seven acts of vaudeville will be given by various groups of the organization.

The groups that will give acts are the Richmond Business college students; Y. M. C. A. dormitory men, nurses from the Reid Memorial hospital, Richmond school teachers and three mixed groups.

SERVICE MEN TO LIBERTY

Free transportation to Liberty, and a free dinner to be served under the auspices of the Liberty post of the American Legion are the inducements offered members of the organization here who will meet at the club rooms of Harry Ray post early Sunday morning. The start will be made at 8 o'clock. Ample room has been provided for a party of former service men, of any size up to 50, and indications are that the Liberty post will be favorably impressed by the "turn-out" from Richmond.

BUILDING TENDENCY IS TOWARD SMALLER HOMES, SAYS HIGGS

The modern tendency in building is toward smaller homes, in the opinion of City Building Inspector J. Edward Higgs. "The old-fashioned, spacious rooms of the past generation are rapidly giving way to the smaller, more compactly arranged apartments of the present day," he said.

Many of the homes built in the last 30 years have been split up into small apartments, according to him. Much of the work of the building inspection officer is to pass upon these proposed improvements.

"Many people these days do not stay in their homes as much as those of the last generation," Mr. Higgs declared Saturday. "Modern entertainments and modern conveniences have done much to change the home into a place where two or three rooms now serve the same purpose that twice that number filled before."

Grant Permission
Permission to build a $10,000 residence at 2016 South B street, was granted John Hipskink Friday. The work will consist of remodeling part of an old building, and putting in new construction.

Other permits granted in the past week bring the total of building construction cost up to $13,000 for the week of March 11 to 18. The permits granted were: J. E. Mungavin, $500, erect frame porch; Mrs. Josephine Runge, $250, re-roof house; Mrs. Catherine Hazzard, $300, erect veranda; J. H. Bell, $300, remodel veranda; R. A. Chittin, $300, erect frame garage; A. L. Reid, repair residence, $150; William C. Eaton, remodel residence, $300; Dr. C. Griffin, remodel residence, $1,000.

Forum Discussion at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church

W. C. T. U. Officials Deny Circulated Reports

Officials of the W. C. T. U. stated Saturday that the organization was being misrepresented by persons circulating petitions about the city who claim that W. C. T. U. is trying to bring about enforcement of "blue laws" restricting street car traffic and other things on Sunday. The officials of the W. C. T. U. assert that this is untrue and that their organization stands strictly for law enforcement, and is not supporting "blue law" propaganda.

WOMEN TO CONDUCT LUNCHEONS DURING REVIVAL ANNOUNCED

Chairmen of luncheon committees to be in charge of the three daily luncheons for women to be conducted during the Billy Sunday evangelistic campaign in this city have been announced.

Mrs. James Clements, of Grace M. E. church, has named six women to aid her in serving. There will be no luncheons during the first week of the campaign Mrs. Clarence Kramer will be in charge of the noon luncheons on Wednesday and Thursday. No noon meetings will be held on Tuesday of this second week as will be the case during the remaining weeks of the campaign.

Mrs. E. P. Harper, of the First Christian church, is to be in charge the third week of the series of meetings; Mrs. W. E. Wilson of the First Methodist church, is to serve the luncheons the fourth week; Mrs. O. B. Fulghum of First Presbyterian church, the fifth week, and Mrs. Charles J. Hannan, of the First English Lutheran church, the sixth week. Mrs. Horace Kramer, of Grace church, has been named purchasing agent.

Fred W. Rapp, Sunday's business manager, left early Saturday to join the Sunday party in Charleston, W. Va., where meetings are now being held. It is improbable that Mr. Rapp will get back to Richmond before three or four weeks, it was announced at headquarters Saturday. He is in charge of men's work in cities where Mr. Sunday is holding sessions.

Attention is called to the regular weekly meeting of the local Sunday committee to be held Monday night in the headquarters.

REV. AND MRS. PROBST SUBMIT RESIGNATIONS

The Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Probst, for about eight years in charge of the union mission of this city, have resigned because of the ill health of Mr. Probst. Resignation takes place at once, and a committee composed of the Revs. F. A. Dressel, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, and J. J. Rae, of the First Presbyterian church, with Dr. H. E. Hinchshaw and A. L. Smith, are seeking a pastor to fill the vacancy.

Both the Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Probst are leaving for Dayton, Ohio. The Rev. Probst has been in ill health for several years, during which time Mrs. Probst has carried on the work at the mission.

Great development in the city's mission work has taken place since the Rev. and Mrs. Probst took charge of the work. Larger quarters were found necessary to handle the work, and over a year ago the mission was moved from the frame building on North Fourteenth street to North Twelfth and I streets.

FOUR STERLING FIVES SURVIVE MORNING'S PLAY IN TOURNAMENT

Four sterling basketball teams, two from the south, one from the west, and one from the north, remained in the play for the high school championship of Indiana for 1922 at the conclusion of this morning's game in the annual tournament held under the auspices of the Indiana High School Athletic association.

Franklin, Bloomington, Garfield of Terre Haute, and Marion are the quintets which entered the semi-final rounds, following games, which were played before thousands of fans at the Coliseum in the Indiana State Fair grounds.

The only real surprise of the morning was the elimination of the strong Vincennes team by Bloomington. Entering the contest with a record of 38 consecutive victories, two of which were recorded against Bloomington, Vincennes was conceded an edge that might maintain between the schools at the start. Bloomington, however, played a brand of ball that could not be denied, meeting every move of its opponent, with a precision and confidence which well indicated it had been pointed for the kind of play Vincennes would offer. The score was 21 to 15.

Franklin, winner of the title in 1920 and 1921, played steady basketball in eliminating Bedford by a 24 to 15 count. Garfield, of Terre Haute, likewise played careful basketball and won from Fisher by a 30-to-16 score.

Marion was victorious over Anderson, runner-up in last year's tournament after a hard, fast game, 20 to 16. Anderson fought from beginning to end, but its opponents maintained an edge almost throughout the entire play.

The semi-finals round this afternoon will bring together Franklin and Bloomington at 2 o'clock and Garfield and Marion an hour later. The final match to determine the championship will be played at 8 o'clock tonight.

SHAKESPEAREAN PLAY AT EARLHAM TONIGHT

Members of the Senior class of Earlham hall will present Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the chapel. Admission will be 50 cents with an extra charge of 10 cents for reserved seats. According to those in charge, a large crowd is expected.

Costumes for the production have been procured from a Cincinnati costume firm. The play has been coached by Professor Root, of the Earlham English department. Rollo Talcott, of Indianapolis, also has been working with the cast for the last two weeks.

Many members of the cast have had previous experience in Earlham theatricals and are expected to appear to good advantage in the Shakespearean production. The cast of characters is as follows: Viola Margaret Nicholson Olivia Elizabeth Thomas Maria Ruth Jerome Duke Orsino Leslie Pennington Sir Toby Belch Robert Swain Sir Andrew Aguecheek Cyril Harvey Malvolia Hurford Crosman Antonio Edwin Teale Sebastian Dolan Loeve Fabian Ruth Taylor Sea Captain Walter Yarnall Curio Howard Hall

Salvation Army Officers Come From Indianapolis

The Salvation Army will hold special services in its home, 12 South Fifth street Saturday night. At this service will be a party of nine Salvation Army workers from Indianapolis. Included in the party will
