

RILEY HOSPITAL TO UPLIFT FORTUNATE KIWANIS ARE TOLD

"For the glorification of state and nation the Riley Memorial hospital is being built at Indianapolis for underprivileged children in order that they might be presented with a more firm basis on which to go out to face the world on an equal plane with more fortunate children," Rev. A. Dunkle, D. D., of the Presbyterian church of Indianapolis, upheld in his address before the Kiwanis club Thursday. "I come to present the opportunities and the claims of the state to you Kiwanians," he said.

Rev. Dunkle is a member of the Kiwanis club at Indianapolis and was sent to talk to the Richmond Kiwanians about the big venture of the Kiwanis clubs of the state in helping build the Riley Memorial.

Indiana is doing what is not done in any other state of the nation in acting for the relief of conditions which face the children of today. We, as Kiwanians, taking the first step of any kind toward the great work of helping build the memorial, should visualize this great Hoosier project for Riley. It is our privilege of doing a big thing. Men, we should visualize the possibility to make for generations to come.

10,000 Handicapped

"Walking up and down the state of Indiana today, are 10,000 children, underprivileged and without opportunity to come out from under their handicap and face the big tasks of the world. We say we will build a wing of that great hospital and in so doing, we take the first big step of any other organization in Indiana toward its great cause. We are far out with a big jump ahead of other organizations in helping out this memorial."

Rev. Dunkle referred to the little Kiwanis club of Noblesville, which has already handed in its quota toward the big Riley Memorial, as being a great example to other clubs in the state. "I spoke to the Anderson club recently, and they answered my plea for response in regard to the Riley project in full force and I believe that the clubs will all get behind and push with all their might."

Breaks Into Tears

The intensity of the feeling among big men of the state about the big matter of caring for the underprivileged children is emphasized by a recent happening at Indianapolis. Mr. Ball, of the Anderson Kiwanis club, spoke before the club of the capital city in a most pleading manner. The speaker asked the members of the club for full realization of the importance of relief for the children, to such an extent that he broke into tears and reached such a stage that he could do nothing but extend his hands to the Kiwanians, speechlessly, in his great cry for a realization of the matter.

Must Help Children

"You men helped your boys of Richmond by giving them a summer camp and we in Indianapolis did the same for our boys. It is extending them the opportunity to get back to where they prosper. As we build the memorial we extend to the children a chance for them to face the world's problems on a more firm basis."

Illustrates Point

Rev. Dunkle used for his illustration the following story:

"A drummer and a dandy were traveling through the country. The dandy showed his ability with the whip by nipping bees off the horse as they rode along. The ability of the dandy was evident to the drummer, but the latter said nothing. They finally came to a tree on which was a large nest of bees. The drummer said, 'Why don't you nip those bees?' In reply the dandy snapped back, 'No, sir, I don't bother them; they are organized!'"

"Therefore," said Rev. Dunkle, "being organized into a unit, we will be able to put the big project across for the children of Indiana. A big parade was going down the streets of the city. A little girl stood behind the throngs, which lined the streets, but she could not see the event which was taking place. Finally a big expressman lifted the child to his shoulders and from there the child cried out, 'I see, I see.' After the parade was over the child was let to the ground, from where she soon was lost in the large crowd. That man gave the child a start in this world."

Need United Effort

Emphasizing the importance of united effort in the Riley venture, the speaker illustrated with this story: "An architect was being questioned about the durability of the bridge to be built. One man asked him how many locomotives could be placed on the bridge with safety. Where upon the architect declared that the bridge could be filled with locomotives and would hold up under the strain. Street cars and other great weights could also be packed onto the bridge without danger."

"But one asked the builder if there was anything which the bridge would not stand up under. In reply, the architect declared, 'There is one thing which it will not stand up under and that is the rhythmic tread of marching men.'"

"Thus," declared Rev. Dunkle, "the success of the Riley Memorial will progress by means of the efforts of the Kiwanis clubs of Indiana."

LEGALIZE PIPE SMOKING

LONDON, Oct. 12.—London's oldest club—White's in fashionable St. James street—is considering permitting its members to smoke pipes, a privilege denied them since the club's foundation in 1684. The club committee has favorably considered a petition, signed by 200 members, asking that pipe-smoking should be permitted in one room. A notice to that effect has been posted, and, unless a general meeting to consider the innovation is demanded, the pipe-smoking ban will be removed.

Geraldine Places All Personal Effects Under Hammer Of Auctioneer

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Geraldine Farrar put everything but her voice on the auction block today.

Her splendors, estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars—have been carted from her uptown mansion to the Fifth Avenue auction rooms.

Everything from the rubber door mat that used to read "Welcome" to Lou Tellegen, the actor before their marital mishap, to the gorgeous costumes she wore in her famous operas is there.

Gerry's home is now wherever the private car that is taking her around the country on a concert tour happens to be. She is through with opera forever. The operatic star was known as the most lavish spender on the stage. The few changes of costumes she wore in La Reine Flamette, cost $25,000—and the opera only played a few times.

Trappings Change Owners

The trappings of other operas—Carmen, Thaïs, Faust, Tosca—will change owners.

Private garments—she thought nothing of paying $5,000 for a dress and then casting it aside after a few hours wear—will go to the highest bidder. The song bird's boudoir has been sent to the auction room just as she left it in her home. It's ivory enamel of the Louis XIV period ornamented in roses. A silver canopy is over the bed. A $10,000 silk Persian rug on the floor.

Nest Unchanged.

The nest of the song bird's former mate, the famous Lou Tellegen, is set up just as he left it. Lou had four pieces of furniture of the Louis XV period. They are of king wood inlaid with other woods. A golden striped silk canopy hangs over the bed; a $3,000 oil painting on the wall, he tramped on $3,500 worth of rug when he entered.

Costly linen, silverware, china, combs, bronzes, jewels, etchings, books, potteries are included in the 875 articles on sale.

Going, going, gone! will be pronounced by Auctioneer W. H. Day even over the necklace black lace with orange chiffon slip—and the stupor she wore in Carmen. The goods were on inspection today and will be sold tomorrow.

DIVORCEE WILL SEEK VINDICATION OF NAME

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 12.—Firm in her intention to "bring the kind of legal action against A. G. Candler which will properly make him vindicate" her name, Mrs. Onizima De Bouchel of New Orleans whose engagement to the Atlanta capitalist recently was terminated, today was completing preparations to return with her attorney to her home in Louisiana tonight.

Harry Gamble, New Orleans attorney representing Mrs. DeBouchel indicated that he might return to Atlanta soon to confer with local lawyers relative to legal proceedings against Candler, whom the Louisiana divorcee alleged in statements published here had broken his engagement to marry her because of alleged receipt of information reflection on her reputation.

Other than one statement issued through his attorneys that he regretted Mrs. DeBouchel had sought publicity of a private affair and that information in his possession made a marriage with the divorcee impossible. Mr. Candler had refused to discuss for publication the termination of the engagement.

Producers Receive Less For Crops Last Month

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Producers of the principal crops in the United States were paid an average price of two percent less for their products in September than in the previous month according to figures compiled today by the department of agriculture.

The level of prices for meat animals decreased 2.4 per cent from August 15 to September 15, the department statement shows. The September decrease on crop prices compares with an average decrease for September of 4.5 per cent over a ten-year period but in the case of meat animals the 10 year average for the month shows a decrease of only 1.2 per cent.

(By Associated Press)

The value of the estate was not revealed under a provision of the will that no inventory be required of the executors. Mrs. Bell, and a cousin, Charles J. Bell, the estate included considerable property in Canada, the exact value of which was unknown to the petitioners, they said.

With 100 new members already signed up and more coming in at various times, the Y. M. C. A. membership drive was acclaimed an unusual success when the wind-up was celebrated Wednesday night in the boys' department with a big feed, superintended by Perry Wilson, boys' work secretary. Walter Fehum's team won first honors, having secured 20 new members in their work during the drive. Finley Bond was awarded a football for obtaining 12 members, the highest individual attainment. THREE-DAY PROGRAM IS BEING ARRANGED AT "Y" FOR YOUTHS

A three-day program of activities is now being arranged by Frank Wilson, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., for the boys of the city during the three days of next week, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, that the school teachers go to the annual meeting of the State Teachers' association at Indianapolis.

A soccer game will be played each afternoon of the three days, starting at 2 o'clock. Teams will be organized between the east and west ends of the city, the dividing line being Eighth street. These teams will be open to any boy in the city, and Perry Wilson states that at least 500 boys will be in the big games to be staged.

Starting Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, free swims will be held until 1 o'clock at the "Y" pool for boys under 16 years of age. These swims will be open to all boys under this age, regardless of whether they are members of the association.

First Soccer Game.

In the afternoon, the first soccer game will be staged, probably on Reid field if it can be obtained. The winners of each soccer game of the three afternoons will be given a free swim at the "Y."

Thursday night, all employed boys of the city will have a free swim at the "Y" from 7 to 9 o'clock. Mr. Wilson is sending out letters to all boys under the ages of 18, who are working in factories and inviting them to the pool for a free swim. After 8 o'clock Wednesday night, because of the high school will be given a free swim.

The program of Wednesday will be repeated on Thursday, with the second soccer game being played at 2 o'clock, the winner of which gets a free swim at the "Y."

Thursday night at 7 o'clock a free gymnasium class will be held for all boys of the high school. Leonard Mow will have complete charge of this class and the swimming activities during the three-day festivity.

Treasure Hunt Friday.

A big treasure hunt, the second annual, will be staged Friday morning. The boys will leave the association building at 9 o'clock on their great search for the hidden treasure. Five prizes will be used in this year in the hunt. Inasmuch as the boys had a world of fun last year, Perry has made extensive plans to keep the spirit up in this venture. Boys of junior age will be eligible for this hunt.

The third soccer game will be held Friday afternoon, the winners of which will get the free swim.

A big swimming carnival will be staged in the "Y" pool Friday night. Various swimming events will be featured at this big carnival. Boys under 18 years of age are eligible to enter this meet, but should make their entry with Mr. Wilson by Friday noon. This event starts at 7 o'clock.

Without doubt, this venture on the part of the Y. M. C. A. under Perry Wilson, is the heaviest undertaking some time and the boys are expected to be given a heavy treat during the three days of activity.

FRANCE IS UNABLE TO PAY FOR 4 YEARS

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Oct. 12.—France will be unable to meet any part of her debts for the next four years, as all available receipts for that period must be devoted to reconstruction of the devastated regions, according to the Paris Herald, which quotes "one of the highest authorities" of the French ministry of finance.

The government, it adds, the newspaper, is doing its utmost to find a new formula for the settlement of the European debts and reparations tangle and will probably submit a detailed scheme drawn up by M. Poincare when the inter-allied financial congress meets at Brussels.

This plan calls for a revision of the total of actual indebtedness on a basis of actual figures, war allowances and charges for pensions, war allowances and the like being wiped from the slate. This would reduce the French claim by nearly twenty-five per cent.

PROPOSAL STRIKES OUTLAWED BEFORE MINING CONGRESS

(By United Press)
CLEVELAND, Oct. 12.—A resolution urging passage of legislation outlawing strikes was before the annual convention of the American Mining congress in session here today.

Such legislation suggested in a resolution presented by C. E. Maurer, Cleveland coal operator and vice president of the mining congress, provides that not only union officials, but individual members be held liable for any damage caused by walkouts.

Text of Resolution

The resolution said:

"1. That all disputes directly affecting the public interests which may not be settled by mutual agreement shall be determined by judicial process.

"2. That any act, in combination with others, which act would be unlawful if done by an individual, shall be unlawful on the part of all those who take part collectively and individually, all of whom shall be liable to damages to the party injured thereby.

"3. That every agreement, order, determination or conclusion by two or more persons, which if carried out would be in restraint of trade, increase the cost or restrict the production of any article of commerce to the public injury, shall be declared unlawful and that each and every person, organization or combination guilty thereof should be properly penalized therefor."

Predicts Strike

Following presentation of the resolution Maurer predicted another coal mine strike next year.

"A strike is just as certain as I am standing before you," Maurer declared. "After navigation closes down, the coal market will be over-supplied and naturally prices will tumble. But the miners' union will fight a reduction in pay, holding the strike as its weapon, as usual."

LARGE NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES ARE DIVIDED

Some classes of night school will have to be divided into two sections, in view of the fact that they are overflowing with students. They are the auto mechanics, sewing and stenography classes. A larger demand for these courses is made this year than ever before, while on the other hand, such courses as French, cooking and high accounting are lacking in enrollment.

Enrollments are desired in higher accounting, which is being instructed by Prof. Rorem, of Earlham college, who has considerable experience along these lines. Classes in cooking are partially filled and a few more candidates would be welcome.

The vocational director intends to add such courses for which there is a demand.

To date there are more than 400 enrolled in the night school courses.

RED ARMY AND NAVY CONVINCING ARGUMENT WITH ALLIES, TROTSKY

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, Oct. 12.—"The Red army and navy have completed their first maneuvers and I am very much satisfied," War Minister Trotsky told the congress of Textile Trade Union workers yesterday upon his return from the south, bronzed from outdoor life.

"It was the allies who at Genoa refused our offer to consider disarmament," he added, "and we have drawn the conclusion that it is necessary for us to keep up an army 800,000 strong."

"The army is made up entirely of young men. In the Ukraine and Crimea, I watched the 1901 class responding to the call to the colors in conformity with the new military service law and I am glad to say I was tremendously impressed with the enthusiasm shown by all the recruits."

Sees Improvement.

"I watched the Black Sea maneuvers with great interest. It was marvelous considering the fact that just a short time ago the navy was paralyzed."

"Since those days foreign ships have threatened Constantinople, fired at Odessa and also sent us ultimatums. Consequently we have come to the conclusion we must have a navy in order to safeguard our shores."

"The European press marvels at the fact that our navy has been reestablished within such a short time. Looking at us accusingly they say the Red ships have begun to move and assert that we are militaristic. Yes, we are guilty; our ships are on the move. But why not—that is what they were built for."

Convincing Argument.

"The allies at Genoa declined to consider our disarmament program. Now I say the Red army and navy is the most convincing argument when it comes to talking peace and possible rapprochement with other countries."

"We have made effort and met with success. I am very much satisfied with our military progress."
