

MAN WHO ACCEPTED CHECK FROM ALLEGED FORGER IS THANKED

EATON, Ohio, May 1.—"Thanks awfully for cashing checks," reads an art postcard signed "J. H. Moore," which was mailed in Richmond, Ind., and received here by J. A. Harshman, groceryman, who a few days ago cashed a spurious check for $10, made payable to and indorsed by "J. H. Moore." Other local merchants cashed checks for similar amounts for "Moore." The checks supposedly were issued by two managers of local cream receiving stations.

The postcard received by Harshman bears the figure of a man with all his pockets turned wrong side out, and this inscription: "This town has other towns skinned out of sight—and strangers skinned out of cash."

The signature of "Moore" on the postcard and on the checks are not similar. Harshman has received the amount of the check he cashed from the main offices of a creamery company in Greenville, as also has M. McIntyre, local merchant, who cashed one of the checks. The two checks bore the genuine signature of the manager of one of the local receiving stations, it is said, as he is said to have left several signed blank checks to be used by a girl employee of the station during his temporary absence.

Granted Divorce

Married in Newport, Ky., in September, 1915, Edna Roberts has been granted a divorce from Lowell Roberts upon grounds of cruelty and neglect, and awarded custody of their three children. The decree was granted by Judge A. C. Risinger in common pleas court. Roberts is enjoined from interfering with his former wife or the children.

Company Enters Suit

Suit has been entered here in common pleas court by the Dickinson Trust company of Richmond, Ind., against A. R. Hawley, doing business in New Paris at the Hawley Auto Sales company, to recover $7,042 allegedly to represent a balance on a note for $7,220. C. A. Hawley is surety on the note, it is averred by the trust company, and he is a defendant to the action.

Sold By Sheriff

Sold Saturday at sheriff's sale, on a foreclosure of mortgage proceeding, a 57-acre farm in Twin township, belonging to John Dillman, brought $4,000 and was purchased by H. A. Klepinger, who held a second mortgage on the realty and who brought the foreclosure action.

Suit Is Settled

The Jacob A. Inman-James M. Lackey suit has been settled and dismissed, according to an entry in the case from the appellate court. Terms of the settlement are not given. Inman was awarded judgment for $249 by a common pleas court jury, a mortgaged corn crop being involved. Lackey took the case on error to the higher court, after which it was settled.

Addressed Church Session

Miss Edna McChristie, of Cincinnati, associate judge of juvenile court of Hamilton county, addressed a union church meeting here Sunday night in the Presbyterian church. She presented an interesting review of her work. The meeting was arranged by the local Ministerial association.

Grand Jury Convenes

The grand jury for the May term of common pleas court convened this morning. It is thought the jury will be in session at least two days. There are seven cases on the criminal docket for investigation. It is probable some cases will be brought before the jury on information. County Prosecutor R. G. Sever is directing the work of the body.

Annual commencement exercises of the Dixon township schools will occur Wednesday in the township school building. Monroe township schools will have their commencement exercises Thursday.

Woman Commission Member

The Probate County Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief commission now has a woman member, the first time in the history of the commission. Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds, of Eaton, has the distinction of being the first woman appointed to membership on the commission. Common Pleas Judge Abel Risinger made the appointment.

Mrs. Reynolds succeeds T. B. Sturr on the commission and she was named to serve until April 1, 1925. Two Civil war veterans, J. I. Paris and G. W. Longnecker, are the other members of the commission.

Mrs. Reynolds is the widow of Roddie Reynolds, who served in the navy. She has long been prominent and active in local civic activities and club work; is a charter member of the local W. R. C. and has been honored with membership and official positions on national organizations of a patriotic character. She is a member of the D. A. R.

Why Jacob Tore His Shirt

One day when Jacob went out to play with the other boys and girls he was greatly embarrassed when a great rent was torn in his shirt.

This occurred because Jacob's mother used soap that was too strong while doing the family wash and the material in the garment was damaged. The Department of Agriculture has issued an illustrated booklet on the subject of home laundrying which tells how any housewife may apply tests to soaps which will tell whether they are too strong or too mild, and warn her of the effects they may be expected to have on cottons, silks or woolsens.

This is a free booklet, and our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for anyone who writes for it. Use the coupon, write plainly, and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage.

(Do not send the coupon to The Palladium. Mail it direct to Washington, D. C.)

Beauty Chats

By Edna Kent Forbes

Simple lotions can be made at home

Glycerine plays a most valuable part in making the various emulsions, creams and milks sold to beautify the complexion. To make best use of glycerine its nature should be properly understood, for it is very drying and can be as harmful as it is valuable. An emulsion is a milky looking lotion which holds a certain amount of fat in suspension, and which, though almost free from alkali, is as cleansing as soap. As fats tend to become rancid an antiseptic must be used with them. Glycerine is not only antiseptic but it prevents the separation of the various oils and waters used in emulsions. It also possesses cosmetic properties of its own.

Glycerine must never be used by itself. It takes up so much water from the skin that it will make it smart and burn, possibly even grow red and rough. For ordinary complexions it should be diluted with the same amount of perfumed water—rose water, violet water or orange flower water are generally used. For very sensitive skins one-third glycerine to two-thirds perfumed water is best.

Glycerine is so bleaching that it is ideal to use for sunburn and freckles. One of the best bleaches I know is one part glycerine, one part lemon juice and one part rose water. If the skin is so sensitive that this solution dries or burns the complexion more rose water should be added so that it is half the solution. This bleaching lotion is also good for keeping the hands white.

Margie C.—Any oil on the eyebrows will make them appear darker. Brush the brows into a straight line instead of having them pulled out. To do this, you first brush them with an upward motion and then with a very light motion brush them from the forehead downward. This brings all the hair into a line and all that is needed is to shape the brow with the finger tip.

or do it with another light touch from the brush.

Bobbie!—As you are only 18 years of age the white hairs that you find occasionally are likely only dead ones and will drop out; however, it shows that your scalp is in need of treatment. If you would like a tonic for this send stamped addressed envelope and I will mail you a formula. Massage the scalp every night.

All inquiries addressed to Mrs. Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a
