

21 YEARS AGO TODAY EATON INAUGURATED FIRST RURAL ROUTES

EATON, Ohio, Feb. 1.—Twenty-one years ago today, Feb. 1, rural delivery of mail out of the Eaton postoffice was inaugurated, with 10 routes. Today there remains only two of the 10 carriers who entered the service when it was launched on Saturday, Feb. 1, 1902. The two veterans are William John, carrier on route number 3, and John VanDoren, carrier on route 2.

Twenty-one years ago the 10 carriers braved a heavy snowstorm in covering the routes the first time and the following Monday the storm had developed into a genuine blizzard and the carriers suffered many hardships in covering their territory, according to the memory of Carriers John and VanDoren. Mail then was transported over the routes by horse and wagon. A motor team of well-and-wide-known make supplanted "Ole Dobbins" some years ago.

VanDoren recalls that he at times covered his route on a bicycle as a sort of relief from the monotony of daily piloting a horse over the highways in serving the patrons on his route.

Prof. H. C. Minich, dean of teachers' college, Miami university, will address a conference of Preble county school teachers here Saturday in the courthouse auditorium. The conference is for teachers of the upper grades. A similar meeting for primary grade teachers was conducted here recently. A conference of high school instructors will be held later.

At a morning session of the meeting Saturday, which will open at 9:45 o'clock, Dean Minich is on the program for an address on "The Best Type of School Experience and Control for Pre-Adolescence." "Creative Thinking in the Upper Grades" is the theme of his address at an afternoon session, opening at one o'clock.

Local county teachers will deal with the following school subject is addressed, time to be given for discussion of the subjects:

"Teaching Geography," Paul Suman; "Art Application," Ruth Elkenberry; "Silent Reading," Charlotte Horrigan; "Pictures," Katherine Rice; "Values of Technical Grammar," Verrie Slyder; "Athletics in the Grades," R. M. Foch; "History in the Upper Grades," Bertha Potts; "Discipline in the Upper Grades," Blanche McClellan; "Keeping in Touch with Sixth Graders," Monica Hunt; "Values of Silent Reading in Arithmetic," Helen Blackford; "Teaching Thrift," Mary O'Dea.

Management of the Star motion picture theatre, North Barron street, was assumed Wednesday by G. W. Albright and Joseph Neiser, both of London, Ohio, who recently acquired the theatre by purchase, along with the Eatonian theatre, Main street, the only other picture house in Eaton.

The Star was reopened Wednesday night after having been closed several days for alterations and improvements under direction of the new owners. The Eatonian does not pass into the hands of the new owners until March 1. Albright and Neiser for the present will operate in Eaton out of their headquarters in London, where they have picture show interests. Later on Neiser's brother, John Neiser, is expected to come here from Minneapolis, Minn., to become resident manager of the two playhouses.

Partition of lots 238 and 248 in the E. C. Crider addition to the village of Lewisburg is sought in a common pleas court action entered by Cora A. Phillips against Minnie Trissel and Viola Frech. Plaintiff claims a half interest in the realty as a daughter and heir-at-law of the late Jacob D. Trissel. It is averred Viola Frech is entitled to the other half interest, while Minnie Trissel is entitled to dower in all the realty as the widow of Jacob D. Trissel.

CURIOS FROM WAYNE SOUGHT FOR MUSEUM

A. D. Babcock, of Goodland, Newton county who has been making a collection of antiques and curios for 40 years for the benefit of the boys and girls of Indiana and has erected a fire proof building in which to exhibit them, is asking for representative gifts from Wayne county.

He would like to obtain some arrow points, spear heads and stone axes from Wayne county. An old plow with a wooden mould board is a gift for which he especially seeks.

George Ade and many other Hoosier notables, says a letter from Mr. Babcock to the Palladium, is helping build up the enterprise. Mr. Ade has sent him nine clay tablets from early times.

Residents of Wayne county are invited to visit the museum when in Goodland.

St. Paul's Considers Recreation For Girls

An effort to make the new parish hall of St. Paul's Episcopal church self-supporting and to take care of the wear and tear and depreciation, principally were the points emphasized at the meeting of the members of St. Paul's parish Wednesday night at the church. Plans also were discussed to give girls of the community more consideration than has been given in the past, and to give them such opportunities as the boys already have had. There are hopes of making still more provision for the recreation and social hours of the girls' organization in Richmond.
