

REDS AND ST. LOUIS GRAB EVEN HONORS IN DOUBLE HEADER

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Cincinnati and St. Louis split even in the two games played at St. Louis on the Fourth of July. The morning game went to the Reds, 11 to 9, and the afternoon fray was won by the Cardinals, 6 to 5.

Cactus Keck pitched the afternoon game for the Reds and was beaten after he had been presented with a costly watch by his home town people. The man who made the presentation speech was long-winded and Keck apparently was affected by the endurance test.

In the morning Eppa Rixey was stepping along fine and his team had a 11 to 0 lead on the Cardinals at the close of the fourth inning. But with four runs collected from the fourth inning to the ninth, the Cardinals rushed Rixey's offerings and had garnered five runs in the ninth inning, totaling nine, when Pete Donohue was called upon to hold the enemy in check. Donohue performed well in the final inning and got his batters in order.

Cincinnati had big innings in the first, second and fourth frames, collecting a total of 10 runs in all. The big inning was the fourth, when four runners crossed the plate. Daubert singled, Duncan doubled, Harper tripled and Bohne doubled. And on top of all that, a wild throw by Stock was costly.

Hornaby Upsets Keck
In the afternoon game Keck was the victim of Hornaby in the third round of the game. Hornaby hit for a homer with two on the sacks in this round.

St. Louis scored in the first inning on Smith's single and steal, an infield hit by Hornaby and a sacrifice fly by Schultz. The Reds took the lead in the second. However, when Hargrave opened with a homer to left, Bohne walked, stole second and scored on a single by Kimmick. Daubert was safe on an error in the third, and got around on hits by Hargrave and Bohne. The lead was all cancelled by the Cardinals in their half of the third with four runs, three of which Hornaby was responsible for.

The Reds were to play their last game of the season at the St. Louis park Monday. Pete Donohue was scheduled to pitch for the Reds and Ed E. Pfeffer was next in turn for the Cards.

CAMBRIDGE DEFEATS EAGLES IN 10-INNING, WELL-PLAYED GAME

After knotting the score at 11 all with two runs in the ninth inning, the Cambridge City Greys passed the Richmond Eagles in their half of the tenth inning with one run, in the game played at Cambridge City on the Fourth. Richmond was leading Cambridge in the fifth inning by the score of 9 to 4, but three tallies for Cambridge in the sixth inning put the home team within two runs of tying things up.

Although "Pete" Minner was hit freely in most stages of the game, he was hurling fairly good ball most of the way.

Simpson started on the mound for Cambridge, but was relieved by Runnels at the start of the fifth inning.

Runnels stayed the remainder of the game.

Rally Wins Game.
The rally by Cambridge in the ninth frame was the breaker of the game, for the Eagles allowed the winning run to cross the pan in the next inning.

Fitzgibbons and Snyder were the heavy hitters for the Eagles, and their bingles came at opportune times.

Diffenderfer and Long connected at the right time for Cambridge and kept the home team in the running, when it looked like the Eagles had the game well stored away.

End Versatile College Athletic Career Despite
Starting Life as Cripple

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBIA, Mo., July 5.—Although he was physically handicapped in boyhood, doctors saying he would not be able to walk again, Brutus Kerr Hamilton has finished one of the greatest versatile college athletic careers by graduating from the University of Missouri.

Hamilton, who holds the American decathlon and pentathlon championships, suffered from a disease of the hip when he was 10 years old, it was learned today and a physician told his parents at Harrisonville, Mo., there was no hope for the boy's physical recovery. The youth's left leg was said to be more than an inch shorter than the right leg.

But the seemingly hopeless event took place—young Brutus was cured of his physical handicap. He entered high school and by sheer perseverance and will-power attained many honors on track and field.

Hamilton was a member of the Missouri star high school athletic came under the eye of Coach Bob Simpson, the world's hurdler in his college days.

Seeing his versatility, Coach Simpson continued the development of Hamilton as an all-around athlete. Hamilton always finished high in pole vaulting, broad and high jumping, shot putting, discus and javelin throwing, sprinting and hurdling, and carried away many victories for the University of Missouri in meets. Besides, he was captain of the Varsity Tiger football eleven last fall. He also participated in the Olympic games at Antwerp in 1920.

Not only did he excel in athletics, but he graduated with next to the highest honors in his class in scholarship work.

The Pirates lost a pennant last year by clowning around and they are ruining their chances this season. At Nick Altrock's record, and the mere matter of a game or two is nothing when it comes to fun.

Chips and Slips

Once in a great while a real sportsman appears in the professional ranks. Such as Ben Block, owner of Morvich, who sacrificed the possibility of a wonderful record just to keep his word.

Months ago Block promised New Yorkers to give them their first look at his Kentucky Derby winner in the Carleton Stakes at Aqueduct.

Twenty thousand fans went out to the track. They did not know that the great Morvich was not in form, and that he was facing almost sure defeat in spotting 15 pounds to Whiskaway, the fleet Whitney colt.

Before the race, Block's trainer told him that Morvich stood to be beaten, and that he ought to be scratched.

Block answered by saying that he had promised to show his star and a string of words were there to see him. He must keep his word.

Morvich started. He was beaten by eighth lengths and humiliated, but Block felt he had kept his word.

In the musical league the Pittsburgh Pirates would win the pennant hands down. They have a vocal quartet and a string orchestra that is good enough for vaudeville, they say. They are so good, in fact, that they would rather "music" than baseball at times.

When the Giants are slumping as the Pirates have been, the boys have to go home to laugh. McGraw hasn't the keen sense of humor that George Gibson seems to possess.

Young Sambo Johnson was dead broke and remarked to his fellow workmen:

"Say, which one of you gentlemen would like to loan me two bucks?"

After waiting a few minutes, and no answer came, he continued:

"What's de matter? Ain't dar no gentlemen in de bunch."

They hit for the circuit on the 4th: T. Griffith, Brooklyn; Rawlings, New York; Glantz, Roudan and Russell, Minneapolis; Covington, Indianapolis; Hargrave, Cincinnati; Hornsby, St. Louis; Cardinals; Hoffman, New York; Yankees; Dykes, Philadelphia Athletics; Brief, Kansas City, 2.

New York and Brooklyn battled to a tie the Fourth in their only game of the day, which lasted 14 innings. The game was fairly exciting and furnished the fans real entertainment.

rain caused the game to be called off.

ARVIN WINS HONORS
AT BOSTON SHOOT

BOSTON, Ind., July 5.—R.H. Arvin took high honors at the Boston Gun Club shoot held on the Fourth of July with a near perfect score, breaking 149 targets in the 150-target shoot. His nearest rival for honors was E. M. Harter with 146 out of the same number.

H. Bonser, a member of the American Olympic trapshooting team, broke 145 targets in this shoot.
