

THREE WEEKS' BIBLE SCHOOL TO BE HELD FOR CITY CHILDREN

Richmond is to have another vacation Bible school.

That was the decision reached at a meeting of the City Sunday School association at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night. While all arrangements have not been completed, it already has been decreed that the school will last for three weeks and that N. C. Helton, principal of David Worth Dennis junior high school and head of the vacation Bible school last summer, will be in charge.

So satisfactory were the results of the first school last year that the Sunday schools of the city were anxious for the school to be reopened this year. One centrally located school building will be used to house the school. The senior high school building was used last year.

Prof. Helton will select a corps of competent teachers to assist him in the work. Last year the school had an enrollment of between 180 and 190 scholars, with an average attendance of 130. The children attending last year represented 18 Bible schools of the city.

Limit Attendance
One change to be made in the school this year is the limiting of attendance to children between the ages of nine and 18. It was found that children under nine years did not receive so much from the schooling last year as did the older pupils, said an officer of the City Sunday School association Tuesday.

Parents who wish to have their children take the training are asked to notify their Sunday school superintendents as soon as possible. This will expedite the enrolling of the children and give the association an idea of the number to be cared for.

The exact time for the starting of the school this year has not been decided upon, but the present opinion is that the school will be held from the latter part of June until about the middle of July. Last year the school ran from June 27 to July 15.

It is brought out in urging the attendance of children at the school that the teaching is non-sectarian and under the supervision of Bible school leaders of the city. Textbooks or other matter used is selected by a committee of ministers representing the Ministerial association, and each pastor of the city takes part in the devotional activity at the school each morning during the three weeks.

School is held during the morning only.

Ship Building Activity Booms at Great Lakes

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 6.—With the closing of contracts recently by the American Ship Building company, of Cleveland, for four 600 foot steamers for the Great Lakes trade, a similar sized steamer now under construction at the yards of the Toledo Ship Building company and the 600 footer ordered by the Wilson Transit company, and now being built at the Ecorse yards of the Great Lakes Engineering Works for September delivery, activity has been greatly stimulated at Great Lakes ship building plants. The six new steamers each will have a capacity of about 12,000 tons of ore.

The latest contract with the American Ship Building company was placed by W. H. Warner and company for one steamer, to come out next season. The Pittsburgh Steamship company a few days previously had placed an order with the local company for two 600 foot ore carriers to come out at the opening of next season.

Send Grade Notices To Township Pupils

Grade notices are being sent out from the office of township trustee, J. O. Edgerton to pupils of Wayne township schools. The notices indicate that 95 percent of the seventh grade pupils who took the examination in physiology will pass. Only about 50 percent of the seventh grade pupils who took the geography examination will pass.

It is the custom to have the geography and physiology examinations held separate in order that the pupils may have these subjects cleared out of the way as much as possible for their last year of school.

BLAIR REMOVES TWO MORE FROM REVENUE BUREAU

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Samuel G. Patchell, chief pay roll examiner of the accounts unit of the internal revenue bureau, and Frederick Gollinger, a clerk, have been removed from office by Commissioner Blair. The removals were ordered, it was said at the bureau, on charges that they had removed official papers from the government files.

RADIO NEWS

Palladium Government Call is 9 ZAE — Fred Clark, Operator

One of the most successful and popularizing demonstrations of the practical utility of the wireless telephone was experienced recently in the broadcasting from the Indianapolis Speedway, of the progress and results of the 500 mile race. The two Indianapolis broadcasting stations alternated in sending out the news, one, Hamilton's, having an installation at the race track, the other using the city plant.

Through this means, thousands of auto fans who were unable to attend the races in person, were enabled to follow their favorite driver as the reports on the positions, time and minor delays were given out. A number of wireless receiving sets were in continuous operation in Richmond during the whole time of the race and listeners were enabled to get the results by them from 10 to 20 minutes ahead of the news from any other source.

So successful was the operation of the set at the trackside that listeners were able to plainly hear the cheers of the crowd as a favorite swept by, and even to hear the roar of the exhaust as the cars passed the grandstand.

Bicycle Racers Hear Results
A bicycle race set for Tuesday in Indianapolis had many wireless enthusiasts as entrants and with the information that the auto race results were to be broadcasted, many of these wished to call off the bicycle race in order to hear the broadcast. The difficulty was solved by the loan of a set which was installed at the bicycle race tracks. Not only the cyclists, but also a number of older spectators gathered to hear the auto race results, which proved so interesting that no thought was given to the scheduled wheel race until the end of the Speedway race.

High Score Set
A wireless receiving station has been installed by members of the agricultural class at the Mt. Summit high school, five miles north of New-castle. Weather forecasts, market reports and other information of value, is bulletined in the bank as soon as received.

New Hagerstown Station
A receiving set has been installed at the D. R. Cantmell hardware store in Hagerstown. This store is stocking wireless apparatus and expects to place a number of sets in the Hagerstown territory.

A two-wire antenna, T-type, is stretched over the store building, about 30 feet in height. The set, installed in the back of the salesroom, is equipped with a two-stage amplifier, and several pairs of phones were available for the listeners at the time it was installed and first operated, Monday night. Wilbur Knapp is assisting in the installation.

Both Knapp and George Wogamon are putting up new aerials, Knapp also raising his to a height of 55 feet.

Cambridge City Station
The co-operative Cambridge City station is undergoing additional improvements, the operators expecting soon to be able to open with a 10-watt spark outfit and get into regular communication with neighboring cities. A two-wire flat-top aerial is being used at present, several having been experimented with.

Amateur Telephone
Good results have been reported by Gerard Harrington from the use of his 5-watt C. W. set, both Dayton and Cincinnati having been communicated with by telephone. More distant stations have been worked by code. Memphis, Tenn., and a Chicago radio school are stations he has heard recently on telephone.

Pegg's C. W.
Amateurs in neighboring cities who have been listening regularly report that Pegg's three-tube C. W. set is smashing through in good shape, coming in very loud. Just at present, however, he is out of operation until he can get a new pair of headphones.

A radio listening set was used with success by Harry Stutz in a yachting trip on the Great Lakes recently. The yacht was rigged up with a horizontal loop in the cabin and the guests entertained in leisure hours by the various broadcasts.

New Receiving Circuit
A new circuit, which does not infringe the Armstrong patents, has been announced by Dr. Frances LeRoy Saterlee, an expert on X-Ray. The new circuit is said to give extremely accurate tuning for telephone, with unusual amplification and tone clarity. It has been tested and approved by Maj. Gen. Squier.

Commercial Use of Wireless
The prevention of wrecking of 14 navy ships, by timely warning sent by radio, and the use of wireless in directing shipping, have encouraged shipping authorities to believe that much better and quicker shipping transportation will be possible by its use.

Guidance in fog, warning of storm centers so that they may be avoided, and the prompt transmission of knowledge of missing buoys, which could only be found by inspection by the tenders before, all work to improve sea travel conditions.

Will Hear Pilgrim By Radio Tonight

Through the courtesy of the South Side Improvement association, friends and relatives of Fred Pilgrim, former Richmond resident, will have an opportunity to hear him by wireless broadcast Tuesday night. The park has been thrown open to the public and a wireless receiving set installed in the west pavilion. A single wire aerial stretched between two trees over the building will catch the broadcast waves, and with the use of the Palladium loud speaker, the audience may hear the concert, given at the Detroit station, without difficulty.

Five stages of amplification, magnifying the imperceptible electrical oscillations by 100,000 times, will enable the operators to furnish any desired volume of sound, and unless static conditions interfere, guests of the association expect an evening of enjoyment.

Advocate Compulsory Education In Japan Increased to 8 Years

(By Associated Press)

TOKIO, June 6.—Advocates of the extension of compulsory education from the present six years to eight years, now that, as the result of decisions of the Washington conference to remove armaments have removed the financial difficulties heretofore in the way of the reform, are urging the government to adopt it and have been told that it may be enforced from 1926.

The extension of the period of compulsory education was the subject of some interpellations during the last session of the Diet. Dr. Baron Yamakawa, formerly president of the Tokio Imperial university, and others urged this necessity in the upper house.

Both the premier and the education minister expressed themselves in agreement with the interpellators in the view expressed and promised to carry out the suggested extension at the earliest possible opportunity.

The government authorities calculate that the extension of this period by two years entails an increase of some 4,000 classes, each consisting of 50 children. The additional number of primary school teachers required will be 8,000, and the expenses to be incurred on account of the adoption of the new system will be some yen 12,000,000 in ordinary expenditure and yen 80,000,000 in extraordinary. Inasmuch as the training of 8,000 new teachers cannot be accomplished in a short space of time, it is expected that the three years will be needed as the preparatory stage.
