

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL OF VICTORY, DECLARE SPEAKERS AT LIBERTY

LIBERTY, Ind., March 31.—Benard B. Shively, of Marion, speaking at a Democratic meeting held here Thursday evening, declared that the internal dissension in the Republican party over the rival candidacy of Senator New and Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, both of whom are striving for the Republican nomination, would result in a triumph for the Democratic party.

Jess Stevens had charge of the meeting. About 250 persons were seated at the table. Many were turned away.

Mayor James A. Clifton, of Connersville, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, spoke of the party prospects. The work of the party was reviewed by Daniel W. Simms, of Lafayette, a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Sam Taube, of Rushville, and Walter Meyers of Indianapolis, were other speakers.

Favors Direct Taxes

Bernard B. Shively, in his address, declared for a more equitable distribution of taxes. Stating that he was in favor of direct instead of indirect tax, he said: "I have nothing to conceal. I would raise the bulk of the revenues as being more nearly equitable through rich and poor alike than through direct instead of indirect tax. I would levy this toll on possession rather than consumption. I would lift in a considerable measure the burden of the four million from the backs of those who have not and let it be borne by those who have."

"In taking this position we would not be penalizing thrift and industry, but rather our country would be taking its just due for making it possible for such fortunes to be accumulated."

Farm Problem

"My friends, the farm problem challenges our sympathy and our patriotism alike. They were the first to suffer and the last to recover from the effects of the war. By forces beyond his control he saw his markets gutted, prices slashed, and five billions of values destroyed in a year and a half. Is it not sickening for him to know that a saucer of oatmeal costs a bushel of oats? How demoralizing a fact it is, that the average farmer's wage per hour is 15 cents and his yearly income $450."

Simms Speaks.

Daniel Simms, of Lafayette said: "Compare and contrast the farm, commercial and industrial condition prevailing under the Wilson administration with the prevailing and unprecedented conditions now hanging like a millstone about the neck of the party in power. Let us take up the work where the people left off when they chose a Republican congress in 1918."

"I am earnestly seeking this nomination because I believe I know a great opportunity for real service to you, the state and the nation."

Walter Myers declared for better cooperation with the world in restoring peaceful conditions and economic stability. He said in part: "There will be no domestic prosperity till there is general prosperity throughout the world, and there can be no general prosperity while the greatest nation of them all stands aloof in economic isolation."

"The Republican party has not only prevented a working association among other civilized nations, but it has utterly failed in effecting any other means of accomplishing the same result. It has bungled the tax question, botched the soldier's adjusted compensation, mended up the traffic question, and tangled government activities hopelessly. It will, therefore, be called to the bar of public opinion to show cause why better conditions do not prevail."

Everyday Ad-Ventures

When you've lost the services of a very good "day's work woman" who has gone to take a steady position with someone else and you've been getting along the best you could—

Giving your wash out to one woman and having another come in to do some cleaning and not getting a day off from cooking, yourself, because you can't find any one who can cook as well as clean and wash—

And as you think over the excellencies of the departed Mattie, who used to take everything off your hands on Tuesdays and Fridays, and the hopelessness of your present outlook—

You find yourself wondering if a Help Wanted ad in the Palladium mightn't stir up another household angel for you and you give 234 a ring—

And That Changes Everything! Because next day, right after your ad appears, you begin to have calls from likely-looking day's workers and by the time you're through with your interviews you've picked out a woman with good references who bids fair to make you forget all about the wonderful Mattie!
