

HENRY LANE WILSON SAYS NEW DESERVES RETURN TO SENATE

INDIANAPOLIS, April 4.—Comparing the qualifications of Senator Harry S. New and Albert J. Beveridge, candidates for the Republican nomination for United States senator, Henry Lane Wilson, formerly United States minister to Mexico, in a letter to R. M. Robison of McCordville, praises the record of Senator New and states that, in his opinion, Mr. New is deserving of a second term in the senate because of his first term of faithful service.

After asking what is Mr. Beveridge's attitude on the peace treaties negotiated by the Washington conference and whether "we are to infer from his silence that he is not in agreement with the Harding administration," Mr. Wilson expresses his view by saying that we are in the midst of critical moments and asking:

"Is it not better to hold fast to that which we have and which we know to be safe, rather than to launch into unknown seas at the bidding of a strange captain who really makes an announcement of political loyalty unaccompanied by a qualification of independence?"

Referring to "certain well defined reasons" why Senator New should be returned to the senate, Mr. Wilson says:

"For his services rendered to the agricultural interests of the United States, and, incidentally, of course, to the agricultural interests of Indiana. These services are eloquently recognized by Senator Capper, the head of the group actively espousing the interests of agricultural interests in the senate. Senator New has not only voted for all farm measures, but he has worked actively and incessantly to bring about their enactment into law."

Services to Soldiers

"For his services to the soldiers of the late war. As every Indiana soldier knows, during and after the war, Senator New was unflagging in his devotion to the interest and welfare of the Indiana soldier. No complaint from a soldier remained unanswered. No act of injustice was committed without his protest. By an overwhelming majority the soldiers of Indiana recognize the measure of their obligation to Senator New. If there are those who do not, they have imperfectly studied the record. Senator New, in common with a great body of Republican senators, recognizes the obligation of the country to make some substantial acknowledgement of the services of our soldiers. He is willing to support any measure which carries with it a provision for raising the money to be paid out."

"Senator New is entitled to the support of the women of Indiana because of his unvarying support in the senate of all measures securing the political and civil equality of women. No measure offered in good faith and sponsored by respectable woman's organizations has failed to receive his support in the senate. Senator New, therefore, by all the laws of fair play, is entitled to the support of the women voters of the state of Indiana."

Debt of Gratitude

"The business men and the laboring man, and all the common interests of society in this state, owe a deep debt of gratitude to Senator New for his genuine interest in, and active support of, all measures aimed to promote the general welfare, to enlarge the market for labor, to reduce public expenditures, to aid in the directing of national affairs into normal channels, to relieve as far as possible burdens borne by business and commerce, to promote the growth and protect the practice of public morals and nonsectarian religion."

COLORED PIANIST TO APPEAR AT EARLHAM

Prof. Samuel B. Garton, of Earlham college, has announced a piano recital to be given in Lindley Hall auditorium Friday evening, April 14, by Hazel Harrison, a very remarkable colored pianist.

Miss Harrison has had an unusual career as a pianist. She has played with the Chicago Symphony orchestra and the Berlin, Germany, Philharmonic. She is so unusually gifted that instructors have sought the privilege to instruct her and she has never had to pay tuition for her musical education.

Many of her own race, it is said, go to her concerts, but it is an unusual event where the audience is not largely composed of the best musicians in the community.

The concert at Earlham is open to the general public and tickets are now on sale at Fulghum's Victrola shop. No seats will be reserved. Tickets are 50 cents.

Light Socket All That's Needed for Radio Concert

How to get radio music or message by just using an electric light socket is being demonstrated above by Miss Alice Slevin, of the Manhattan Supply Company. This method, invented by Major Gen. Squier, U. S. A., chief signal officer, does away with the usual receiving antennae. He conceived the idea less than week ago.

Wireless News From Everywhere

Palladium Government Call is 9ZAE.
Fred Clark, Operator.

Two books in which amateurs will be much interested are the recently published "Principles Underlying Radio Communication Signal Corps Pamphlet No. 40, price one dollar; and the commercial, government and special station call book. The latter costs 15 cents, and both may be obtained from the superintendent of documents at Washington.

"Commercial and Government Radio Stations of the United States," also has the regulations, signals and abbreviations.

Pamphlet No. 40 contains 60 pages of complete instruction of radio and equipment, with 300 illustrations, mostly photographs. It describes apparatus, gives circuit diagrams and has a number of tables.

Wireless College Degrees.
School instruction by wireless telephone lectures seems to be the latest use of radio, the University of Michigan, Tufts college in Massachusetts, and the high schools in Chicago, having made preparations to give lectures by radio.

In the Chicago schools, one set already has been installed in the board of education building by the Austin high school class. Students in the school are making 50 sets which will be used to listen in on special lectures. One professor in each subject may be able to handle all the night classes by radio, it is stated.

The University of Michigan proposes to broadcast the spring graduation exercises at which Secretary Hughes will make an address. An extension course of lectures is being given by university authorities over the Detroit News phone now.

Tufts college plans to give 30-minute lectures in such fashion that listeners may take notes.

Query: How can a radio lecturer call down an inattentive pupil? And what is the yell of the wireless college?

Making Friends by Wireless.

European countries are getting acquainted via wireless. An audience in the Champs-Elysees theatre in Paris lately listened to a concert at St. Asise in Italy, and the royal family in Belgium listened a little later to some of the most noted singers of Paris at the Eiffel tower station. Possibly wireless may serve to dissolve misunderstandings and prevent the wars.

French Broadcasting.

France is planning to broadcast agricultural information, weather forecasts and news items from the Eiffel tower and a movement is on foot to equip all French communities with listening sets.

New Paris Sets.

Fred Brandenburg put his set to good use last week when he ran a wire to the bedside of a sick child a block from his home and gave a free wireless concert.

A single strand of No. 18 bell wire was used, phones and set being grounded to complete the circuit.

Bill Wren also is reported to have heard a number of stations on bed spring aerial. A Clapp Eastham tuner was used.

Appreciation of Amateurs

The members of the large commercial radio companies, regarded with such apprehension by many amateurs, really have a strong appreciation for the service and experimentation by

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless) and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement. They bring quick results.
