

DAYTON RESIDENTS REPORT ROBBERIES; SUNDAY'S BILL PAID

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Rose Malory, 116 Crane street, last night told police she was robbed of $150 in her home yesterday afternoon by a man who came to fix the windows in her home. Mrs. Malory said the man came to her door with a handsaw and asked if she needed repair work done. She admitted him and he threatened to kill her if she did not give him money. She showed the man where she had $150 under the kitchen in the kitchen. He took it and departed.

Dayton Man Robbed
Curt Cofer, 16 Edgar avenue, was held up and robbed of $32 in cash, a watch and three checks near the Dayton and Xenia street car loop at Belmont.

Authorities were told Cofer had been visiting near Belmont and was walking toward the car loop when he was approached by a young man who asked if he were going to the car line. On receiving an affirmative reply, the stranger offered to walk with him. Cofer said the stranger placed a gun to his head and demanded his valuables. After he robbery the holdup man fled toward the open country.

Heid On Suspicion
Emory McClung, 31 Hillcrest avenue, is held in central police station under suspicion after he is alleged to have attempted to rob Harry Williams' bar, Sixth and Ludlow streets, early last night.

Ray Moore, bartender, told police McClung was drunk, and came into the place early in the evening. He demanded cash and when Moore refused he left. Later McClung returned and attempted to get over the bar to the cash register.

Campaign Goes Over
Billy Sunday's audience of 6,000 persons put the finishing touches on the campaign last night when $407.61 was obtained, which was $57.61 more than was required.

In addition 450 persons, headed by a men's Sunday school class of the First Christian church, Troy, "hit the trail."

Sentenced to Jail
William Record, former stage hand, was sentenced to serve eight months in the county jail when he pleaded guilty to violating the Harrison Anti-Narcotic act in federal court yesterday. Judge Sater said he was inclined to be lenient with Record when it became known the defendant was suffering with tuberculosis.

Jury Hears Case
Three of the most important witnesses in the case of Charles Tesno, indicted by the federal grand jury for rifling the mails, were heard by a jury in Judge Sater's court yesterday. It is believed the trial will come to an end today.

The witnesses yesterday were two postoffice inspectors and an assistant superintendent of mails, who conducted the examination which led to Tesno's arrest. They told the court and jury of sending a special delivery test letter containing $3.25, and later finding this money which had been marked in Tesno's possession.

Tesno was formerly assistant superintendent of mails in charge of rural carriers. His attorney at the opening of the trial yesterday, charged his client was "framed."

Motorist Fined
Grape juice, fermented, and gasoline won't mix, Judge Powell told John P. Gilbert in police court yesterday.

Gilbert was charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated. He told the court he had imbibed only grape juice. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in the workhouse.

Taxis in Havana use gasoline in preference to the much cheaper alcohol, because congested traffic conditions require quick starting ability.

being photographed. Recently he consented to pose for a "3-second movie" on his estate at Tarrytown, N. Y., and even went so far as to give the photographer a smile as well as a shiny dime. These Stills from the movie are his latest pictures.

ELKS TO CO-OPERATE IN XMAS GIFT WORK

Richmond lodge of Elks will co-operate with the Christmas Clearing committee in the distribution of gifts, according to action taken at a meeting of the lodge Thursday evening. The Christmas committee, under direction of Carl Eggemeyer, will arrange for the Elks' participation and work with the committee in conformity with the plans which it has outlined.

The lodge also will establish a permanent fund, to be placed at the disposal of Miss Ethel Clark of the Social Service bureau, for use in emergency cases during the entire year. Members say this fund is to be at her disposal, to be used whenever and wherever she sees fit. An unqualified endorsement of Miss Clark's methods and ability was voiced by speakers. Besides its participation in the work of the clearing committee, the Elks will bring to the city "The Passion Play," a film of six reels, beautifully colored, which will be shown free to all the children of the city, and their parents, during the Christmas week. The soloists will sing songs that are appropriate to the various incidents in the story of Christ as they appear on the screen. The beautiful film will be shown absolutely free to the public, and is to be part of the community Christmas program.
