GRAIN PRICES

(Markets by E. F. Leland & Company, 212 Union Bank Building.)

CHICAGO, March 31.—Wheat was under pressure most of the day and with support lacking, a lower range on prices, easily was reached. Long wheat came out freely through commission houses and with the inside May was nearly 3 cents lower. Outside support was not large, and the heavy long from the start was added to by weakness at Winnipeg and by the continued rains all over the grain belt. There was a rally along about noon on buying of the same character as that yesterday. As soon as it was finished, market appeared to be without support. Cash market steady. There was no export business reported. Country offerings light. Weather wet everywhere.

Corn—Corn was lower with wheat and closed weak. The bulk of trading was of local character. A fair export demand for corn was reported. Cash markets steady to one-half higher.

Oats—Trade in oats was very light today, strong early, but closed weak. The bearish sentiment in wheat had its effect on oats. The continued cold and wet weather is delaying seeding. A private report suggests a decrease of around 5 per cent in the acreage. Domestic demand slow. Cash markets about unchanged.

STUDENTS AND FRIENDS ATTEND SHORT RITES FOR MISS NICHOLSON

Short services for Miss Grace Nicholson, instructor of piano in the Earlham college music department, who died suddenly in the college hospital Thursday noon, were held at the parlors of Pohlmeier, Downing, Stegall and company Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Backus, pastor of the Grace M. E. church. A number of Earlham students and instructors were present.

Miss Nicholson's father, Bishop Thomas Nicholson, of Chicago, arrived in Richmond Friday morning. After the short services he left with the body of his daughter on the 10:45 o'clock train for Chicago. Miss Nicholson's mother and sister will join the father at Chicago. The body will be taken to Mount Vernon, Iowa, where funeral services and burial will be held Saturday afternoon.

Bishop Nicholson formerly was president of Cornell college of Mount Vernon and has a home at that place. Burial will be near the college.

Express Grief.
A simple and impressive chapel Friday morning at Earlham expressed the grief felt by the student and faculty over the sudden death of Miss Nicholson. The usual chapel hour was cut short and the students were allowed to go to their rooms for meditation before the next class hour.

Dr. Allen D. Hole in a few short remarks expressed the regret felt over the death of Miss Nicholson and extended the sympathies of the entire college to the relatives. Although he was not able to announce definite arrangements Dr. Hole stated that further memorial exercises would be held at the opening of school after the spring vacation. Dr. Alexander Purdy, of the biblical department, read a scripture passage. A period of silent prayer followed after which the students were allowed to go to their rooms.

Suddenness Unusual.
Coroner Bond said death was caused by cerebral embolism, probably due to the extraction of an infected tooth a week ago. There was nothing mysterious about the death, he said, but its suddenness was unusual in medical cases, causing the college authorities to ask for an investigation.

MORE WOOL BUYING DURING PAST WEEK

(By Associated Press)

BOSTON, March 31.—The commercial bulletin tomorrow will say:

"There is a little more buying of wool chiefly of a speculative way as the week closes, but prices are showing some slight decline from those of a week ago. On the whole the market still is quiet from the recently top prices; values now are down about 5 to 10 per cent in this market.

The situation at the mills is very much mixed and with the strike out look bad and the demand for cloth very limited, there is little in the immediate prospect to encourage business. The manufacturers are still doubtful about the tariff outcome also which does not help business especially.

"A little consignment business is reported from Arizona but otherwise it is quiet."

INTEREST IN POLITICS AND W. C. T. U. WORK SHOWN AT ECONOMY

Lively interest in the coming primaries and keen enthusiasm over the work of their organization are leading topics among the delegates attending the county institute of the Women's Christian Temperance union at Economy. Speakers are urging the members to stand behind the W. C. T. U.'s principals of law enforcement and are asking them to back candidates in the coming election who are allies of the dry forces.

A band of about 50 women, who were present at the opening session of the institute, had swelled to a throng of over 200 which packed the Methodist church at the evening meeting Thursday. The Rev. George G. Hughes, of this city, was the chief speaker at the afternoon session. Approximately 100 persons were in attendance at the Friday sessions of the institute. Many local persons were in Economy Friday to be present at the closing meetings.

Weather Cuts Attendance

Incllement weather dealt a severe blow to the attendance at the opening session Thursday morning, only about 50 persons being there. Reports were made and the following committees appointed: Membership, Mrs. Lou Atkinson, chairman; Mrs. Anna Morrison and Mrs. Esther Steward, press committee; Mrs. S. W. Hodgkin, chairman; Miss Mary Woodard, of Fountain City, and Mrs. Maude Winder, of Richmond, committee for Union Signal and Young Crusader (national papers); Mary Woodard, chairman; Mrs. Charles, of Economy, and Mrs. Emma Hiatt, Resolutions committee; Mary Woodard, chairman; Mrs. S. W. Hodgkin, Mrs. Ruth Pemberton Brown, of Richmond, and Mrs. Maude Sweet Winder, of Richmond, committee for the presentation of the state plan of work at the opening of the institute.

Mrs. Ruth Pemberton Brown of this city had charge of the devotionals at the Thursday afternoon meeting. She also gave a reading. F. F. Riggs, of Richmond spoke briefly at the session, stressing the importance of the primary elections. Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, state president of the W. C. T. U., who is presiding at the institute, was also a speaker on the program.

The Rev. George G. Burbanck who gave the chief address at the Thursday afternoon gathering spoke on "Need of Social Morality in Wayne County." His address follows in part:

"Temptation Needed. C. T. U
