(By United Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Traction companies of Indiana are "against the wall" competing with motor trucks in short hauls and many will be forced out of business unless a tax is placed on the trucks, John McCordie, chairman of the public service commission warned today.

"Unless some legislative action is taken toward taxation of motor trucks which use the highways for transportation, the majority of traction companies in Indiana will go out of business," McCordie said.

"With one possible exception all traction lines in the state are operating at a loss today."

The pleasure automobile has also made heavy inroads on traction business, statistics for the last five years showed, just like the traction lines replaced the steam railroads to a large degree.

Members of the state highway commission have considered taxing trucks to make the owners pay a bigger share of constructing and repairing roads. It was pointed out that traction companies maintain their own rights of way and pay taxes to counties through which they pass.

The commission likely will support a bill in the legislature next January calling for a heavier tax on trucks and trucking companies. Otherwise, McCordie said, the low rates they are able to charge can force the traction companies out of business, while the people "generally pay the bill in the traction company would have charged by paying taxes to keep up the roads."

Seekers After Lusitania Gold Reported To Have Shantied Three Seamen

(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—A tale of being shantied by treasure seekers bound on an expedition for the Lusitania's gold was told today by three men who jumped into Delaware river yesterday as the vessel was steaming seaward. They were picked up by a tug and turned over to a police boat.

The men, John Flynn, Edward Waters and Herman Roth, said they had accepted work offered them by a firm of the steamship Blakeley, out-fitted here by a salvaging company for the Lusitania project. They had understood, they said, that the vessel was not to sail until tomorrow but that while they were at work in the hold the craft got under way. When they remonstrated with the captain they continued, he refused to pay attention to them, saying he was going to Norfolk for coal. Then they jumped.

The tug which picked them up, reported that the Blakeley had signalled that three men listed neither as passengers nor as crew had been discovered aboard and had dived overboard.

Arctic Explorer Planning Cruise Of Bras D'Or Lakes; Says "Fox" Land Is Hokum

(By Associated Press)
SYDNEY, N. S. Sept. 7.—Donald R. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, who has arrived here with his schooner Bow, after 14 months in the far north, was preparing today to leave on a cruise of the Bras D'Or lakes, Cape Breton.

He declared it would be impossible for any vessel to make a trip through the Fury and Hecla straits in the Arctic regions. Large ice fields block the passage in Fox channel and reverse tides made the journey a feat which no vessel could perform, he said.

Observations of the entire west coast of Baffin Land cannot be made, he said, unless the voyage is made through Cumberland Sound and thence across land to the western coast.

During his 14 months in the far north he discovered that considerable land, declared to have been "Fox" "Northwest" over 300 years ago does not exist. Fox channel, so called after an old explorer, is a much larger body of water than was formerly believed possible.

SON HELD ON CHARGE OF KILLING FATHER

(By Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 7.—Held on a charge of first degree murder Roy B. Garvey, who shot and killed his father J. W. Garvey, is in the county jail awaiting preliminary hearing Sept. 23.

The shooting which occurred in the real estate office operated by father and son is said to have followed a quarrel over the discharge of Mrs. Helen Groh, a stenographer in the younger Garvey's employ.

According to Miss Florence Sebur, a clerk in the office the elder Garvey had discharged Mrs. Groh because she had been humming and whistling. Shortly after Mrs. Groh was discharged the younger partner entered the office and learned of his father's action. He went into his father's private office and a few minutes later six shots were heard.

The younger Garvey then went to police headquarters and surrendered. He told police there had been a long standing quarrel between him and his father over the alleged mistreatment of his mother and that when he objected to Mrs. Groh's discharge his father reached for a revolver.

DECENDANTS OF OLD STATE PIONEERS HERE

Delving into the historical background of one's state, often there are to be found characters of those early days whose descendants now have their places among the citizenry of every good community.

Such is the case in tracing back to former Governor James Brown Ray of Indiana, and his father before him.

Mrs. Charles E. Shively of this city is the great niece of former Gov. Ray, and her great grandfather, the father of former Gov. Ray, is found to have had an interesting place in revolutionary history, especially as it pertains to the Hoosier state.

Furnishes Data
One of our citizens has furnished us the following reminiscence of this young Irishman, whose son James later was a governor of Indiana and great uncle of Mrs. Shively:

"Mad Anthony Wayne's father was and Irishman, as you well know, and followed the tanning business as well as farming in Pennsylvania. Just before the battle of Bunker Hill a young Irishman hired himself to Anthony's father to work in the tannery. When the intelligence of the battle of Bunker Hill was received, much excitement prevailed throughout the land. "It was determined by old Wayne to raise volunteers for the defense of the country. A number assembled, but they were at a loss who could drill the company. At last the young Irishman stepped forth and said he knew something about it. Old Wayne said: 'You bog trotter, take this gun and show your skill.'"

Conviction Company
"He soon convinced them that his experience was worth something. Immediately they elected the young Irishman captain, but he declined in favor of Young Anthony. They were all thoroughly drilled to the extent of young Erin's knowledge and soon brought into service. Anthony's career is well known, but few know who the young Irishman was. His father was Ray, the father of the late Governor James Brown Ray of this state. "Gov. Ray's father, after the Revolution, settled in Virginia, afterwards moved to Kentucky and then to Indiana, into Vigo county, where he died a few years ago at the advanced age of about 110 years."

It is also recalled that during former Governor Ray's campaign for state executive his opponents capitalized the phrase "Ray's Folly," referring to an ordinary two-story frame house built at Brookville. Because of the "fancy" windows in the gable and because, contrasted with the log cabins of 1822, it was "aristocratic" in appearance, the house got its name, and was used to indicate the supposed extravagance of the candidate for governor.

Burning Feet, Corns and Callouses Halt Mrs. Doyer On long hike from Boston to Los Angeles

Reaches New York Where Foot Troubles Threaten To End Strenuous Journey. Tells How She Outwitted Pains From Sore, Burning Feet, Corns and Bunions with

GYPSY FOOT RELIEF A Wonderful Secret From the Desert

Boston
Los Angeles
I thought I would have reached California on foot. Hearing about the wonders of Gypsy Foot Relief, I obtained a box and applied it that afternoon, and that night, the next morning, and the day after, my feet felt as if they had new life; the burning and aches had ceased, the soreness had gone and the pains from corns and bunions had disappeared as if by magic. I started on my long hike again, and now I have some Gypsy Foot Relief, I am sure I will reach Los Angeles without any more foot troubles or misery.

NOTE:—Gypsy Foot Relief, mentioned by Mrs. Doyer, is a secret from the desert. Applied in a minute, relief comes a few minutes later! The awful pains from burning, calloused feet, corns, and bunions seem to disappear as if by magic! No bother to apply—no powders—no soot—no fuss! Simply apply it as directed, then put on your shoes and walk, run or dance as long as you wish, or work and stay on your feet as long as you like! So remarkable are the reports of Gypsy Foot Relief from different parts of the country, that the makers guarantee successful results in every case—or you get back the little it costs! It is sold in this city by all good druggists, including

AFTER shaking hands with a Governor Cox, of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley, of Boston, Mrs. Bella Doyer and her fifteen-year-old son started their long hike from Boston to Los Angeles, California, with nothing but jack-knives in their pockets and walking sticks for protection on their strenuous journey. Dressed in khaki uniforms, they reached New York City in good time, where Mrs. Doyer's burning feet, corns and the appearance of a red-bone bunion threatened to halt her intended record-making expedition. But hearing of the wonders performed by Gypsy Foot Relief, Mrs. Doyer obtained a box and anxiously put it to the test, for here was an aggravated condition of foot troubles calling for immediate relief, and she must make good her slogan of "reach-Los Angeles-by-foot-or-die!" How Mrs. Doyer succeeded in besting her own words in an interview just before leaving New York to continue her 3,300 mile foot-trip. She said:

"When we reached New York City, in good time, my feet were burning, sore and aching, callouses had formed and two corns and a sore bunion made their appearance. I thought I would have reached California on foot. Hearing about the wonders of Gypsy Foot Relief, I obtained a box and applied it that afternoon, and that night, the next morning, and the day after, my feet felt as if they had new life; the burning and aches had ceased, the soreness had gone and the pains from corns and bunions had disappeared as if by magic.
