EATON, Ohio, Sept. 11.—For the purpose of extraditing an alleged fugitive from justice from Kentucky to Preble county, County Prosecutor R. G. Sever was in Louisville Saturday and Sunday. It is said the alleged fugitive is wanted here for promoting a sale of bogus stock. Two men are said to be implicated in the stock sale. Local police authorities desire that names not be divulged until one or both of the men are in custody.

Police in Louisville, Ky., had one of the men in custody, upon request of local police, but he had been released upon a habeas corpus writ before Prosecutor Sever arrived in Louisville, according to advices received here.

Prisoner Released.

Advised that the prisoner would fight extradition, Prosecutor Sever went to Columbus and obtained requisition papers and then proceeded to Louisville, only to find upon arrival there that the prisoner had been successful in obtaining his release. Police were searching the city for the purpose of re-arresting him, according to the last advices received here from Prosecutor Sever. Whereabouts of the other man wanted here is unknown at this time, it is said.

Sheriff George Jones' office here has been in readiness since Prosecutor Sever's arrival in Louisville to dispatch Deputy Sheriff Wehrley to the Kentucky city as soon as word is received here that the man wanted is in custody.
