

THREE-MILE LIMIT EXTENSION ASKED BY M. E. MINISTER

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The three mile limit off the coast of the United States was a purely arbitrary and fictitious limitation which has been made obsolete by modern invention, according to a statement by Dr. Clarence T. Wilson of Washington, of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, made public here today.

"When the doctrine was written by Bynkerschoek," says the statement, "the extreme range of a shore cannon was three miles and as a sovereign nation can only claim to exercise jurisdiction which he is in fact able to police and defend, the three-mile limit was supposed to be the logical boundary of national authority."

Cannon Shoot 20 Mile
"Today the extreme range of a cannon on shore is certainly not less than 20 miles and might, in fact, be very much greater. The United States should assert and maintain the doctrine that it has the right to defend itself by any necessary means against attacks upon its laws which constitute nothing less than a form of warfare."

"Run running vessels have repeatedly congregated off the New Jersey coast outside the three mile limit. If necessary in order to handle the situation, United States destroyers should be ordered to capture or destroy any run running ship which approaches close enough to the American shore to establish contact."

"At this time the American people cannot be expected to be patient with far fetched legal technicalities. The American people have always known the answer to insult and injury. The government should make that historic answer and it can be best spoken from the throats of naval guns."

St. Louis, Mo.—"I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me seven years ago. I was run down and had a weakness such as women often have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after being married sixteen years became the mother of a sweet little girl. I now have four lovely children—three fine boys and the little girl six years old. I had longed for children all the while and went many a day and envied every woman with a child. I was 36 years old when my first baby was born. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is ailing with female weakness."—Mrs. J. NATMANN, 1517 Benton St., St. Louis, Mo.

Was Weak and Run Down
St. Louis, Mo.—"My mother took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was a girl, and when I was troubled with cramps I took it, and later when I married I again took it to make me strong as the doctor said I was weak and run down and could not have children. I took it and got along fine and now I have three girls. So you know why I keep the Compound in the house. I am a well woman and do my work and sewing too."—Mrs. JULIA HARTMAN, 2501 W. ## TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions, it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Advertisement.

Music Memory Contest Facts

Soldiers' Chorus From Faust.
Charles Gounod, a Frenchman, first produced this, his greatest opera in Paris in 1859. In 1863, it was produced in London and New York. The first productions did not attract the attention of the critics favorably, but since then it has grown so in favor, until it is one of the most popular operas of our time.

The opera is based upon Goethe's tragedy, which is familiar to most people. Faust, a philosopher, became disgusted with the smallness of human knowledge and his own inability to unravel the mysteries of nature. He summons to his aid the spirit of evil. At the price of his soul, Faust secures for a time his youth and other advantages with the help of the evil spirit.

The chorus of soldiers was written previous to the opera and later added to it. It is written in 12-8 time and is one of the very finest marching songs ever written. The Soldiers' Chorus, when sung in the opera, is rendered by a male chorus, rather than a mixed chorus as is sometimes the case when this chorus is used in concerts.

Corn is produced in every state of the union, ranging from around 30,000 bushels a year in Nevada, to more than 45,000,000 bushels in Iowa.

Steam, Steel and Dynamite Must Start It

Getting the necessary materials out of the earth is one of the spectacular operations in cement making.

Steam shovels cut into a field or a hill. Two tons at a bite—they strip away the soil to a depth sometimes of forty feet or more.

The stripping brings you down to the ledges of limestone and shale from which cement must be made.

Large steel drills follow. Powerfully, patiently, they chip their way through ledges that are often 30 feet thick. In a year, one of these drills will bore through miles of solid rock.

Dynamite comes next—75 pounds to a hole—more than 15 million pounds of it for the entire industry last year. From two to a hundred holes are loaded, tamped and wired.

Workmen seek cover.

A button is pressed. The earth trembles. Hundreds—thousands—of tons of rock leap from the face of the quarry and fall in a heap below.

Many of the stones come down too large; quarry-men must "pop shoot" them into smaller pieces.

When they are reduced to not more than a ton or so each, steam shovels load them into dump cars, and they are hauled off to the first of the giant crushers in the cement mill.

At a medium-sized plant—one turning out a million barrels a year—hundreds of thousands of dollars are invested in quarry and quarry equipment—air compressors, drills, steam shovels, railways, locomotives and cars.

Where other materials besides stone are used—like marl or clay from a lake or pit—different but just as interesting methods are employed.

Getting out the raw materials is the first step in the long careful process of cement making.
