(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 1.—Police started a search today for an unidentified man who drove an auto up to the curb in front of the residence of J. A. Horner here early today and threw the body of his son, Rev. 24, on the sidewalk after summoning the father from his bed. The car then sped away. Horner told the police he was aroused by a knock on his front door. When he answered a voice from the auto said: "I got your son here." "Send him in here, I want to talk to him," Horner replied. "I can't," the man in the car rejoined, and pushed the body to the sidewalk. "I've had him since Sunday," the visitor added as he drove away. Horner said the boy had been in St. Joseph, Mo., about a year and police expressed the belief that the body had been brought here overland.

FAULKNER CANCELS CALL FOR MEETING

ITALIAN PREMIER'S MILITIA ORGANIZED ON U. S. GUARD PLAN

(By Associated Press)
ROME, Feb. 1.—Premier Mussolini's newly organized state militia, which is built upon the plan of the National Guard organizations in the United States. Service in the Italian militia is voluntary, and is unpaid unless on active service. Its members follow their regular professions and occupations and drill in their spare time. They are to be used in case of civil disorder, while in the event of war, they will be merged into the regular army.

Already the new organization is filled with former soldiers and lads who participated in the recent historic Fascist coup, when Premier Mussolini was called to head the government. Preference, in choosing the personnel of the new force, is given to Fascist, Moderate Nationalists, Futurist legionaries and those of "proven Italian faith" are given the second consideration.

Units Will Be Scattered.
Units of the new militia will be placed in every town, just as national guard units are distributed in the towns and cities of America. While no definite orders have been issued regarding the uniform of the new force, it is expected that the black shirt of the Fascist will be adopted. It has been pointed out that the black shirt is now traditional, just as was the red shirt in Garibaldi's time. The men in the new body are said to favor the black shirt in preference to any army uniform, for it was in these shirts they made their celebrated march on Rome.

The new militia may be called to garrison duty in the Italian colonies in Africa. There they would supersede the regular army, the units of which would be returned to Italy for training in war tactics.

In a recent communique it was stated the purpose of the new militia was to absorb all military organizations of the various political parties. Even the Fascist themselves, unless enrolled in the new militia, will be disarmed. The communique declared that "no state can tolerate the existence of political parties, militarily organized."

ENGLISH PEOPLE USE CHECKS TO STABILIZE FINANCES OF COUNTRY

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The English are beginning to believe their habit of using checks more and more, and cash less and less, to pay their way through life has been one of the factors in the recent spurt of the pound in its race to catch up with the dollar. Of course, it has not reached the point where people write checks indiscriminately, just as a matter of national pride, but all the newspapers have been giving serious consideration to the thought that the check-writing habit, ever becoming more common, has helped increase the financial position.

The idea appeared in print the other day when the London Bankers' Clearing House announced that of the sums now paid into city banks, only seven-tenths of one percent come in currency and coin, all the rest being transfers of credit by check. Not many years ago the percentage of each deposit was several times higher than today. It has been pointed out frequently of late that the use of checks instead of cash allows banks usefully to employ perhaps larger sums than otherwise might be possible in piling new stores upon the nation's economic structure.

Have Check Habit.
The English, so their newspapers say, are more given to the check habit than other people, and this despite the fact that such check is taxed twice. A check book cannot be had for the asking, as in America; it must be bought and paid for. Even housewives make general use of checks when they go to market, and as many of the larger banks have hundreds of branches, there is usually a bank within walking distance of one's home. The high fees for postal money orders make it cheaper to remit by check for amounts over one pound, and this, too, has encouraged the check habit.

Psychologically, some observers question whether the habit is a good one from the standpoint of thrift, since many people who would think twice before spending a certain sum out of their pockets do not hesitate to write a check for the amount; just as it often seems easier to tell a store clerk to charge a purchase to one's account than it is to shell out the actual coin. But others contend that the increasing bank clearings—they amounted to more than 37,000,000,000 pounds sterling in London alone last year—show not only economic betterment but also that the average Englishman has preserved his own honesty as well as his belief in the honesty of his countrymen.
