

YANKS PRESSED HARD IN PENNANT CHASE; FACE TASK IN SERIES

Forced to the last game to cinch the pennant in the American league, Miller Huggins' Yankees went through three strenuous games with the Boston Red Sox to wind-up their season's games in order to gain the right to face the Giants in the World's series, which open in New York, Oct. 4.

Huggins' hurlers were pushed to the limit to emerge with a single win from the Boston team in order to clinch their slim hold on the pennant. While, on the other hand, the Giant regulars have been easing along under favorable conditions playing the remaining unimportant games of the season's schedule. In several games, McGraw has urged recruit hurlers and fielders to give his regulars a rest.

These circumstances must be taken into consideration when the opening game of the series is called Wednesday, Oct. 4.

Best Pitchers Used.

"Bullet" Joe Bush met his waterloo when he opposed the Red Sox Thursday. "Rip" Collins, a Yankee pitcher, set the Yankees back in this game, even with the excellent hurling of Bush.

The second game went to Boston by means of Quinn's fine hurling, which slightly shaded that of Shawkey, who was on the loser's end of a 1 to 0 score.

The third and last chance to win came Saturday and Waite Hoyt and Bush enabled the Yankees to forge to the front. Three runs in the first inning proved the Yankee life savor, for Ferguson hurled excellent ball the remainder of the way for the Red Sox.

Three of the Yankee hurlers were used in the Boston series in an effort to clinch the permanent as early as possible. Mays and Jones were the Yankee hurlers to remain off the mound during the series. Therefore, with but three days to rest before the crucial series for the title of baseball, Huggins' crew will have to fight harder behind their hurlers than they have in the pennant race.

The Yankee hurlers are hoped to be stronger than the Giant mound men, but the Giant twirlers have had quite a rest since clinching the pennant, and they may open the eyes of dolesters when the series is called.

No difference anyway, New York will get the title this year, which ever way it goes. If the Nationals win, they will come a bit closer to the Americans in the number of World series titles won.

HORNSBY BATS SELF TO HALL OF FAME, SUCCEEDS BABE RUTH

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Rogers Hornsby besides battling himself into baseball's hall of fame as the first National leaguer to finish with a mark over .400 in 23 years, has succeeded Babe Ruth as home run king.

Hornsby finished the season with 42 circuit clouts, 17 behind Ruth's record crop of 59th season before. Ken Williams, of the St. Louis Browns, leading the American Leaguers, was three behind the Cardinal star with 39. Tillie Walker, chief of Connie Mack's sluggers, occupied third place with 37 and the former monarch, Ruth, registered 35 four base blows.

Ruth, handicapped by a late start, due to his suspension, was unable to gain on Hornsby from the time he rejoined the Yankees on May 20. The Cardinal clouter had six home runs when the Babe was restored to good standing and finished the season seven ahead of his Yankee rival.

Williams, who with Walter Henline, of the Phillies, holds the unusual distinction of hitting three homers in a single game this season, led the home run sluggers at the time of Ruth's re-entry with 11 to his credit. The Browns' star collected his homers in spurts, however, while Hornsby plugged away at the fences at a steady, consistent pace.

Analysis of the home run records shows Hornsby and Walker each hit two circuit blows in a single game. Ruth has performed the feat four times.

An odd feature of the team record for the season is that the Philadelphia clubs, occupying seventh place in each league, led each circuit in home run clouting. The Athletics, with Walker and Ring Miller leading the assault, amassed 111, while the Phillies, aided by Cy Williams, Cliff Lee, Parkinson and Henline, reaped a harvest of four more, 115. St. Louis clubs were second and New York outfits third in each circuit. Neither team leader, however, touched the mark of 134, established last year by the Yankees.

The grand total of 1,054 homers sets

New Paris Meets Shut-out Defeat By New Madison

NEW MADISON, Oct. 2.—New Madison shut-out New Paris here Sunday afternoon, 9 to 0. Nine errors on the visitors spelled defeat for them. Both hurlers worked well, each allowing nine hits. The home club went to the front in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings for their big rallies which won the game so decisively. Despite the fact that the New Paris fielders were so erratic, the game was fairly interesting for the fans who turned out for the encounter.

SARAZEN MAKES 18 HOLE COURSE IN 72; SCORE EQUALS ANY MADE ON LOCAL GREEN

By R. R. REID

Gene Sarazen, national open golf champion for 1922, equalled par for the Richmond Country club course Monday, when he circled 18 holes in 72, the best mark made by any golfer on the course. His mark for the first nine holes was 37, one more than par, but he came back strong in the second circuit with a 35, which evened his play with that of the course record.

HEAVY OHIO ELEVEN DROPS HI SATURDAY

Carrying a squad of 35 men, heavy and experienced enough to compete with college teams, the Hamilton high school football team swept over Reid field Saturday afternoon for a 20 to 0 win over the Richmond high school football team, which was making its first start of the 1922 season.

Although the local Hi was much lighter than the Ohio team, the players fought every inch of the way and in a great many instances completely baffled the Buckeye eleven with forward passes and long end runs. Richmond's line was soon ripped to pieces by the heavy Hamilton linemen and charging backs, but with reinforcements, sent in by Coach Little, the invaders were set back with but one touchdown in each of the first three periods. The Red and White fought the visitors so hard in the final quarter that they failed to score.

Locals Come Back.

Hamilton should have had 40 points with their line being used on the field during the game, but the fighting spirit of the local Red and White set them back with an astounding comeback.

Richmond appeared on the field first with their new red jerseys with white stripes around the sleeves. They made a classy appearance, but this was not what they were out for. The team went into the game with a determination to hold the heavy and they did after they caught on to the system of the Buckeye eleven's attack.

The first touchdown came after five minutes of play on straight line plunges. Stephens carried the ball over, but failed to kick goal from scrimmage.

Mattox Completes Passes.

The Red and White took the ball from Hamilton several times during the game on misplays and at times on downs. Forward passing by Kennedy and Mattox kept Richmond in the game and furnished hope for the rooters. Time and again, either Kennedy or Eubanks would be on the receiving end of long passes, only to fail on the last ten yards to get a touchdown.

Richmond had the ball on the eight yard line on the fourth down in the second period, but Mattox tried for a drop kick and failed. This was the best opportunity which the locals had to score during the game.

Clever tackles were made by Mattox, Kennedy, Eubanks and Kohnle throughout the game and when they hit the opponent, they hit hard. Kohnle, especially, was accurate in tackling.

Prospects for an eleven to show in Indiana circles are big and with hard work on the part of the Red and White will be put on the map of Indiana through Coach Little's work.

Muncie plays on Reid field next Saturday and the Red and White is favored with a slight edge. This game should be one of the best on the 1922 schedule.

Gene Sarazen, national open champion in golf for 1922, is all the prim and finished golf player which he has been reputed to be. He is about five feet eight inches tall, of staidy build and drives with a terrific follow-through, which is beautiful to observe.

Sun-burned to a dark brown hue, his ruddy appearance brands him a golfer who has seen considerable play on courses throughout the country this season.

They say that the ladies take to Gene, but on the contrary, he is a most modest sort of chap. Never

"BEAT YALE" IS CRY AT CARNEGIE; AS TECH ELEVEN SWINGS INTO ACTION

Carnegie Tech's football eleven hopes to open its 1922 season with nothing less than a victory over the Bulldog. The Tech boys face Yale September 30 in the Yale bowl and hope to give the Bulldog his first setback.

Carnegie students and grads are looking to Capt. Jimmy Anderson to play a big part in the contest. Anderson was ranked as one of the leading players in the east last year. His punting was a feature of the team's games last fall and is expected to add power to Carnegie's defence and attack this fall.

"Watch Carnegie" is the cry.

Former London Lord Mayor Admits U. S. Won Conflict

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—America won the war—Sir Walter Wakefield, former Lord Mayor of London, said so. Speaking last night before a large audience here Wakefield was emphatic in his statements. "You won the war for us; we Englishmen say it from our hearts," he said. "America arrived just in time with its two million and a half men. The greatest achievement of the war which history will record is the fact that General Pershing transported 2,000,000 or more men to Europe virtually without accident."

Oily Hair Cleaned Fluffy Bright in 30 Minutes with Cleero

Cleero, without rinsing or drenching, removes superfluous oil from the hair—leaves it natural, fluffy and with a silken sheen. Your hair is dry and ready for the street in less than thirty minutes.

Cleero is ideal for bobbed hair or permanent waves. A superabundance of oil is usually the result of tired hair roots and scalp—a nervous condition which eventually causes the hair to fall out.

Cleero is the only shampoo known which can be used daily because it not only thoroughly cleanses the hair, but assists it in the functions of the hair roots and revivifies and rejuvenates the scalp pores.

It is harmless in all ways—beneficial in every way. Ask your druggist for a bottle: two sizes, 30c and $1. Try it once. You'll never cleanse the hair in any other way. Send for a trial bottle—enough for two shampoos—10c in stamps will bring it.
