

PLAN WEEKLY BIBLE CLASSES FOR CITY; WORK IS OUTLINED

Once a week, in all parts of the city, classes will be studying the different chapters of the Bible, as a result of the Billy Sunday campaign.

Thursday morning at the tabernacle, Miss Florence Kinney, of the Sunday party, gave a demonstration class session, covering the first chapter of Acts and outlined the objects and purposes of the weekly meetings.

Rev. A. H. Backus, pastor of Grace M. E. church, who was in charge of the Bible study work during the Sunday campaign, is to be continued for the time as a general manager, and under his direction the city is to be divided into sections just as was the case under the neighborhood prayer meeting organization.

Several groups already have been organized, and have chosen their leaders, and a number of groups in the outlying districts and nearby towns also have been started. These last groups also will be made a part of the local organization.

Leaders Selected

Leaders for the groups are selected to lead meetings for at least a month and will meet twice a week at one of the churches, to be selected later, for preliminary work on the chapters and books of the Bible that are to be taken up in the weekly meetings.

"These meetings are for free discussion," Miss Kinney said, "and their value lies in the amount of discussion that comes up. Also, it is important that the meetings hold just for scheduled time."

Miss Kinney gave a short talk on the first chapter of Acts, using as a basis of her talk the following outline:

What is the principal subject of the chapter?
What is the leading lesson?
What was the best verse?
What were the principal persons?
What were the teachings about Christ?
What does it teach me to do?
What does it teach me not to do?
What prayer is there to echo?

SERVICES FOR PRAYER LAST TIME FRIDAY

The following neighborhood prayer meetings are scheduled to be held Friday morning from 10 to 10:30 o'clock.

District 2, Section C—Mrs. Frank Ewing, 714½ South Ninth street; Mr. Cain of the Sunday party.

District 3, Section B—Rev. Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Dressel, 110 South Eleventh street.

District 5, Section A—Mrs. J. Brick, 531 North Eleventh street, Mrs. Wallace Seymour; Section B, Mrs. Harry Hartzler, 532 North Twentieth street, Mrs. Ross; Section E, Mrs. Leonard Moore, 106 N. Twenty-first street, Mrs. L. H. Bunyan, leader; Section H, Mrs. Cliff Haworth, 313 North Seventeenth street, Mrs. Marion Barr; Section K, Mrs. S. C. Champion, 409 North Eleventh street, Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver.

District 6, Section A—Misses Moore, 122 South Sixteenth street, Mrs. Asher; Section D, Mrs. A. E. Schuh; 105 South Twenty-first street, Mrs. Harris.

District 9, Section I and J—Mrs. Marion Mull, 227 Kinsey street, Mrs. G. H. Hollier.

Move Up Forward Boys Hear Rodeheaver

Homer Rodeheaver talked to nearly 250 boys of the Move Up Forward club in the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. The entire group journeyed to the tabernacle following the program under Mr. Rodeheaver. Several selections were played by Chamber Rodeheaver on his trombone.

It is the plan to continue the meetings of the club after the Billy Sunday party has departed.

Tabernacle Notes

PETERSON'S FAREWELL

When Albert Peterson was called up to say good bye to the audience, and the high school boys greeted him with a yell, he didn't have a word to say. He just waited until Bob Matthews began to play "Where the Gates Swing Outward Never," and let it go at that.

WANT PLANTATION SONGS

Every night when Rodeheaver asks for favorite songs, some one demands some plantation songs. The calls are so regular that Rodeheaver will have to add one of them to the program some night soon if he keeps up with the wishes of the audience.

SHOWS DRILL

During the Wednesday night sermon the Rev. Mr. Sunday gave an illustration of an officer drilling a squad, officer, squad and whole army being Sunday himself. He wheeled, did squads right and left, and shoulder arms in true military style, although his words were not always as clear as a real drill officer gets them at times.

TAKES OVER WORK

J. G. Kane, secretary to Homer Rodeheaver, is to take over a part of Albert Peterson's duties while he is home for the funeral of his grandmother. The hymn book stocks will hereafter be under the care of Mr. Kane.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO CARRY ON WORK; THANK MRS. ASHER

The work of the business women's invitation committee is to be continued, to carry on projects that were started during the Billy Sunday campaign.

Mrs. Wilson D. Scott, who has been head of the department for the Sunday campaign, was elected as permanent chairman at a meeting at the Reid Memorial church Wednesday, while the other officers selected were: Mrs. Maude Winder, first vice president; Mrs. Charles S. Bond, second vice president; Mrs. Sara Jane Copeland, third vice president; Mrs. Lloyd E. Harter, secretary; Mrs. G. A. Richter, assistant secretary and Mrs. W. A. Ellis, treasurer.

Definite time for meetings has not as yet been set, but the committee will report soon.

Resolutions of thanks, drawn up by Mrs. Sara Jane Copeland, chairman, and Effie Afton Hall and Ida Reid Little, in appreciation of the work of Mrs. Virginia Asher, were adopted by the meeting.

The resolution follows: "Whereas, We the members of the Richmond business women's invitation committee of the Rev. William A. Sunday's religious campaign in this city feel deeply and sincerely the worth of Mrs. Virginia Asher's constant, devoted and immeasurable helpful work in our own body toward that end:

"And, Whereas we desire to place on record our own sense of inspiration and achievement due to her wise and inspired leadership:

"Therefore, Be it resolved: "That we, as members of the Richmond business women's invitation committee do hereby assure Mrs. Asher of our great and heartfelt appreciation of her work among us. We recognize that she has made the Bible to us indeed the work of God, and the inspiration of our duty of our daily life.

"We pledge ourselves anew to the service of the Master in the roads that lie ahead. We are thankful to her for her inspiring and inspired companionship, her helpful words, her practical and kindly counsel. Our hearts will go with her when she leaves for work in other fields and we want her to know that among us her memory will always be treasured.

as a precious, sweet and ennobling thing. And with reverent trust and true faith we pledge ourselves to take up her work and to carry it on in the same spirit of consecration and to make our religion a constant force in this community in the years to come.

We would express our appreciation of those who have contributed so kindly in song service and at the piano.

We also extend a vote of thanks to the First Presbyterian and Reid Memorial United Presbyterian churches for their generous hospitality in throwing open their doors for the luncheons, also the churches that have served, and Mrs. J. H. Clements for her efficient management as chairman of the luncheon committee."

LEGION BAND SERVES ON MANY OCCASIONS

Services of the American Legion band will be called into play at the Memorial day celebration at Fountain City, and also at Whitewater, according to the announcement of a band official, Thursday. The band was a creditable feature of the Richmond delegation, in the G. A. R. parade at Connersville, Wednesday.

The American Legion section of the parade was led by the band and J. Don McDaniel, leader, was complimented several times after the parade on the showing made by his organization.

When the band arrived in Connersville, Wednesday morning, it played with the Harry Ray post colors at various downtown points. The band also served as an escort to State Department Commander Claude Gregg, when he arrived at noon.

An evening concert at Central and Sixth streets was much appreciated by the citizens of Connersville.

The bugle and drum corps of Reginald Fisher post, American Legion, at Connersville, was another part of the American Legion section of the parade which made an attractive showing.

$2,680 Grocery Orders Issued to 220 Families

Grocery orders amounting to $2,680, have been issued from the office of Township Trustee J. O. Edgerton since March 27, according to a statement issued Thursday. This sum includes groceries and fuel only. The aid given has been extended to 220 families or an average of $12 per family in eight weeks' time. Families range in size from two to 10 persons and the total is 1,046.

Only the best and most nourishing foods are allowed the persons receiving aid. Staples such as flour, meal, bacon, canned vegetables, sugar, crackers, hominy and rice are allowed the persons seeking aid. Grocers are not allowed to give credit on township orders beyond that allowed in the list furnished them. Should a grocer report the sale of foods not in keeping with the list, his bill is not honored.

A few orders for coal were issued in the case of sickness in the family.

This amount, however, is included in the $2,680.

Co-operation of grocers is a notable feature of the arrangement, said Mr. Edgerton Thursday.

LOSES SEVEN DIAMONDS

MUNCIE, Ind., May 25.—R. C. Wilkerson, ex-manager of a Muncie jewelry store, and now a resident of Fort Wayne, lost seven diamonds valued at several hundred dollars here Wednesday afternoon, an hour after he had taken them from a safety deposit box.

cerned, and for its avoidance of all efforts to cure industrial depression with radical and socialist remedies, which only work greater injuries to the wage earners. The number of unemployed is less than half of that of a year ago; industry is on the upgrade, payrolls are being increased, and the wage earner is assured that relief is at hand."

Praise Records

The records of Senators Harry S. New and James E. Watson, and the Republican members of the lower house, were "unqualifiedly" endorsed and the "earliest possible repeal of the present Democratic tariff law" was favored.

Governor McCray's administration was reviewed at some length and warmly approved in the report. The educational measures, the budget law, the measures governing the construction and maintenance of local highways, and the "blue sky law" were among those commended.

In dealing with the subject of "public funds," the committee wrote: "We favor the return of authority to determine the necessity for issuance of bonds by municipalities to local authorities and recommend a vacation in expenditures of public funds and the creation of public indebtedness."

It went on record as favoring the immediate enactment into law the Dyer bill, making lynching and burning a federal crime.

"Women should have an equal representation and vote in all the legal organizations of our party throughout the state, including the state, district and county committees and the executive committees thereof," declares the plank on party organization, and adds: "We further pledge the Republican organization to give its strongest support and assistance to all women now candidates upon the Republican ticket."

Stand On Education

Holding that a "liberal education is indispensable to the well being and happiness of the people," the report promises a "most careful and sympathetic consideration of the report of the Indiana Education Survey committee, to the end that any school education that may be enacted will be thoroughly sound and in keeping with the best interests of the state. Additional laws to insure the proper home life of the child and increased facilities for the training of mental defective and delinquent children also are favored. A plank on the subject of war veterans reads:

"We acknowledge our indebtedness and the gratitude to the veterans of all wars, many of whom have given to the nation their lives. In innumerable instances many others have sacrificed their health and all have made heavy sacrifices. To those of our veterans who are in pain or in need and to their dependents, we give our sincere assurance that it will be our purpose, as it has been in the past, to aid and assist them. We publicly acknowledge this as the greatest obligation which rests upon our nation which must be met in the true spirit in which their sacrifices were made. We favor federal adjusted compensation for World war veterans."

Want Labor Free

"Republican party was born out of the issue of free labor," continued the committee draft on the subject of "Labor," "and it is pledged to keep labor free by opposing all legislation curbing its lawful activities. x x x The prosperity of labor and capital will be best conserved by government not attempting to regulate their activities, and we are opposed to compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes, but we favor such impartial investigation on the part of the government as will enlist the influence of the enlightened public opinion, believing that such a method is more effective in the settlement of industrial disputes than boards and commissions appointed with arbitrary powers. x x x We reaffirm our faith in the great constitutional guaranty of free and lawful assembly, freedom of the press, freedom of speech and freedom of labor."

Realizing "that the fullest development of our agricultural interests is indispensable to the well-being of our people in state and nation," declares the section on agricultural interests, "we pledge continued support to our farmers to the end that they may have ample reward for their efforts, so that they may bountifully enjoy our state and national prosperity, as they so fully deserve to do."

Favor Farm Aid

"We especially commend the last Republican congress for having passed more righteous legislation in the interest of the farmer than has been passed by any half-dozen preceding congresses."

President Harding and congress also were commended for the passages of the emergency tariff act, which has been a life buoy to our farmers during the trying period of emancipation from Democratic mismanagement."

for amending the Sherman Anti-Trust act, "making possible the formation of co-operating marketing service for farm products," and for reviving the powers of the war finance board," making possible the extension of much needed credit to our farmers."

The eagle was adopted as the emblem of the party.

The report was signed by Roscoe Kiper, first district; Thomas H. Adams, second; Edgar D. Bush, third; F. E. Bear, fourth; Harold A. Henderson, fifth; William A. Bond, sixth; Taylor E. Groninger, seventh; J. B. Horne, eighth; E. E. Pruitt, ninth; Charles E. Greenwald, tenth; Mrs. Frances Beras Gould, eleventh; J. A. Service bureau rooms on North Eighth packer, thirteenth.

TABLE SCRAPS CUT FEED BILL

Poultry Relish Various Waste Foods, but Should Have Grain Feed Also.

If the city flock is to prove an economic success, it must be fed cheaply. All table scraps and kitchen waste should be utilized.

Scraps of meat or left-over vegetables which can not be utilized in any other way make excellent feed. Many other waste products, such as beet tops, turnip tops, carrot tops, potato parings, onion tops, watermelon and cantaloupe rinds, the outside leaves of cabbages, waste lettuce leaves, and bread and cake crumbs are relished by the hens and can be used to good advantage.

In saving the scraps and waste it is well to separate the portions adapted for feeding to the flock and place these in a receptacle or pail of their own. Decomposed waste material or moldy bread or cake should never be saved to feed to the hens, a bit is harmful to them and may cause serious bowel trouble. Sloppy materials, such as dishwater, should not be thrown in to their pail. It is also useless to put in such things as banana peels or the skins of oranges, as these have little or no food value.

Any sour milk which is not utilized in the house should be given to the chickens. This should be fed separately, however, either by allowing it to clabber on the back of the stove and feeding it in that condition. When the family's table waste is not sufficient for feeding the flock, it is usually possible to get some of the neighbors who keep no hens to save material suitable for feeding. Many people are glad to do this if a small pail in which to put the waste is furnished.

Table scraps and kitchen waste are best prepared for feeding by running them through an ordinary household food chopper or meat grinder. After the material has been put through the grinder it is usually a rather moist mass, and it is well to mix with it some corn meal, bran, or other ground grain until the whole mass assumes a crumbly consistency. The usual method is to feed the table scraps at noon or at night, or at both times, as may be desired, in a trough or on a board. All should be fed that the hens will eat up clean, and if any of the material is left after one-half or three-quarters of an hour, it should be removed. If allowed to remain it may spoil and be very bad for the hens.

Need Grain Ration.

The back yard flock should have, in addition to the table scraps, a light feed of grain every morning. Four or five handfuls of grain—about one-half pint—scattered in the litter will be sufficient for a flock of 20 to 25 hens. By handul is meant as much as can be grasped in the hand, not what can be scooped up in the open hand. By scattering it in the litter, the hens will be compelled to scratch in order to find the grain and in this way to take exercise, which is decidedly beneficial to them.

In case not enough good, sound, substantial table scraps are available to furnish full feed of the grain mixture should be thrown into the litter at the night feeding and should consist of as much as the hens will eat up clean. In summer or during suitable weather the grain can be fed by scattering it on the ground outside the house. A good grain mixture for this purpose is composed of equal parts by weight of wheat, cracked corn, and oats. Another suitable grain mixture is composed of two parts by weight of cracked corn and one part of oats.
