

SHIPPING AGREEMENT RATIFIED BY GREENE TOWNSHIP FARMERS

(Special to The Palladium)
WILLIAMSBURG, Ind., March 28.—Ratification of the action of the farmers' association directors, in completing an agreement with the co-operative elevator for a live stock shipping plant, was the principal action at the regular meeting of the Greene township farmers at the Williamsburg school building Monday night.

A report on organization work was made by Ray Huddleston. The organization recommended by the live stock association directors and modeled after the Centerville and Fountain City associations, was approved. An expense of eight cents a hundred will be charged for shipping until further information on actual costs is obtained. Arrangements will be made to have shipments handled by Carl Wilson, manager of the co-operative elevator, as a side line to his other activities. Pens will be built near the elevator and the elevator scales used.

Explanation of the Indianapolis live stock co-operative commission and of the working program of the county farm bureau was made. J. E. Scholl of the United States Grain Growers also explained the farmers' grain selling organization and its plans. Considerable interest was shown and many questions answered. The co-operative elevator already has signed the contract, but members of the association desired further information on details of operation.

TWO ANSONIA MEN HELD FOR ROBBERY

GREENVILLE, Ohio, March 28.—Chester Shultz and Elmer Broderick, both of near Ansonia, were arrested Sunday and bound over to the Miami county court in the sum of $1,000 each, Monday, charged with being two of the four robbers who held up P. R. Senebaugh, a railroadman, and Charles Taylor, a restaurant clerk, in the O'Donnell restaurant last Saturday. It is said the officers have learned the whereabouts of the other two bandits and their arrest will follow soon.

Cameraman Gets Inside
In Guise of Physician
(By Associated Press)

ROME, March 28.—The hard and fast rule of Cardinal Gasparri, inflexibly enforced by the Swiss Guards, that no photographers were to be allowed inside of Saint Peter's on the day of the coronation of Pope Pius, the Eleventh, was broken at least once.

The staff photographer of an English newspaper, wearing a top hat and bearing a beautiful leather valise, presented himself at the bronze gates when the crush was at its height. "No cameras allowed," the huge Swiss guard informed him, in a tone of finality.

"Camera, nothing," responded the photographer, haughtily, "this is a medicine case, please let me pass that I may render aid to the injured inside."

"Pass right in, doctor," the Swiss guard said, humbly.

"Blue Boy," Gainsborough's Masterpiece, Completes Trip

"Blue Boy," Gainsborough's masterpiece, for which Henry D. Huntington is said to have paid $850,000, arrived a few days ago at its owner's home at San Marino, Calif., near Los Angeles, according to press dispatches.

Guarded night and day on its trip west and accompanied by Sir Joseph Duveen, a member of the firm which purchased the painting from the Duke of Westminster, the picture has made its trip from England with a stayover in New York, where it was exhibited.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never discolours and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stings sciatica, lumbago, headache and neuralgia. Linger up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you will be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Advertisement.

Intervention—If Necessary

America To Help Brazil Celebrate

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—Plans for the United States government's part in the Brazilian international centennial exposition are going steadily forward. Eighteen countries have agreed to help Brazil celebrate her hundred years of freedom from Portugal next September, and Rio de Janeiro, where the festivities and the exposition are to be held, is already the scene of busy preparations.

The president and the secretary of state some time ago accepted Brazil's invitation for the United States to take part in the exposition. Congress appropriated $1,000,000 for the expenses of a United States exhibit, and the day President Harding left Washington for his Florida trip, legislation was enacted to permit a commission of five to represent the United States government at the centennial celebration, beginning Sept. 7, next. The president is expected to appoint this commission at an early date.

The Brazilian affair is the first serious attempt at a big international exposition in South America. At first the Brazilian government expected to have only a short celebration of the hundredth anniversary of independence. Later it was decided to have exhibits showing the progress of Brazil in her hundred years of freedom, and plans for this modest exhibit rapidly assumed ambitious proportions as the enthusiasm of the Brazilians grew, until now the exposition is expected to be a tremendous spectacle.

It was expected originally to hold the exhibition from Sept. 7 to Dec. 15. Then as the plans began to take in foreign countries the date was extended several times, and now the Brazilian government expects to keep the exposition open until March 31.

One Commission Named
President Harding has appointed a commission of four men and a woman to work under the Department of State in making arrangements for the exhibits from this country. The head of this commission, Mr. D. C. Collier, is in Rio de Janeiro now. The other four members, headed by Frank A. Harrison, deputy commissioner general in Mr. Collier's absence, are working in this country, with headquarters at Washington.

Construction on the building which is to house the United States exhibits is already started. Brazil has taken part in eight expositions held in the United States, and she has been represented by some fine buildings. At the St. Louis exposition the Brazilian building attracted so much attention that instead of scrapping it when the fair was over, Brazil had it taken down and shipped to Rio. Then it was put together again for use as the House of Deputies. As a compliment to the United States it was called the Monroe Palace, after the author of the Monroe Doctrine.

The United States now has the opportunity to return the compliment. The building which we erect to represent the United States is not to be one of the flimsy, ornate structures typical of expositions. Out of the million dollar fund this country has bought the land on which its exhibition building is to stand and is erecting a $300,000 building of permanent construction and in the style of architecture favored by Rio de Janeiro. It is to be two stories high, built of stone and stucco, with the usual patio in the center.

After the exposition the exhibit will become the American Embassy. This makes our part in the Brazilian exposition a very practical investment. In the past, structures at fairs have often been of such temporary character and so cheaply built that the materials were not worth salvaging. The money spent for such buildings was an outlay without any direct return. At Rio, the United States is to create a beautiful background for its panorama of progress and at the same time it will acquire a much needed government building. We own only a few embassies and legations; it is claimed that the Brazilian embassy is to be the finest of these.

To Prevent Duplication
Representatives of the ten government departments are holding meetings to plan for the exhibits to be sent by this government, so that there will be no duplication. There will be many exhibits from the Department of Agriculture, for Brazil is greatly interested in this industry, and our department does wonderful experimental work. Perhaps a few of the demonstrators from the extension service may be sent to show the Brazilian women some of the applied science that is available to American housewives.

The Brazilian people will be interested also in our forest work, our system of public parks and reservations, our mining methods, and the life saving work of our coast guard. There will be small displays from the army and navy, and probably one or more

"TIZ" FOR ACHING,
SORE, TIRED FEET

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buy a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

If You Have Any Building Plans

You want to look into the question of concrete construction.

This spring, if you are intending to put up a garage, add a porch to your house, lay a walk, put a new floor in the cellar, or anything of that sort, remember that it is possible for you to do it yourself at a minimum of cost.

Concrete mixing, making the necessary forms, and laying the concrete for things of the sort mentioned are easy if you follow simple directions. The booklet contains also many valuable suggestions for uses of concrete.

Any of our readers can have, entirely free, a copy of a valuable booklet containing the necessary directions. The booklet contains also many valuable suggestions for uses of concrete.

To secure a copy, just fill out and mail the coupon below. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Be sure to write your name and address clearly on the lines of the coupon.

(Do not send the coupon to The Palladium. Mail it direct to Washington, D. C.)

only from the government point of view. The exhibits which are sanctioned by congress and paid for out of the treasury may be of government work only. Some of them show that the government is doing in commercial ways, as in the displays of the Department of Commerce, but there may be no display of private enterprise in the government building. American private concerns will be represented.

Brazil is eager to have the United States well represented at the exposition. To further the trade relations between the two countries the Brazilian government has sent Senhor Sebastiao Sampaio, commercial attaché and member of the consular service, to visit the principal cities of the United States. He is now traveling in this country and speaking in the cities on the possibilities and the importance to the United States of South American trade relations. Senhor Sampaio is also instructed by the Brazilian government to inform himself and his government regarding the commercial development of this country. Brazil hopes to turn her centennial celebration to very practical account.

That's What You Call Service—
When you've been on the lookout for a more comfortable and quieter room for the past month and you've been following the "Room For Rent" signs that you notice along the streets—but without finding any signs of what you want—

And you keep up your hunt, without ever getting very near to your idea of the right kind of a "home for one"—a neat little room, attractively furnished and in a quiet neighborhood—

Because all the rooms at which you look don't seem to be any great improvements on the one you're ready to tell the world that it isn't anything to write home about—

And you decide that there just AREN'T any good rooms for rent in the city—until you happen to look through the "Rooms and Board" column in the Palladium's Classified Section—

And you have to change your mind so quickly that it almost makes you dizzy, because there are a lot of real opportunities that you never even suspected and you go out to look the best ones over and step right into the place you've been wanting all the time—

Oh Man, That's What You Call Service!
