

RICHMOND DISTRICT METHODIST REPORT BEST EVER COMPILED

What is declared to be the best report the Richmond district has ever presented will be read at the annual conference of North Indiana Methodists, to be held in Elkhart for one week, beginning Tuesday.

In addition to this encouraging report, it is also believed that with the excellent made, all pastors of Richmond, including the Rev. Dr. Somerville Light, district superintendent, will be returned for another year.

Dr. Light is closing his seventh year as superintendent of the Richmond district, and providing he is returned he will enter into a longer service in one district than ever enjoyed by a superintendent in the North Indiana conference. Before coming to Richmond Dr. Light served for six years in another district. Another year here would make his total years of service as superintendent 14, the greatest length of service by any superintendent now serving in the Indiana area.

Membership Increase.—The Richmond district during the year just closing totals over 1,000. Total amount of contributions is approximately $140,000, about $20,000 more than last year.

One of the achievements pointed out by Methodists of the Richmond district is the raising of $38,000 of the $40,000 pledged for the preachers' aid department. This $164,000 is to be raised in five years. Over one-third of it has already been paid in one year after the pledges were made. It is also announced that the home and foreign mission societies in the district have made good gains, and that the aid societies have raised $25,000 during the year closing.

Dr. Light was to leave for Elkhart Monday evening. The Rev. A. H. Backus, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, and the Rev. E. L. Gates, pastor of the Third M. E. church, are to leave Tuesday morning, and the Rev. R. W. Stokes, pastor of the First M. E. church, was to leave Monday evening or Tuesday morning.

POLICE SPEEDOMETER HAS ONLY 2 SPEEDS

That the touring car owned by the city police department is used to speedy traveling is evidenced by the fact that the speedometer will indicate only two speeds, 15 miles per hour, and 35 miles per hour. A trip in the machine Monday morning disclosed this fact. The machine, of course, is not used to catch speeders, as motorcycles are used for that purpose.

When the starter pedal is engaged, the motor turns over feebly, sputters a moment or two and then takes hold. As soon as the machine is well under way the speedometer hand jumps to 35 and it will remain there indefinitely. Chief Eversman is authority for the statement that once when they were traveling through the country, the hand starts on its second round, and indicates 15 miles per hour, plus the 75 for which it is set.

Famous Picture Memory Contest Conducted for the Community by Richmond Community Service

Raphael (Sanzio) Raphael was born on Good Friday in the year 1483 at Urbino, a little town nestling among the mountains of central Italy. The baby was so gentle and sweet that he was named for the archangel Raphael, the guardian angel of the young.

Raphael's parents died when he was very young. His father was a painter of holy pictures. At an early age Raphael was apprenticed to a painter called Perugino. When Raphael was brought to Perugino the painter looked at his work and said, "Let him be my pupil; he will soon become my master."

Raphael was very handsome. He had kind heart, a sunny temper and a charming smile, and had also the power of attaching to himself many friends.

Raphael lived only 37 years, but in his short life he painted 287 pictures. Many of these are of the Madonna and Child, for this was the subject that he most loved. He was but 25 years old when Pope Julius II called him to leave Florence and come to Rome to do his part in the decoration of the Vatican. Raphael ornamented the walls of four halls in the Vatican with magnificent frescoes. These dealt with theology, philosophy, law and poetry; indeed, he here pictured every subject in which the pope and wise men of his days were interested.

Everywhere we see copies of these great frescoes. Perhaps the one most familiar is "The School of Athens." No copy can show the beautiful color and finish of the small, round picture of "The Madonna of the Chair." The mother wears upon her head a gay Roman scarf, while another is draped about her shoulders. The baby is charming. John the Baptist is pictured also, his hands clasped in adoration as he leans intently forward.

"The 'Sistine Madonna' was the last. 'Holy Family' that Raphael ever painted. It is honored by having a room all to itself in the famous art gallery in Dresden in Germany. Its setting is an altar-like structure upon the base of which a quotation from Vasari identifies the picture and gives us his opinion of it.

Painted for Monks.—For the Black Monks of San Sisto in Piacenza, Raphael painted a picture for the high altar showing Our Lady with St. Sixtus and St. Barbara, truly a work most excellent and rare. At first glance the picture seems small—the forms are less than life size—and to the eyes educated by the Grand Duc and Madonna of the Chair, it appears rather dull in color. Against a background of blue-gray becoming

PEOPLE WONDERING WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH ROYAL GIFTS

(By Associated Press) LONDON, April 3.—The vast number and varied assortment of wedding presents to Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles displayed here caused many people to wonder what the newly-weds would do with the 66 jugs and bowls, 16 silver tea-trays and 22 clocks included in the offerings.

The late King Edward, after his marriage, found himself the possessor of 1,500 teapots of all types and descriptions and of more than 800 cruets. It is reported that some of these are still stored in London.

Only persons who had been presented at court or who could claim acquaintance with either Princess Mary or her husband were permitted to tender wedding gifts on the occasion of the recent royal wedding. Charitable and other public organizations and institutions were, of course, excepted.

This ruling perhaps saved Princess Mary the embarrassment over disposing of teapots and cruets suffered by King Edward.

Gifts Received.—A classification of the gifts exhibited at St. James' palace, shows only 28 tea services were presented. Other items are 158 articles of jewelry, including bracelets, necklaces, pendants, tiaras, brooches, rings, caskets, fans and watches; a tray of flawless uncut precious stones; 833 gifts made from precious metals, including 29 trays, 24 vases, 61 cups, 12 goblets, 18 inkstands, 25 statuettes, 14 card trays, nine cigarette cases, eight traveling cases and seven workboxes; 197 books and manuscripts, 22 candelabra, 11 umbrellas, 14 lamps and shades, 17 rugs, 22 sets of cutlery, eight wall brackets, 36 dinner services, 47 breakfast table services, 18 silver salvers, 70 pairs of gloves, 10 wedding cakes and seven hunting crops.

While correspondents invited to a private view were being shown about the state rooms where the presents were on display, the 22 gift clocks all began the chiming of 6 o'clock at almost the same instant—and the newspaper party was ushered out, as it had been invited to call "between 5 and 6 p. m."

WASHINGTON, April 3.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the Merchants Bank and Trust company, located at Fifteenth and Eighth streets, N. W., one block from the United States treasury. One arrest was made.

warmer toward the center of the picture stands the Virgin. The upper portion of her robe is pink, deepening to red in the shades, over a vest of violet-gray. The lower portion is blue over a skirt of red. The scarf thrown over the shoulders is cream white, the veil flowing from behind the head, is a warm gray. St. Sixtus is clothed in yellow and orange, brocade lined with red flung over a soft under garment of ivory white. St. Barbara's sleeves are of yellow and orange changeable silk with blue between the elbow and the shoulder. Her skirt is gray, the mantle yellow-green. The clouds beneath are of a warm gray. The curtains are dull green, and the green is repeated with red in the wings of the cherubs. "The unity of the whole is much greater in the original than in the reproductions."

"The Sistine Madonna, the sublime lyric of the art of Catholicity," in the opinion of Lubke is and will continue to be the apex of religious art.

The Transfiguration was designed by Raphael as a decoration for the cathedral at Narbonne. As the Assumption was designed by Titian for the church of the Frari.

His Last Picture—The Transfiguration is Raphael's last picture and is now in the Vatican. It is one of the world's masterpieces and is noted for the wonderful face of Christ. Two scenes are represented, a heavenly and an earthly one. Above the mountains in a glory of light, hovers the Savior soaring heavenward. On either side are Moses and Elijah.

The three disciples, Peter, James and John, who have gone up into the mountain with Christ, are dazed by the glory and they have prostrated themselves before the vision. The two figures kneeling at the left are perhaps St. Julian and St. Lawrence, but more probably the father and uncle of the cardinal who ordered Raphael to paint this picture.

We see by contrast below a lunatic boy. He is being brought by father to the nine disciples who are waiting below. They listen with sympathy to the story but they cannot help. Two of them are pointing up to the mountains for there is the "Great Physician" who alone can heal.

While the picture was yet unfinished Raphael was taken suddenly ill and died in 1520. The Transfiguration with some of his other works was left to be finished by his pupils.

A long procession followed his body from his studio to the tomb in the Pantheon. At its head was borne "The Transfiguration," its colors still wet.

GRAVE OF LINCOLN'S GRANDFATHER FOUND, IS GENERAL BELIEF

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3.—The grave of Abraham Lincoln, grandfather of the martyred president, has been found in a church yard near here, in the belief of several Louisvilleans who recently have completed an extensive investigation.

The investigators found two stones—their inscriptions blotted away by long exposure to the elements—which they believe mark the grave of the Emancipator's grandfather who was killed by Indians in 1786 within the sight of his cabin and before the eyes of his three sons.

According to R. C. Ballard Thurston, who has made a preliminary investigation of deeds in the Jefferson county courthouse, the examination warrants the belief the land composing the churchyard is part of the Lincoln property, which included 400 acres.

Additional details of the death of Emancipator's grandfather have been revealed by the investigation, it was stated.

When their fell mortally wounded Mordecai ran to the house and procured a rifle while Josiah darted for a nearby fort to obtain aid. Thomas, then a boy of 9 years, remained with his father.

According to the findings, an Indian seized Thomas and was about to scalp him when Mordecai returned and shot the savage to death. Thomas was released and later became the father of martyred president.

ROLLED STOCKINGS TO LABELS ON CANS, HIGH SCHOOL THEMES

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, April 3.—Subjects ranging from rolled stockings to can labels were dealt with in talks and papers prepared by students at Harrison Technical high school here in connection with a "Better Design for America" program and exhibit at the school. The purpose was explained by Wilbert Anderson, one of the pupils, as "To acquaint the community with the fact that design is used in almost everything we do or make" and that "we should all try to improve it and make its progress more rapid."

"Did you ever see anything more outlandish than a girl with a fur coat, spring hat, rolled silk stockings and galoshes? But that's what they wear," said Loren Rocky, who continued in talk on "Better Design and Dress."

"Still a little further we come to misapplied paint, powder, lip stick and tweezed eyebrows. The young ladies today use some of these and there are few who use them correctly. It is bad enough for the young girls to misapply cosmetics, but when the fellows start to tweeze their eyebrows, it is time to draw the line."

Out of Style.—Young ladies, ear-rings and ornaments have long been out of style. Back in the cave man age they flourished, and by the way some of you dress you seem to wish to resurrect those days."

The desirability of better designs on can labels was urged in a paper by George W. Holt.

"A grocer in our neighborhood," this pupil wrote, "says that the canned goods which have the better designed labels sell much more rapidly and bring more money to him than those which have poorly designed labels. He explains this in the following manner: A customer comes into the store and wants a can of peaches; she looks around and finally says, 'Give me a can of peaches with that good label. Yes, that's it.' If the manufacturer will wake up and use better designs on his labels his sales will increase at least five per cent."

RECORD OF SEN. NEW MERITS CHOICE FOR SECOND TIME, MASON

INDIANAPOLIS, April 3.—The record of Senator Harry S. New, during his first term in the United States senate, fully justified his re-nomination and re-election for a second term as he has ably demonstrated that he has the requisite qualifications, says Augustus Lynch Mason, author of the city charter of the city of Indianapolis, in a statement issued here today in support of Senator New's candidacy.

Mr. Mason is widely known throughout Indiana and the nation. "In 1916 Harry S. New was chosen United States senator because the people of Indiana believed he possessed the requisite qualifications." Mr. Mason's statement sets out. "What was then only a belief is now a demonstrated certainty. Senator New had barely taken the oath of office when he was called to vote upon our declaration of war with Germany and the long series of great statutes designed to give success to American arms. In this memorable crisis, New neither faltered nor blundered. With him, American honor, American rights and American interests were paramount and he gave prompt and effective support to every war measure. He was first a patriot."

After pointing to some of the measures which Senator New has sponsored, Mr. Mason concludes with the statement that "it has been the lot of few senators in their first term to be charged with such responsibilities as was Senator New, and fewer still are those with records of equal sanity, wisdom and patriotism. Is it any wonder that I did in 1916, on my belief in his capacity?"

PALLADIUM WIRELESS AND C. OF C. TO GIVE NEWS TO NEIGHBORS

A special radio service is being perfected by Secretary Tingley, of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, and The Palladium, which will affect all cities and towns within a radius of 100 miles of Richmond. The complete radio-station of The Palladium will be used for the service.

Each day at a certain hour, messages and events concerning Richmond and nearby cities, towns and villages and of interest to the farmers, will be sent out to over 1,500 radio stations in this section. This service will be free.

The first message was to be sent Monday afternoon and was of interest to all cities and towns within a 25-mile radius of Richmond. The message concerned the good-fellowship tour and trade trip, which will be made by about 200 Richmond business men. The tour will be made through Boston, Liberty, Connersville, Milton, Cambridge City, Dublin, Hagerstown, Economy, Lynn, Winchester and Fountain City, during the week of April 17. The purpose of the tour will be to have the business men become better acquainted with their rural neighbors. Secretary Tingley wishes to obtain the co-operation of the surrounding cities and towns to make this section of Indiana the finest place in the world in which to live.

It is hoped that the service will be a great help in building up a feeling of good will and cooperation between the people who live outside of the city limits of Richmond and throughout Wayne county and also important cities in this section.

Will H. Romey, representative of the retail merchants in the Chamber of Commerce membership, probably will lead the tour into the surrounding country.
