He put up a fine effort and if he had had any help defense, the score would have been much lower. Harold had helped in the two other games and two held the score down fine.

Fahrner and Newtought hard to get started toward march to the goal, but their effort always were quelled by the Richmond defense.

EXPECT BATTLE ROYAL WILL PROVIDE FUN

Officials of the Dayton-Richmond Athletic club expect a large turn-out of women at the show to be staged Monday night at the Coliseum.

Jim Holland, announcer for the show, sees to it that everything is conducted in an orderly manner, and there is nothing said or done at the shows being staged under this club's auspices to offend anyone. The shows are clean throughout.

With the securing of the Coliseum for the boxing programs, better accommodations can be offered those who wish to attend the bouts. The club extends special invitation to women to attend its shows.

Monday night's card is one of the best that has been offered locally for some time. Young Webb, Dayton welterweight, is slated for a ten round argument with Mike Moran of Indianapolis, as the main event. Johnny Lucas, flyweight champion of Ohio, will figure in the semi-final with Bud Hill of Dayton, as his opponent. Willie Estes of Eaton, will mix things with Al O'Connell, of Dayton.

The first event on the program will be a battle royal between five colored boys. This event itself should be worth the price of admission. Although the club has gone to much expense in staging this show, the prices will remain at the popular mark. Tickets are now on sale at the downtown smokies.

Monday night's show will commence promptly at 8:30 o'clock and the usual promptness in running off the bouts will prevail.

FIGHT GLADIATORS DESTROY OPPONENTS WITHOUT SOLID HITS

By FRANK G. MENKE

The American prize ring knows three ring gladiators who lack the fistic power to crush an egg-shell—and yet have destroyed the championship ambition of some of the greatest fighters the game of today has produced.

It knows them as Pal Moore, Johnny Dundee and Harry Greb—ring freaks, jumping jacks, slappers, powder puff kids—and "destroyers."

There is not spectacular fighting; theirs is not the sort of battling which brings an audience to its feet with a frenzied tumult of cheers. Rather, they fight in thrills-less fashion, provoke jeers more than cheers on certain occasions—but they fight to win—and do win.

Moore, a bantam, has whipped so many champions and near champions in no decision clashes that it would take a large adding machine to arrive at the total. If he's hit any of the whole group one solid smash in all these fights, it escaped the eye of the cash customers.

Dundee Can't Hit.

Dundee has fought nearly 600 times. He can't hit—his blows lack power. He is not a clever boxer. But Dundee is courageous; he is fast foot, fast of arm, a freak in his ring actions—and he has a brain attuned to grasp every opportunity. He is thinking all the time—ob-t-think-ing his foe-man. And so he wins.

He fought Charlie White in Chicago the other night, new hit the famous Chicago slugger one solid whack, never damaged White through any round of the fighting. Yet he won the decision—without much trouble.

But White never landed. And it was simply because Dundee outwitted him. Just as soon as he saw Charlie stepping off, and measuring, he'd jump in, land a light tap—and clinch. Through all the rounds it was the same story. Jab—clinch—jab—clinch. And because jabs and taps do count as points in behalf of a fighter, Dundee was given the decision.

Then there's Harry Greb—the windmill from Pittsburgh. He scored over Tom Gibbons in New York after Gibbons had won 24 fights in a row—about 23 with knockout blows. He went 15 rounds with a man who had crushed every other foe-man through the past year—and that man never really landed a solid blow against Greb. The reason was that Greb, marvel of energy, never gave Gibbons a chance to "set." Leaping, whirling, twisting, turning, he was a fast moving target. He avoided long range battling with all the shrewdness that was within him. He knew Gibbons could reach him then—and perhaps rattle him to the canvas.

Brooklyn Is Happy Over Yankee Defeat

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 31.—Brooklyn commuters were happy this morning, and spoke patently to residents of Manhattan after they had read the result of yesterday's baseball game between the Dodgers and the Yankees. The Dodgers got the decision by a tally of 4 to 1 in the tenth.

The Memphis team of the Southern league could do little with the pitching of Douglas and Ryan, of the Giants and the McGraw clan won 4 to 0. Frisch hit a long drive in the fourth and sent in a run that eventually proved sufficient to win the game. The teams meet again today at Jackson, Miss.

Pirates Will Tackle College Nine Today

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, March 31.—The Pittsburgh Pirates invaded the capital of Arkansas yesterday after a varied experience in railroad transportation, according to information forthcoming from Little Rock. Wet weather postponed the game scheduled with the Travelers, however, and the best that Manager Gibson's men could do was to work out on a soggy field.

The players left for Fayetteville last night, where a game with the University of Arkansas is scheduled for this afternoon.

WINGO WILL CONFER WITH EDDIE ROUSH

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, March 31.—Ivy Wingo, manager of the Colts division of the Cincinnati National league team in two games with Columbus at Evansville, Saturday and Sunday, has wired Eddie Roush to meet him there Sunday. It was stated in dispatches received here.

Wingo said he was not authorized by the club to make any sort of a deal with the holdout centerfielder, but wanted to talk things over with him in a general way. Manager Moran, who took the regulars to Springfield for two games, gave Wingo permission to confer with Roush but no authority to make a definite deal with him, he said.

Kept off the playing field at Joplin yesterday by rain and cold weather, the Reds worked for two hours at the Y. M. C. A. building.

STILL ON WARPATH Is Moses Yellowhorse.

This full-blooded Pawnee Indian still has hopes of becoming as great a big league hurler as the great Chief Bender.

Moses' debut in professional baseball was sudden. It is said that he never had seen a professional game until he was given a tryout by the Little Rock club of the Southern association two years ago. He proved to be the pitching sensation of the league that year, winning something like 21 games and losing only seven.

Then the Pirates grabbed him. Last year he failed to come up to the expectations of some of the Pirates critics, but considering his comparatively brief experience he did well. He is credited with winning five and losing three games. He served as relief hurler in several other games, however.

He is still a youngster in years, being only 21 or 22. His work at the training camp this spring impressed Manager Gibson.

A Fullerton man says he gets two eggs a day from a single hen. His plan is ingenious and might be worth trying on a larger scale, so we print it for the benefit of our suburban readers.

He has arranged a mirror opposite Biddy's nest, so that when she hops off and cackles she sees in the glass what she supposes is another hen cackling. This arouses her jealousy and not to be outdone by a supposed rival, she jumps back on the nest and lays another egg.

Without Doc Harold in the line-up the Muncie team looked very poor in the game Thursday night. DeWitt was substituted in Doc's place but failed to put up the brand of game for which "Old Reliable Doc" is known.

Richmond played polo like real champs Thursday night and the Muncie crew never had a chance. The offense was working good and the defense was the best ever. Sox Quigley and Evans covering the Muncie forwards as soon as they came into the scoring zone.

George Eversman, local high school graduate, who is making such a good showing in Purdue athletics has clinched a place in the outfield on the Boilermakers' baseball squad. Eversman played on the team last season in the outfield.

Garvy Cravath, formerly manager of the Philadelphia National league team and of the Salt Lake City club in the Pacific coast league, will leave the latter club and join the Minneapolis association team next week. He will act as a reserve player and a scout for the Millers.
