

NOALES UNDER $27 /KITCHELL AUCTION OF DUROC JERSEYS

KITCHELL, Ind., Oct. 24.—A satisfactory average of $27.50 for the boars and $42 for the gilts was realized at the breed sale of Duroc-Jerseys held by Roy Carson at his farm near Kittichell, Monday. Another feature of the sale was the preponderance of farmers who bought for meat producing purposes rather than for breeding. Prices were very even, none of the stock going over $52, and none under $27.

Homer Salyer, farmer and feeder living near Kittichell, was a heavy buyer, taking three of one litter for $33 apiece; all three offered from another litter for $38, $36 and $36, and still another for $36. Andrew Balingier, a 14 year old farmer boy, living near Liberty, invested in two gilts for foundation stock, at $37 each. One was of Hoosier Giant and one of Top Col Sensation Second breeding. Strong competition developed over three gilts of Uneda Orion Sensation litter, which sold "choice with this privilege." Charles Hildebolt and Frank Carson both were bidding, Carson finally securing first choice at $52, the high price of the sale. He took only one, and on second sale of the other two, bid them in also at $36.

D. E. O'Dell of Ellettsburg, City, and Charles Hildebolt, of Eaton, were two of the most distant buyers, except for Miss Helen Lowe, of Chicago, who took a gilt at $31. Mr. O'Dell paid $40 for a boar and Mr. Hildebolt took a gilt of a Helen Blazes Fifth dam at $40. Mort P. Jones of Liberty, was another liberal buyer, taking all of the last litter catalogued, three gilts, at $50 each and all five of another litter which sold choice with the privilege. He paid $45 apiece for the five. Joe Hill, of Richmond, bought a gilt for $36.

If all of us women would pick out a good blend of coffee and stick to it the way the men stick to a certain cigar, we'd be successful coffee makers.

All my life I've used delicious, unchanging Golden Sun—

And I wouldn't trade my reputation as a coffee expert, for a good-deal.

Frankly it's the coffee, not my method of making it, that makes my table so popular.

DIVORCED ON 33RD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

EATON, Ohio, Oct. 24.—Upon their thirty-third wedding anniversary, Mrs. and Elizabeth Beachler were divorced Monday in common pleas court, he being granted the decree by Judge A. C. Risinger, upon grounds of gross neglect. They were married in Preble county and lived on a farm. They have three children, all of whom have reached their majority.

The court awarded Beachler certain chattel property. The wife was awarded all household goods and the land-lord's share of farm crops. The litigants agreed that the farm they own be sold before Jan. 1, 1924; that all bills be paid and the balance be divided equally between them, and that if he should die before sale of the realty is effected or distribution made, that the two sons and daughter shall receive his share.
