

GOV. McCRAY
TO SPEAK AT COUNTY FAIR

Chief Executive Promises To Deliver Address on Sept. 14
—Big Crowd Expected for Event.

WEBER'S BAND COMES

An address by Gov. McCray on the afternoon of Thursday, Sept. 14, will be one of the features of the first Wayne county fair, the executive committee announced Saturday. It was stated that Gov. McCray had accepted an invitation to speak.

Weber's band of Cincinnati, one of the finest in the country; Miss Katherine Hoch, famous soprano, of the same city; an immense dance pavilion 80 by 140 feet, with music by the Dixie jazz orchestra of Chicago; a horse show which already promises to exceed the plans of Superintendent C. L. Gifford; and, as a thriller, a diving horse act in which a white horse will dive off a 40-foot scaffold into a tank of water, are features expected to draw record-breaking crowds.

To Be Memorial Event
These attractions all added to the stock exhibits already promised will make the event this fall the biggest in the history of the city for years, the committee feels, and will give a worthy start to the plans for an annual fair, of which this is expected to be the first.

The many attractions that are offered in addition to the excellent stock exhibits this year are expected to interest city as well as farm folk and to assure hearty support for the permanent fair plans.

New Features Added.
Contrary to rumors circulated in some parts of the country, absolutely no changes have been made in fair plans, and in fact several additional features were decided upon at the executive committee meeting Friday night.

The horse diving act, which was agreed upon by the committee, is believed to be a stellar attraction, and on account of the presence of this act and of Weber's band, several other high class concessions have applied for space, explaining that they know these will be drawing cards for a large crowd.

The high regard in which these are held is shown by the fact that many other concessions are locating their space primarily with reference to the first two. Testimony of the I. and I. fair secretary at Danville, Ill., in a telephone conversation with Elmer Eggemeier Friday night, also was very enthusiastic in favor of the strength of this attraction. "It has been the best feature we have ever put on," he said, "and has proved more popular than any other act on the grounds."

Four Horses Employed.
This act employs four horses, which take turns in diving, as none can take the effect of a continuous day-after-day performance for a week. Two of these horses will be sent to Richmond for the fair, and the other two will perform at Atlanta, Ga., at the same time. The whole party, with two riders will be at the Minneapolis fair next week.

In addition to the diving horse, the rider also is an exhibition diver and will give displays of his skill in high diving from the same scaffold.

The American Legion band has been engaged in addition to Weber's band for the three days. Weber's band will be accompanied by Miss Katherine Hoch, soprano, of Cincinnati, who will sing for some of the programs.

Other Music Will be provided by the Dixie Jazz orchestra, a colored musicians' organization of Chicago, which will play for the dance pavilion which will be located on the grounds. This has proven an especially popular concession where it has been engaged, and the apparatus will be trucked in to the Glen Miller park next week and set up. Five men being necessary to erect the dancing floor and tent. The floor is of white maple.

Automobile dealers of Richmond are planning an auto show that will be a feature in itself worthy of drawing the crowds that will attend, and one they believe is sure to prove of great interest.

Horse Show Entries
Entries for the horse show also are being signed up rapidly. Gifford having scoured the country in search of attractive entries and securing promise of enough to make this department another feature.

For additional amusements, an extensive program of mule races, horse shoe pitching, and other diversions is being planned by Director Slocum of the Community Service organization.

A babies' nursery will be maintained by the county Red Cross organization during the three days, and an emergency hospital with some member of the medical society in attendance, also will be located on the grounds.

DEATH OF TAYLOR IS PROBED BY WIFE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—An independent investigation of the mysterious slaying of William Desmond Taylor, film director, who was found shot to death in his home here Feb. 1, is being carried on by his former wife and their daughter, it was learned today.

New and authentic evidence has been obtained, according to members of the local film colony assisting former Mrs. Taylor and her daughter, indicating that the clew to the slaying lies somewhere in the correspondence and cancelled checks of the slain man.

The former Mrs. Taylor, now married to a wealthy eastern manufacturer, is credited with the belief that the slaying was committed or instigated by a woman.

Cut Off With $1

The five children of Park Benjamin, a noted patent attorney and father-in-law of Enrico Caruso, the noted singer, were cut off with one dollar each of their father's $500,000 estate, the principal part of which goes to his widow and adopted daughter, the former governess of Mrs. Caruso.

"Pencils of Light"
Used to Broadcast
Wireless Pictures

PALLADIUM NEWS BUREAU
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—"Pencils of light" and "carrier waves" are the agencies employed in transmitting pictures by radio, C. Francis Jenkins, of Washington, discoverer of the process, explains. Mr. Jenkins has been a resident of Washington for many years but he is an Indiana product, a native of Wayne county, and one of the foremost American inventors. He first won fame as the inventor of the motion picture. His latest discovery promises to rival his earlier epoch-making invention in importance.

With the device he has perfected, Mr. Jenkins states, a pencil of light, which travels in a definite direction, is directed over the picture which is to be transmitted.

"This pencil of light," he says, "is transformed into a carrier wave that varies with the intensity of the light and is broadcasted in the same way as sound waves. The receiving station, being equipped with apparatus to convert the carrier waves back into light waves, projects the pencil of light thus received onto a sensitive photographic plate. Thus the picture is recorded."

Need Greater Speed
"The only obstacle which has been in the way of transmitting moving pictures has been the need of greater speed in the process. And that is being developed now, will be perfected before long."

There will be many uses for Mr. Jenkins' radio picture broadcasting process once it has been perfected for commercial use. Then it will be possible for a family to sit in a radio-equipped room and enjoy seeing as well as hearing an opera; for instance, being staged many miles away.

Among the other advantages of the device are the possibility of receiving news photographs from great distances as quickly as the telegraphic text; the transmitting of photographs of criminal suspects when there is an urgency for immediate identification, and the transforming of the nation's

ELLIOTT RECOMMENDS
BUFKIN FOR POSTAL
JOB AT NEWCASTLE

PALLADIUM NEWS BUREAU
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Sam J. Buftin, highest Republican of the eligible list submitted today by the civil service commission, has been recommended by Representative R. N. Elliott for appointment as postmaster at Newcastle, Ind. The present postmaster at that city, Edward Smith, Democrat, whose term expires next Tuesday, was first on the eligible list.

Buftin was the second eligible, and Clyde Hardesty, Republican, was the third. It is understood that in the event Buftin's appointment has not been confirmed by the senate before Tuesday the postoffice department will be asked to appoint him acting postmaster at the expiration of Smith's term, serving in that capacity until the confirmation of his appointment.

Buftin is a well known business man, operating a cigar factory. He has been active in Republican politics in Henry county for many years, and is a member of the city council of Newcastle.

The eligible lists for the postmaster-ships at Richmond and Shelbyville have not yet been submitted to Representative Elliott by the civil service commission. He expects to receive them soon, however. Terms of incumbent postmasters in those two cities also expire next Tuesday.

During the civil war the Bolsheviks have had more killed than all Russia during the great war.

NEED $1,500
TO PROSECUTE
HIATT CASE

Judge Bond and Prosecutor
Beckett Ask Commissioners for Funds To Prosecute
Former Bank President.

BOARD HOLDS BACK

Prosecution of Edgar F. Hiatt, on indictments returned by the grand jury last spring, may be seriously hampered through refusal of the county commissioners to allow a $1,500 appropriation for assistant counsel, it was learned Saturday.

Prosecutor Beckett, in a request filed with the court several weeks ago, asked a special appropriation "for the prosecution of several important felony cases, such money to be paid out only upon order of the court."

Judge W. A. Bond, to whom the request was made, approved and forwarded the requisition, setting the amount at $1,500, when it went to the county commissioners. The requisition was presented with others when the county commissioners met to go over the additional appropriations for the balance of the year, 1922.

Take No Action.
No action was taken by the county commissioners. The additional appropriations for the year go before the county council next Tuesday for approval. Unless action is taken then, the prosecuting attorney will be seriously hampered in his action against Hiatt, both in the investigation and the trial of the case, it is said.

County officials who are opposed to the appropriation are said to have taken the stand that the $1,500 is a mere drop in the bucket in the trial of the case.

Employs Good Counsel
"It is well known that Hiatt has employed some of the best legal talent in the state, that he has not confined himself to one firm alone, but is prepared to fight the case of the state every inch of the way," said a member of the Wayne County Bar association Saturday.

"Now, if the state is to conduct the prosecution of this case properly, it must have enough legal talent to balance the defense. It is merely a question of having the state as well represented as the defendant. In many cases it is the other way round. The defendant, too often, is a poor man who cannot employ legal talent. If we are to be consistent in our administration of the law, the county should be prepared to prosecute wealthy offenders just as much as poor ones."

BROTHERHOOD CHIEF TAKES ISSUE WITH DAUGHERTY'S STAND

By HARRY G. BAKER
(By United Press)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 2.—D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, today took issue with Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, who yesterday defended the "open shop" in applying in a Chicago court for an injunction against the shopmen's strike.

Robertson declared that a "Labor Day message he wrote Aug. 25," attacking the open shop, must "stand as written." It was to have been made public Monday.

In this message the brotherhood chief attacked advocates of the "open shop" as "unjust and un-American." He predicted the loss of the "open shop" movement. He urged the unions to stand solidly against it. Attorney General Daugherty, in urging the injunction yesterday, said: "But it may be understood that so long and to the extent that I can speak for the government of the United States I will use the power of the government within my control to prevent the labor unions of the country from destroying the 'open shop.'"

Chief Explains Stand
When the United Press called Robertson's attention to the fact today that his message came as an open defiance to Daugherty, the "Big Four" chief explained:

"You have the message. It was written Aug. 28, but I am fully aware of Daugherty's stand for the open shop, taken in federal court in Chicago. My message stands as it is written. I have no changes to make."

In his message, Robertson said: "The modern trade union is the first effective challenge to the world old theory of serfdom and around this challenge centers all opposition to organized labor. To continue this status"

RESCUERS BELIEVE
47 MINERS PERISHED

(By Associated Press)

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 2.—Another attempt to construct a platform at the 2,500 foot level will be made today in an effort to establish an air relay from the adjacent Kennedy workings to the Argonaut mine to aid in rescue work and to force fresh air into lower levels of the Argonaut where 47 men have been entombed since Sunday midnight.

While there was no letup in rescue efforts, belief that the imprisoned miners have perished grew.

CUMBERLAND, British Columbia, Sept. 2.—The death list in an explosion in a mine of the Canadian Collieries Dunsmuir Ltd. here, Wednesday, rose to 17 yesterday with the finding of the body of a Chinese in the debris. A coroner's jury has begun an inquiry into the disaster. Eleven men were injured by the blast are recovering.

De Havilland Plane
Lands Here After
194 Mile Journey

A big DeHavilland plane, flown by Major F. L. Martin, commanding officer of Champe field at Rantoul, Ill., who is making a short visit with his sister, Mrs. Irwin Jackson, at 116 North Seventeenth street, landed on the George Thorp farm north of Richmond, Saturday.

Major Martin was accompanied by Sergeant Anderson.

Arrangements had been made for landing in the E. G. Hill field west of Richmond, Major Martin telegraphing to his sister Friday. However, the field proved unsuitable for the large plane and it landed on the Thorp farm on the Union pike, north of Richmond, at about 9:15. A perfect landing was made in a large clover field, and the plane was left under Mr. Thorp's care.

The flight from Rantoul was made in 83 minutes flying time, 17 minutes being spent in refueling and oiling at Port Benjamin Harrison. The total distance is 194 miles and the 130 miles to Port Benjamin Harrison was made on 21 gallons of gasoline. For the De Havilland planes, a large and heavy machine, the ordinary consumption is from 20 to 25 gallons an hour. The planes are equipped with tanks holding 58 gallons.

Immense Improvements
An immense improvement in airplane design within the near future is expected by Maj. Martin, who bases his belief upon the recent progress in glider development.

"When a flyer can take two passengers in a glider with no engine, up to 1,200 feet and stay up for three hours," he said, "he would surely be able to cover the whole country if he had a motorcycle engine on his plane."

"We may expect soon to see a great revision in airplanes, with much lighter machines, less powerful engines, greater lift and carrying capacity. This country is very far behind in development of aeroplanes, or airplane lifting surface designs. However, the presence of Fokker, the noted airplane designer who is working for the U. S. Air Service at Dayton now, may be expected to put us ahead again."

Two Lives Lost When Train
Goes Through Trestle in Missouri—B. and O. Takes Off 23 Trains.

E. F. GRABLE IS SICK

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—While rigid restrictions were placed by the federal injunction, granted yesterday, on all participants in the nationwide rail strike, reports of violence in connection with the walkout continued to be received.

The last 24 hours, however, developed fewer outrages than days immediately preceding.

High lights included the bombing of the home of a railroad shop foreman at Little Rock, Ark.; a plot to dynamite property of the Louisiana and Arkansas railway at Bentley, La.; an attempt to derail a Big Four train at Marion, Ohio; derailment of the Palmetto limited on the Atlantic Coast Line near Tampa, Fla., and an attempt to blow up a bridge over the Cuyahoga river in Ohio.

Two Lives Lost

The most disastrous occurrence was the wreck of a St. Louis-San Francisco passenger train at Cape Girardeau, Mo., with the loss of two lives and injuries to a number of passengers.

The train crashed through a trestle. Investigation has established no act of vandalism as contributing to the cause of the collapse of the trestle. Although Frisco officials vigorously denied the trestle had been unsafe, prosecuting Attorney Funwich, of Perry county, began investigation of reports that section hands reported the structure to be unsafe several months ago.

A threatened walkout by train crews at Parsons, Kas., was averted when guards were removed from inside the Missouri, Kansas and Texas yards, Firemen, however, refused to move two trains on the Southern Railway at Asheville, N. C., because of an altercation between a hostler and a guard, and Louisville and Nashville trainmen were taking a strike vote at Corbin, Ky., following alleged insults by guards.

B. and O. Annuls Trains.

The Baltimore and Ohio announced annulment of 23 passenger trains Sept. 4.

Some coal mines in the southern Illinois fields were closed because of a car shortage. It was reported that half the mines in Williamson county were shutdown.

C. R. Markham, president of the Illinois Central announced that conditions on that road had improved to such an extent that the Paducah, Ky. shops were employing more men than before the strike began and that there would be no more jobs for returning strikers.

Department of justice operatives denied that a nationwide raid on radicals was contemplated as a result of disclosures and arrests in Chicago in connection with alleged wreck plots.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Temporary cancellation of 23 Baltimore and Ohio passenger trains was viewed today by striking shopmen here as further evidence of the effectiveness of the strike. Cancellation was announced as effective Tuesday, by O. D. Cronin, superintendent of transportation for the B. and O. lines southwest.

This move will allow greater concentration of mechanics on freight locomotive and car repairs and will release some motive power now in passenger service for the great increase in coal movements expected as a result of recent adjustments in the coal strike situation, it was explained.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—E. F. Grable, president of the International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Men, is critically ill in a hotel here, his wife told a representative of the Associated Press today. He is suffering from a nervous collapse.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—"The injunction proceedings brought by the government in the rail strike are the best anarchist breeders that could be found," it was said in a letter of instruction issued to striking shopmen today by David Williams, secretary of the conference directing the strike in this district. Asserting that strike benefits could not now be obtained from the international labor unions, the letter instructed them to appeal to the public and other labor unions for help in order that their babies might not starve. "Above all things, keep your heads and do not resort to violence."

Labor Day Speakers to Make Addresses
at Park on Monday

A number of labor organizations were granted space in the marching procession of the Labor day celebration to be held in Richmond Monday. The committee also received the report at the meeting that the big chautauqua tent at Glen Miller will be available for use during the speaking program of the celebration.

Those labor organizations which were given space in the procession are the Federated Shop crafts, Central Labor council, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and Freight Handlers, Women's Union Label League, Faith Star organization, auxiliary to the B. R. C. of A., Carpenters' union and Barbers' union.

It is expected that all other labor organizations which have not reserved space in the parade will be represented, and it is especially requested that all laboring men and women who do not belong to unions assemble in the unorganized labor division of the parade.

Forms at Fourth.

The parade will form at the corner of Fourth and Main streets at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, headed by the Sons of Veterans drum and bugle corps, and will move east on Main street to Glen Miller park where the speaking program will be held in the big chautauqua tent. More than capacity crowd is expected to attend the speaking program and indications are that the procession to the park will contain more than 5,000 people.

M. W. Martin, a leading editor of Chicago, will be the principal speaker of the day. Mr. Martin, it is said, has exposed more political and industrial graft than any other labor leader in the country and it is expected that he will bring a most interesting message to the laboring men and women who will hear him.

Speeches Scheduled

Short speeches will be made by D. S. Miller and H. F. Baldwin, both labor leaders and heads of labor organizations. Mr. Miller is a farmer as well as a labor speaker and it is hoped that the farmers can make arrangements to be present to hear him for it is the farmers' day as well as the industrial workers'.

All ministers and pastors in the city have been requested to attend the meeting and sit on the platform. Frank A. Irwin will act as chairman of the meeting at the park.

The postoffice, banks and business houses will close on Monday and it is known that there will be a large number of picnics in Glen Miller park and elsewhere during the day by the various labor and fraternal organization members and their families.

FEDERAL OPERATIVES
KEEP CLOSE WATCH
ON HERRIN SUSPECTS

(By Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Sept. 2.—All persons suspected of being leaders of the mob that attacked non-union miners at the Lester strip mine, June 22, and killed 22 persons, are being watched closely by federal operatives to prevent their escape. Attorney general Edward J. Brundage announced today a grand jury investigation of the affair is underway here.

"Federal operatives," he stated, "have been placed at the front and back of their homes to remain there night and day. Anyone under suspicion has no chance of escaping."

The reported death of two Mexicans during the rioting at the Lester strip mine, which caused the Mexican embassy at Washington to send a message here, has been explained, Mr. Brundage stated.

Send Facts to Washington

A complete record of the facts will be sent to the state department at Washington. During yesterday's session of the grand jury, two witnesses refused to testify on the ground that they might incriminate themselves. Later, one of them, Noble Bell, a store manager in Johnson City, Ill., reconsidered. James Taylor, a miner of Marion, however, remained firm in his refusal.

The grand jury also is making a thorough inquiry into the responsibility for the apparent failure to call troops in time to prevent the slaying. It became known today. A number of common citizens have been called before the grand jury.

U. S. SERVES
SUBPOENAS ON UNION CHIEFS

Gompers Announces American Federation of Labor
Has No Power To Call a General Strike.

SCOTT NOT WORRIED

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Under restrictions placed upon them by the United States government by means of the most drastic and far-reaching temporary injunction ever issued in an industrial crisis, the 300,000 railway shopmen, who walked out July 1, in protest against wages and working conditions prescribed by the railroad labor board, today had entered a new era of the nation-wide rail strike.

Federal authorities in Chicago served notice of yesterday's injunction on some of the heads of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor and rushed preparation of additional United States deputy marshals to serve the hundreds of subpoenas.

The government is prepared to exercise all of its power necessary to bring about normal rail conditions, according to announcement of administration spokesmen.

Has No Power

Gompers announced that the American Federation of Labor does not have the power to call general strike, but said that appeals for such a move will be heard at the executive council meeting next Saturday.

District Attorney Clegg said that in his opinion additional supplemental injunction proceedings in federal district courts of the country would be unnecessary. The government's suit, he said, was sufficiently broad to cover the entire country.

John Scott, secretary of the Railway Employees department met his associates in conference shortly before noon at the federated craft headquarters. Mr. Scott declared that Mr. Jewell had left the city, but refused to give his destination.

Subpoenas Served.

The federal subpoenas were served on Scott last night and were left at union headquarters. "We're not worrying about the injunction," Mr. Scott said. Reports that huge union defense funds were to be raised brought from Scott the remark that, "we have plenty of funds now. All we have to do is to stay away from the shops and the strike will be won. Some of these railroad will soon be for sale, and then we can buy them up and operate them ourselves."

The restraining order obtained from Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson by Attorney General Daugherty, prohibits interference in any manner with any and all phases of railroad operations. Printed and oral propaganda were placed under the ban, and the injunction is directed against all persons connected in an official capacity with the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, the Federation of Shop Crafts, and system federations.

The life of the temporary injunction extends to Sept. 11, when Judge Wilkerson will hear a motion for a permanent order.

Federation to Meet.

Meanwhile the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor prepared to meet Sept. 9, Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, who condemned the injunction as "outrageous," said in Washington that communications from labor organizations requesting the federation to sponsor a general strike in sympathy with the shopmen would be placed before the council, "purely as a matter of routine business."

Officials of the federation explained that it was not within the authority of the council to order, or even to authorize a general strike. Such action they said, would require a national convention.

At the same time officials of the shop crafts asserted that the order would have no effect on the continuance of the strike. In a statement issued by the executive council of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, strike leaders pledged to aid by their "every power" enforcement of the injunction against "lawlessness and violence" in connection with the strike.

Will Go Limit

From the White House came the declaration that the federal government will not stop with the restraining order if it finds "that other steps are necessary."

In their statement the council assumed "that the right of railway employees is acknowledged to continue a lawful strike in a lawful manner until a satisfactory settlement is made."

"At least until advised that the constitution of the United States and the decision of the supreme court are no longer to be relied upon as the law of the land," the statement continued. "The officials of the organizations of railway employees will continue to perform their legitimate duties to their members, to aid them in the lawful pursuit of their lawful purposes, and to do all in their power, in conjunction with officers of the government to restrain and to punish every unlawful act of those who are rightfully involved, or who without right involved themselves in the operation of the roads."

Stand on Rights

The statement declared that it could not be assumed that the attorney general could have waited two months to proceed against the strikers if a peaceful conduct of the strike was unlawful, or that President Harding would have held conferences with "lawbreakers" and "proposed that the lawbreakers whom they represented should return to work under terms which they afterward accepted and which the railway executive rejected."

Attorney General Daugherty in presenting his petition declared its underlying principle was "the survival and supremacy of the government of the United States."
