

HOMES MUST REVERE GOD OR NATION WILL DECAY, SAYS REPORT

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 20.—Uttering a "solemn warning to the men and women of America," that "this nation will decay and finally perish when American homes cease to revere God," the report of the Joint Commission on Home and Family Life, which will be presented to the triennial General Convention of the Episcopal church meeting in Portland, Ore., Sept. 6, next, was made public today.

"Advanced culture did not save past civilizations; did not prevent Germany plunging into a Gulf of infamy," upon America's consecration to God depends, her fate," says the report, which contains an exhaustive study of social and industrial conditions in the United States with particular reference to home life.

The commission was appointed by the Episcopal General Convention six years ago, and includes in its personnel some of the most distinguished of the bishops, clergies and lay members of the church. Among other subjects which are frankly treated are those of marriage, divorce and birth control. The report contains a strong recommendation against the latter. Rev. Charles Noyes Tyndall, S. T. D., of Williamsport, Pa., secretary of the commission in transmitting the report, says that the whole effort of the commission has been to present to the country a vital message in as concise form as possible.

Conditions Show Trend
"Even a cursory glance at conditions in the average American home reveals evidence sufficient to warrant the most careful study of those influences now affecting these homes from the standpoint of morals and religion," the report continues. "The attitude toward youth, even more than the attitude of the youth, will scarcely bear severe scrutiny."

"We touch the root of our family problem when we point to the lack of religion in the home. It is paralyzing to think of the average American family going on from the rising to the retiring hour as if God had no existence. Sunday is a day for extra sleep, motoring, Sunday papers in many volumes, comic supplements. If American children are not to be taught of God in the schools, and He is unnamed in the home, what can we expect but that at this moment the United States is actually developing into a non-Christian nation."

Touching upon domestic life in America, the report says: "Where family life is dishonored, wedding unfaithfulness lightly regarded, parental responsibility neglected, filial respect and obedience slighted, there, we may be sure, society is rotten at the core. We tremble for the future of a state or nation where lax theories concerning domestic life gain ground. Even laxer practice will certainly prevail."

"The remedy for the frightful dissolution of the marriage tie going on in America and its inevitable consequence of race suicide is to be found in Christian training alone. Remedial legislation while imposing difficulties in the way of easy annulment does not go to the root of the evil. It attacks many outward symptoms of the disease and is of undoubted value but it does not destroy the germ of the evil or cure it at its source."

A Tire That Comes To Stay

THERE is double meaning in the thought that Hanes Cord Tires come to stay. It refers both to the solidity of Hanes Rubber Co. and to the service given by Hanes Cord Tires.

Hanes Rubber Co. is everything that is solid and reliable in manufacturing. The name Hanes has been so long associated with successful manufacturing enterprises in the South that it has become a synonym for excellence of product and sound manufacturing methods.

The first Hanes Cord Tires were built in 1917 after two years of painstaking preparation. Even after they were put on the market no splurge was made. The Hanes wisely decided to go slowly, believing that it was better to achieve and consolidate a number of local successes before entering wider fields. They were morally certain of success, but they are a cautious race and they had to be sure, first, that the tire would be a credit to the name of Hanes.

Well, what did Hanes Cord Tires do in the limited territories where they were sold? They made history for themselves. They withstood the most grueling of tire tests. They proved the value of the cotton knowledge which the Hanes possess through long experience. Cotton and cotton quality are, you know, the chief things in cord tires. And where would you naturally go for cotton knowledge? To the South, of course. And in the South—to the Hanes.

Though Hanes Cord Tires are perhaps new to you in name, they are actually old in point of experience. They have behind them five years of "proof". They have a clean record from start to finish. And behind that record, and behind every Hanes Cord Tire sold, you have the Hanes family, standing by every single tire that bears Hanes name.

Hanes Cord Tires have come to stay in this territory. Use a Hanes on one wheel only, at first, if you wish. The other three will roll in envy, until they get one, too.
