

VOTERS REQUIRED TO REGISTER FOR VOTE IN NOVEMBER

Every voter must register this year in order to vote in the November elections, according to information contained in a communication from the Republican state committee, and sanctioned by the Indiana board of election commissioners. The statement of the committee follows:

"There are two registration days. They are Saturday, Sept. 9, and Monday, Oct. 9. The hours are from 8 o'clock in the morning to 9 o'clock in the evening. Registrations will be by precincts.

Voters may register in any one of the following ways:

By appearing in person before the precinct registration board on one of the above mentioned days.

By properly filling out registration blank before registration day, swearing to it before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths and having an official seal, or having it certified to by two voters residing in the registrant's precinct, and placing it in the hands of a voter residing in the registrant's precinct, who must deposit it with the precinct registration board on registration day.

By mail, when proper registration papers have been sworn to before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths and having an official seal, or certified to by two voters who reside in the registrant's precinct. If mailed, registration papers should be sent to the precinct registration board, in care of a member of the board, and should reach the board on registration day.

Men and women who will be 21 years of age on or before election day to be qualified to vote must register, even though under the voting age (21 years) during the registration period.

Full names should be given. Married women should sign Mrs. Mary Smith. All voters should give exact age, as "I was 30 years old Nov. 15, 1921."

Only full fledged American citizens, either by birth or naturalization on election day can vote. A foreigner who will be fully naturalized in court by election day may register on the first registration day, but not on the second registration day.

Any absent voter must be properly registered in his voting precinct before he can cast a vote.

An absent elector, under the Indiana law, is a qualified elector, on the day of holding any general, special or primary election, or who, because of illness, may be unable to attend the polls.

The precinct committee should make every possible effort to secure the registration of every absent Republican elector entitled to other respects to vote in his precinct.

The most efficient committee is the one who will secure the registration of the full Republican voting strength of his precinct at the earliest date during the registration period. An unregistered voter cannot vote in November.

No voter can register after the 29th day before the election, which is Oct. 9, INDIANA REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

FIRST MONUMENT TO HOG UNVEILED IN OHIO TOWN

MIDDLETOWN, O., June 15.—Hundreds of stock breeders from all over the country gathered at Blue Ball, near here yesterday, to witness the unveiling of a monument to a hog, the first of the Poland China strain. The monument marks the site of the home of W. C. Hankinson, now dead, who, in 1875, wrote the first hog pedigree, which established the Poland China strain. Miss Irene Hankinson, a granddaughter, unveiled the monument.

"Two legs for short distances and four legs for long ones," is the common method of transportation in China. Although railways and steamships are coming into service, camels and donkey trains are still frequently used.

VISCOUNT BRYCE MEMORIAL FOR UNITED STATES.

W. Reid Dick, noted English sculptor, has just completed this bronze of the late Viscount Bryce, which is to be presented in duplicate to the people of the United States. One of the busts will go to Washington, the other to the Trinity Church, in New York. They will be unveiled in September, when a delegation composed of members of the Sulgrave Institution will visit America. The picture, taken in the sculptor's studio, shows (from left to right)—Mr. Reid Dick, Lady Bryce and Sir Charles Wakefield. The inscription on the pedestal reads: "James, Viscount Bryce, Friend and Ambassador to the American People and Interpreter of American Institutions," and the dates of Lord Bryce's birth and death, with the name of the donor.

Derive Larger Incomes In Poplar, Eng., By Relief Contributions Than Work

LONDON, June 16.—A man can derive a larger income in Poplar by accepting relief than he can by working, so generous are the contributions of the Poplar Guardians. Full information as to the methods of the Guardians in relieving poverty in their borough discloses greater extravagances than had been suspected. An East End firm wrote to the Guardians: "Our employees who live in Poplar street have pointed out that they can get more money by being unemployed than by working for us. As we have no wish to prevent them getting as much as possible, we propose to disburse the money of the taxpayers that they granted one deputation from the unemployed a higher scale of relief than had been asked for."

In their own defense the Guardians simply state, in effect, that they were elected to help the poor people of the borough, and they have no excuse to offer for doing it.

Professor of Anglo-Saxon Defends Use of Slang

CLEVELAND, June 16.—The use of slang was defended by William A. Craigie, professor of Anglo-Saxon, at the University of Oxford, England, in an address on "The Oxford Dictionary," at Western Reserve university, here. "Slang undoubtedly enriches the language," Professor Craigie said. "The ephemeral part disappears, but the vivid, expressive part remains in the language and adds a picturesque note."

Referring to the Oxford dictionary, which will be published soon, after 50 years of collecting and compiling millions of notes, Prof. Craigie said: "The Oxford dictionary is a record of English terms from the eighth century down to the present time, omitting only the words which did not survive the eleventh century, and the new words which are too trivial or too technical to be included."

"The words of classic origin are easy to study and classify. It is the simple words that are hard," he said. "The word 'sit,' for instance, occupies 55 columns, and is divided into 154 sections."
