

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS DISCUSSION OF WORLD PROBLEMS IN TALK

Political and economic problems facing the world today as an outgrowth of the World War were discussed by Mrs. Mary Locke Hurin, of Toledo, Ohio, in her current address before the civics department of the Woman's club, Tuesday afternoon. How the various issues at stake are of importance to us and what they mean to the countries of Europe was briefly sketched by the speaker.

Georges Clemenceau, she said, speaking of his visit to the United States, comes at an opportune time when the need is felt that America must alter her attitude toward the treaty of Versailles. She characterized the "Tiger" as one of the most constructive statesmen of his time and attached great importance to his visit here. In France, she pointed out, he leads those who are unalterably in favor of Germany paying her reparations in full.

Alluding to the ship subsidy bill which President Harding is trying to push through congress now, Mrs. Hurin said it has many enemies and stated she doubted whether it would go through. After a war, she said, England gets back on her feet first by stimulating the export trade to keep money stable. It is for such a purpose that it is being done here.

Hire Foreign Boats
At present, she pointed out, we hire our trade carried by foreign boats because it is cheaper. Only seven of the trade ships fly the American flag. Another hindrance to American trading ships is the bill passed a few years ago by LaFollette which makes an eight-hour day for sailors. This makes it necessary that American ships carry two crews, making an added expense and need of larger sleeping quarters.

That America has been drifting along and must now turn to consider the economic situation in Europe was another point brought out in the lecture. We must face, she said, this fact that in Europe the people are carrying their money around in wheelbarrows. We must also face the question of scaling down the reparations of Germany. That Germany can never pay the 33 billion is certain, she said. The Turkish situation, France's maneuvers in Assyria, the question of the Dardanelles, the coup d'etat of the Fascisti in Italy, the Lausanne conference and many other questions of current interest were included in Mrs. Hurin's talk.

Next Talk Dec. 12.
The New States of Centralized Europe will be the subject of Mrs. Hurin's talk here Dec. 12, she announced. Mrs. Hurin has a charming personality, and is a speaker of unusual interest. She is one of the outstanding lecturers on current events in the country. The auditorium of the First English Lutheran church, where she spoke, was filled with woman's club members. Her lectures have proved some of the most popular given before the club.

A tea was given and an informal reception held following the address. Mrs. Edward H. Harris and Miss Mar. that Doan poured. They were assisted by Mrs. Warren Clements, Mrs. A. J. Harwood, Mrs. Earl H. Mann, Mrs. Joseph W. Connor and Mrs. Harry Lantz. Officers of the civics department this season are: Mrs. Ben. C. Bartel, chairman; Mrs. Arnold Klein, secretary; Mrs. Edward Harris and Mrs. W. A. Ellis.

How Red is Your Blood?

Our Whole Population is Rapidly Becoming Bloodless Because of the Lack of Certain Food Essentials in the Average Diet

There are many people whose blood is far below normal in hemoglobin, and as a result, they are only half alive and prey to any and every disease that comes along, and especially to tuberculosis.

It takes plenty of food iron, food lime and vitamins to make good, red blood. Yet most of the foods we commonly eat are woefully deficient in those food elements—among them, meats, lard, butter, fine flour bread, rice, corn meal and many popular breakfast foods.

In their study of dietetics and foods, the specialists at the Battle Creek Sanitarium have developed several foods that supply the food iron, lime, vitamins, and other food elements in the required quantity.

These foods (some are listed here) have all the tastes which delight the palate and, at the same time, complete the daily family menu.

Try one or two of these delicious foods and see the new life and health they give you.

Earlham

Tuesday night in the Sophomore-Senior semi-final debate try-outs five men were selected to go into the finals which will be held sometime after Thanksgiving recess. The tryouts revealed some good material in the arguments last night and points toward the fact that there will be keen competition in the finals. Those qualifying for the finals are: V. Hinshaw, Lichtenfels and Murray, Seniors; and Kenworthy and Janney, Sophomores. The Freshmen-Juniors semi-finals will be held Thursday night and it is probable that there will be some close running for the finals in this class. The prospects for the debate teams are good this year. Although it is early to make any predictions it appears from the quality of the speaking demonstrated thus far in the try-outs that the debaters will at least be up to the standard of Quaker debating teams.
