

The Palladium.

RICHMOND, IND., AUGUST 3, 1899.

ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.—Stained glass will come into use on Saturday next, in order to look at the eclipse of old Sol, which will be observable here about 8:15 P. M., and will only last about two minutes; but it will not be total.

Get Rogerson & Liff to put up your new numbers.

The Republicans of Ohio are nominating their best men for the Legislature, and they are sanguine of success in the coming contest.

We notice the death of Hon. Isaac Toucy, Mr. Buchanan's Secretary of the Navy. He died at Hartford, Conn., on the 30th ult., aged about 71 years.

POTATOES AN EXTRA CROP.—The Ind. Journal is responsible for this:

We heard one enthusiastic farmer yesterday declare his firm belief that he would dig 1,200 bushels of potatoes from each acre he had planted. They are of the early Goodrich variety, and he says are so thick in the ground, that they have formed a solid stratum like gravel, a foot thick, over the whole field.

The Logansport Journal states that Mr. Jacob Sutton, while hauling in wheat from his field last week, was killed by lightning. His horses were also killed, and wheat on his wagon burned up.

The Lafayette Courier says that a bright pretty little five year old son of Mr. J. R. Simplic, of that city, fell through a hatchway in a store on Saturday, and was almost instantly killed.

The efforts made by the Good Templars to enforce the Sunday Liquor Law in Buffalo resulted in two of the informers before the Police Commissioners being attacked and maltreated in the street by some indignant individual.

The Corydon (Harrison county) Republican has seen a specimen of wheat, called "Wick's white wheat," which, from one peck of seed, produced six bushels weighing sixty-four pounds to the bushel.

A child of Andrew McCormick, living near Cadiz Henry county, says the Courier of Newcastle, was killed lately by pulling a fanning mill, which was set on the fence to be out of the way, over upon itself.

The ladies do not furnish all the vain fools of the world. A Mr. Neal, of Tiptonboro, N. H., died last week from the effects of "Flower's Solution," which he took for the purpose of "improving his complexion."

The Late Albert Lange.

The Terre Haute Express of Monday has the following notice of the late Hon. Albert Lange, who died in that city on Saturday night:

"Mr. Lange was born at Charlottesville, Prussia, on the 16th of December, 1801. His youth was passed in the schools of his native country, and when he had attained sufficient age he became a student of the celebrated University of Halle. Here he graduated with distinction in 1823, and immediately he took himself to the study of the law. He devoted great attention to preparation for his profession, and entered upon the practice of it with a fine prospect of success. He was, however, of the liberal school of politics, and became much interested in republican institutions and in certain governmental reforms which were then being discussed. His zeal in these matters made him obnoxious to the authorities of his native country, and caused him to leave it and emigrate to the United States in 1829. He came to this city in 1836, and has during the past thirty-three years, made his home among us. Mr. Lange held the office of Magistrate for many years, conferring honor upon the office. In 1849 he was appointed United States Consul to Amsterdam, whither he removed with his family and spent two years. Returning in 1851, he was soon after elected Auditor of Vigo county, and served consecutively as such until 1860, when he was elected Auditor of State, and filled that office during a single term with great credit to himself. Soon after his return from the capital, Mr. Lange was elected Mayor of this city, and subsequently re-elected to the same office. Since his retirement from the Mayoralty, he has been somewhat engaged in the profession, but has been devoting his chief labor to the preparation of an abstract of titles of the real estate of our county—a much needed undertaking, which has been performed with the most painstaking care and exactness so far as completed by him.

"In the death of Mr. Lange our community loses one of its most honored and estimable citizens. He was a man of rare scholarly attainments, finely versed in the classics, thoroughly educated in the literature of Germany, he had also acquired familiarity with the whole range of English studies. In addition to the learning of books, Mr. Lange possessed fine practical sense which made him an excellent business man. Few persons are to be found who were better fitted for official life or the discharge of official duties. He was a mild, affable and courteous gentleman in all his relations with his fellow men. His sense of personal honor was very fine, and his integrity and honor unequalled. All that he undertook in life was well done, and he has left behind him a memory that will long be cherished by our citizens."

Mr. Lange was buried on Tuesday—his funeral being attended by the Governor, State officers, City authorities of Terre Haute, the Mannerheim, Odd Fellows, Masons, and a very large concourse of citizens.

PALLADIUM CORRESPONDENCE.

The South and its Bright Prospects—Grant's Policy—Resignation of McCarter and Currency Bureau—Libel Suit—Cuba Reform in the Patent Office—Public Domain.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.

The weather still continues cool and pleasant, with just enough rain to insure good crops, and from reports from all parts of the country received at the Agricultural Department, I learn that prospects for a bountiful harvest were never so good before. Ex-Governor Hahn, just from Louisiana, brings the most encouraging reports from his State. He says the people of his State have commenced making money in right good earnest, and routes have lost their usual charms. En route here through the South he noticed all along a corresponding increase in business.

The Southern States are well represented here just now. Nearly all here have come ostensibly in the interest of some scheme for improving their respective section of the country, but in reality to lay pipe for an active campaign on Congress next term to replenish their empty purses. They have rail roads and canals to build, bridges and docks to build or repair, &c., all of course they think deserving aid from Congress. There are parties here who propose to build, with aid from the government, a ship canal across the narrowest portion of Florida, where its width is only about 40 miles, saving the hazardous journey of 600 miles around the Cape. They estimate the cost at ten millions, and claim that, with aid from Congress, Alabama and Mississippi will subscribe liberally toward building it.

GRANT'S POLICY.

The President's hearty approval of the result of the election in Virginia, and his order for elections in Mississippi and Texas, together with the Democratic movement, is looked upon by the curious here as the first stroke in a determined and well considered policy of the President. It is evident from what I hear and see from the representative people from the South, that they, with but very few exceptions, are fast becoming enraptured with Grant, as they would have been with Lincoln had he lived. This is perhaps owing partly because they can do no better, and partly because they can see in Grant a determined will to do right; a soul sufficiently broad to comprehend the present situation of things, and a heart large enough to administer impartially to the wants of the people irrespective of race, color or condition.

RESIGNATION OF McCARTER, AND THE CURRENCY BUREAU.

Geo. B. McCarter, Esq., for some time past Superintendent of the Currency Printing Bureau, has tendered his resignation of the office, and will shortly leave to engage in business in N. York. This Office is one of the most important and responsible ones under the Government, and requires the service of a man of a peculiar and varied knowledge of all kinds of printing, with business tact and sterling integrity. Mr. McCarter is not a printer—neither was his predecessor H. M. Clarke, of the Beer Stamp notoriety—but a good, honest, active business man, whose leave of the Treasury Department is much regretted. He is an intimate friend of A. T. Stewart, who, on resigning his Secretaryship of the Treasury, urged of Mr. Boutwell to appoint McCarter Superintendent of the Currency Printing Bureau. It is reported that Mr. M. will be connected in business with Mr. Stewart.

LIBEL SUIT.

The commencement of the trial of Mr. Shepherd for an alleged writing of an "alibi article" which appeared in the "National Republican" of this city, relative to the Judge Purcell assault, took place Saturday before Justice Walter in the Alderman's Chamber. After long delay, caused by a general "set to"—I mean in words—between both the learned Counsel on either side, and the complainant and defendant at times all occupying the floor at once, it was finally ruled that the aggrieved, the Judge, should be allowed to first show a libel before being compelled to connect the accused with the libel.

The Judge's manner in detailing his treatment at Bladensburg, was exceedingly amusing to say the least; and one would infer from the narration of the incidents connected with the Judge's experience at the Burg, that the day and generation for drinking "corn twice" (Whisky) is in its bloom.

The Proprietor and Managing Editor of the "Republican" were sworn, but no evidence was adduced which connected Mr. Shepherd with the writing of the article. The Judge has not sued for damages as has been reported, but is simply prosecuting Mr. Shepherd under the laws of the District of Columbia, which imposes both fine and imprisonment as a penalty for libel. The trial was adjourned till next Friday, when we may again expect a merry time in the Alderman's Chamber.

The friends of Cuban independence are somewhat aggrieved over the stringent orders of our Government relative to the enforcement of the neutrality law. The agent of the patriots on the Island, Mr. Lemus, who has been sojourning among us for some time past, has left for New York, where he hopes to be able to exert some influence to the cause of his struggling countrymen, without his violation of the neutrality laws of this Government. Mr. Lemus is a man of energy, determination and brains, and if there is any help for his country to be drawn from the present condition of things here, he is likely to make the most of it.

All true Americans must regard the struggling patriots in Cuba with heartfelt sympathy, and regret that the neutrality policy and the Alabama claims force upon our Government the necessity of apparently occupying a position unfriendly to human freedom.

REPORTS IN THE PATENT OFFICE.

Under the able management of Com. Fisher, the Patent Office is undergoing many good and substantial reforms. New rules have been made and old ones revised in such a way as to accommodate inventors and their Attorneys; and facilitate the transaction of the immense business before the Office. Copies of drawings heretofore made by hand in the Office, are now photographed, thereby affording the inventor, at a small expense, any number of copies of his drawings he desires—no more colored or be daubed drawings will be allowed in the Office.

All officials, high or low in rank, now in, or applicants for positions, have been compelled to undergo the same rigid examination, and in consequence, the Office is rid of all ignorant and tyrannical persons, and in their stead there are to be found able and courteous men, anxious to assist, not to retard, inventors.

Capt. J. M. Thacher has been assigned to the duty of deciding all interference cases now before the Office, or that may hereafter come before it. Heretofore each examiner decided such cases as came into his hands, which often caused delays, with no result of action. No more competent person could have been selected than Captain Thacher. He is a practical lawyer, of excellent judgment and unbiased mind, and will, with his long experience in the Office, dispatch justice to the contestants.

THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Returns just received by Com. Wilson of the General Land Office, show a disposal of 76,794 acres of the public domain, during the past month, at the following local offices: Greenleaf, Minn., 18,559 acres; Winnebago, City, Minn., 9,398 acres; Topeka, Kansas, 7,833 acres; Detroit, Michigan, 6,560 acres; New Orleans, Louisiana, 4,579 acres; Booneville, Missouri, 7,863 acres; Springfield, Missouri, 7,633 acres; Ironton, Missouri, 6,536 acres; Denver, Colorado, 3,078 acres; Taylor's Falls, Minnesota, 4,817 acres. The greater portion of the land was taken up by actual settlers under the homestead law. In twenty four land Offices in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska, Dakota, Idaho, Montana and Utah, during the month of June, there were 800 cash entries of land, covering an area of 108,840 acres. During the quarter ending June 30th, there were 2,191 cash entries, covering 316,900 acres. The cash receipts for the quarter have been over half a million of dollars. With this rapid settlement of Public Domain, and corresponding increase of revenue, it will not take us long to pay off our National debt.

LIFE.

The Anderson Herald reports a narrow escape from drowning of five persons in Fall Creek, near Pendleton, a week or so ago. During the recent freshets, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Davis, with three children having crossed the creek in the morning without difficulty, attempted to recross on their return, and drove in without noticing the increased depth of the water.

"When the horse reached the middle of the stream the water was so deep, he commenced swimming down stream, drawing the buggy after him. They floated down stream about one hundred yards, where the buggy caught on a log and was fastened in the river. The ladies then began to realize their situation and called at the top of their voices for assistance. Some gentlemen, nearly a quarter of a mile away, heard them and ran to their assistance immediately. Soon others were called, and by swimming out to the buggy, the children were taken ashore by the men. The horse was cut loose from the buggy and swam ashore. A raft was constructed of boards, on which the women placed themselves, and several men by aid of ropes in their teeth, swam ashore, drawing the raft and its precious cargo after them. Then the buggy was drawn out and all were saved. From the time the buggy caught on the log, until the ladies were got on the shore, was nearly an hour. When assistance came they were standing in the buggy holding the children above the water. The water was up to their waists.

TERRE HAUTE, August 3rd. Michael Smith shot himself at an early hour this morning, in this city, beside the corpse of his brother, John Francis Smith, who had just died very suddenly of congestion of the brain. Grief at the death of his brother was the cause. A note was found on his person, containing the words "Bury us together." The wound is fatal. Though the unfortunate man still breathes, he cannot live till morning. Both were respectable men, natives of Ireland, and plasterers by trade.

Whilst working with the Steam Fire Engine, No. 4, Tuesday last, the Engineer knocked out a plug connected with the boiler, when the force of the steam sent him into a tank of cold water, and the plug struck a darkey knocking him out of time a few feet. It was supposed the Engineer was scalded pretty badly; but the bath saved him, and the darkey was more scared than hurt.

Mr. McNeal, the present Supt of our City Schools, has moved his family into our city. He looks like the right kind of material for managing a school successfully and satisfactorily.

Don't leave to memory what should be written; it makes lawsuits.

Terrible Scene in a Manicure.

A traveling man, situated at one end of a fair, held in the neighborhood of Orleans, France, suddenly disappeared in the night time, leaving no trace behind. The cause was afterward ascertained to be as follows:

"The wife of the proprietor, who was nursing a little girl of five months, was summoned into the manerie by one of the attendants, at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, to give directions about the service. In passing along outside the cages where the animals were confined, her dress swept the bars of one which contained a lion, the ferocious instincts of which had been excited by the smell of raw meat just brought in for feeding time and laying at hand. The animal caught the gown with one paw, and as the woman turned suddenly round snatched with the other the child out of her arms and dragged it within the cage. The poor mother, filled with the air with her cries, and ever struggled to disengage the infant from jaws of the beast, but all in vain; and when assistance arrived the child had been already half devoured. The horror of the husband who came in soon after, was mingled with rage, and seizing a gun he shot the lion dead upon the spot. Immediately after orders for instant departure were issued.

Female Temper.

No trait of character is more valuable in a female than the possession of a sweet temper. Oh! we can never be made happy without it. It is like the flowers that spring up in our pathway, reviving and cheering us. Let a man go home at night, wearied and worn by the toils of the day, and who soothing is a word dictated by a good disposition. It is sunshine falling on his heart. He is happy, and cares of life are forgotten. A sweet temper has a soothing influence over the minds of the whole family—Where it is found in the wife and mother you observe kindness and love predominating over the natural feeling of a bad heart. Smiles, kind words and looks characterize the children, and peace and love have their dwelling there. Study, then, to acquire and retain a sweet temper. It is more valuable than gold, and it will retain all its freshness and power.

How to Cure Cancer.

A Milwaukee paper states that some eight months ago, Mr. T. Mason of this city, ascertained that he had a cancer on the side of his face the size of a pin. It was cut out and the wound partially healed. Subsequently it grew again, and while he was at Cincinnati on business it attained the size of a hickory nut. He remained there since Christ mass under treatment, and is now perfectly cured. The process is this: A piece of sticking plaster was put over the cancer, with a circular piece cut out of the center a little larger than the cancer, so that the cancer had a small circular rim of the healthy skin next to it exposed. Then a plaster made of chloride of zinc, blood-root and wheat flour was spread on a piece of muslin the size of this circular opening, and applied to the cancer for twenty-four hours. On removing it the cancer will be found burnt into, and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole and the circular rim outside of it will appear white and parboiled, as if scalded by steam. The wound is now dressed, and the outside rim soon separates, and the cancer comes out in a hard lump and the place heals up. The plaster kills the cancer so that it soughs out like dead flesh, and never grows in again. The remedy was discovered by Dr. Fell of London, and has been used by him for six or eight years, and not a case has been known of the reappearance of the cancer when the remedy has been applied.

The reduction of the public debt for the month of July is seven millions, four hundred and thirty-five thousand, seven hundred and forty-four dollars, making a total reduction since March 1st of forty-three millions, eight hundred and twenty-six thousand, five hundred and twenty-two dollars and seventy-two cents. One year since the leaders of the Democratic party were declaring that if Grant was elected, in less than a year one hundred and fifty millions would be added to the public debt, and that the Government bonds would be worthless. The latter are higher to day than ever, while the condition of the public debt is more satisfactory. So much for the Democratic predictions.

A True Bill.

The Warsaw Indianan calls attention to the fact that a large number of papers have gratuitously published the gravel road law, the railroad law, and other acts of the last Legislature, and adduces this as a reason why the laws of the State should be authoritatively published in all papers. The fact is, there is a set of thick-headed politicians in education or intelligence; and by some mishap or other, that class was in the majority in the late Legislature of Indiana. Of course anything they looked like favoring newspapers was under ban with such characters, and there was no possible chance for getting any act through which was intended to aid to the intelligence of the people. And as might have been expected, the Legislature was notorious for being the most jackassical concern ever assembled in the State House. We sincerely hope and trust that the next Legislature may be composed of men possessing at least average abilities, and then there will be some hopes for legislation for the benefit of the intelligent class of the community.—[Greenfield Commercial.]

"The people of Centerville are beginning to consider cows running at large a nuisance, also the sidewalks."—[Telegram.]

When side walks, like cows, are declared a nuisance for running at large, it becomes a serious matter!

LADIES who wear massive chignons will be interested in the statement that the sanitary officers of St. Pancras Parish, in London, lately notified by a lady resident of Park street, Regent's Park, that the baking and boiling of human hair at the next house to hers, gave rise to the most shocking smells, which came in at every window of her house, and effected her head and stomach, and gave her a sore throat. This hair, made up into these beautiful adornments of the modern belle, is collected from burial grounds, poor houses, fever hospitals, and the filthiest neighborhoods, to be "baked over" and "stewed out" for beauties to wear next to their scalps and charming necks.

A Big Snake.

"W. H. S." writes from Spring Mills, Richland county, Ohio, that the champion snake of Springfield township was killed, a few days ago, on Jacob R. Hall's farm, near Spring Mills, Ohio, by Mr. Hall, which measured sixteen feet in length, and in the thickest part, nearly as thick as a man's thigh. It was a black snake and was first seen near some blackberry bushes near the place. Mr. Hall was hoeing corn at the time, attempted to kill it with his hoe, but making battle, he retreated, afterwards finding it near the fence, he procured a stone weighing about twenty pounds, and getting upon the fence, threw it upon the snake, disabling it so that it was easily dispatched. The oldest settlers say they never saw so large a one before in that township.—[Richland Shield and Banner.]

An Improbable Story.

Here is a California story which is almost incredible: A hired man on a farm from Napa was detailed to keep a watch on the cornfield and not let the black marauders steal the corn. But like many other men in a similar situation, tried to plan a method whereby so much labor would not have to be performed: so he hit upon a plan of soaking corn in whisky and placing it in the field so the crows would surely eat it and get drunk and then he thought he had a sure thing and could kill them easily. He tried to shoot them with a shot gun, but crows are not so easily killed, but after a soaking some corn over night, he put a bountiful supply in the field early next morning, in about two or three hours he went out to see how things were progressing, and mark you what follows: One of the crows a little larger than the rest, had gathered up and taken possession of almost all the corn and had built himself a bar out of clods of earth and was retelling the whisky-soaked corn to the other crows, but like them three grains of sprouted corn for one soaked grain. Our hired man had not the heart to kill any of the creatures that seemed so much in their actions like mankind.

The editor of the Brookville American is in luck. A lady that said old town recently presented him a gypsium weed, June-bug and a cockle-bur, and he is not even grateful, but calls her bad names. Probably it was the best she could do, and the best he deserved.—[Muncie Times.]
