

WOMEN OPEN DRIVE FOR EQUAL RIGHTS; FIGHT DISCRIMINATION

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—To fire the first gun in the midwestern sector in a campaign "to sweep away all forms of discrimination against women," Miss Anita Pollitzer of Charleston, S. C., secretary of the reorganized National Woman's party, has been organizing an Illinois branch of the party. Preparations will be made for representation of Illinois, as well as all other states, at a national conference to be held at Washington, Nov. 11-12, to frame a legislative program.

Illinois was selected as the objective of the first mission by national headquarters, because "it was believed that Illinois was in a position to affect the entire west and mid-west," according to Miss Pollitzer.

Constitutional amendments which the organization is seeking to have passed by all states to guarantee equal political, civil and legal rights for women in each case will contain this clause, according to Miss Pollitzer: "This act will not affect laws regulating the affairs of women in industry." This clause was pointed out because the effect of the legislation proposed by the party upon legislation designed to safeguard women in industry has been questioned.

Sustain Legislation.
Miss Pollitzer said that the supreme court of the United States has repeatedly sustained special welfare legislation for women even when it was argued that such legislation was in direct violation of the fourteenth amendment of the United States constitution.

The legal "discrimination" which the party is assailing has its roots in the old common law under which a married woman was regarded as a "femme couverte" or "covered woman," whose rights were vested in her husband while he lived, Miss Pollitzer stated. "Though the effect of this legal tradition from feudal times has been modified in some states by more modern legislation, it survives to a varying degree," she added.
