Allensville—Post Master.

We have been authorized to withdraw the name of ISAAC DUNN, Esq. from the list of candidates for Representative in the next Legislature.

The last Whig states that the Rev. ALFRED J. COTTON, having purchased land in Henry county, and intending to remove thither next fall, declines standing a poll at the ensuing election.

The anniversary of our National Independence was celebrated in this place yesterday, in a manner highly creditable to all concerned. Proceedings next week.

We have been requested to state for the information of persons wishing to get on board of steamboats at this place, either in day time or at night, that it would be better to hail the boats from the Second street landing. If this course be adopted, and a proper signal given in time, the boats will have a regular stopping place, and there will never be any difficulty in procuring a passage.

CONGRESS.
In the Senate on the 24th ult. the nomination of the Hon. ANDREW STEVENSON, late Speaker of the House of Representatives, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Great Britain, was rejected—yeas 22, nays 23. The yeas and nays were as follows:

CINCINNATI, JUNE 28.
FIRE.—On Thursday evening last a destructive fire broke out in a block of frame buildings immediately west of Deer Creek Bridge; the buildings were soon entirely consumed, and little if any of the household furniture saved, and we regret to add the loss of human life, two youths one 13, the other 15 years old, having perished in the flames.—Advertiser.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. June 21.
Distressing Accident.—We are informed by a gentleman who came off the steamer Lancaster last evening, (on her way up) that yesterday the 20th, sometime in the day, the passengers of that boat were called to witness one of the most awful scenes that could be imagined. By some mishap or other, a Mr. Wilson Watly, of the cabin, while passing through the engine house was caught by the fly wheel, and instantaneously severed in two by the irresistible force of that powerful machine; his head, arms, and breast were found in the hold, and the other part of his body still hung above. This unfortunate man, we are informed, was on his way home to Evansville, Ia. Further particulars we did not learn, more than that he was interred at the mouth of Grand River, not being far from where the accident occurred, and but a few miles below this place, on the Ohio river.

From this circumstance we hope men will take warning how they conduct themselves while in the engine room.

Journal.
STEAM BOATS IN THE WEST.—An official list of steam boats on the western waters, on the 1st of January, 1834, gives the whole number at 234, whose aggregate amount of tonnage is equal to 39,000 tons; they have cost three millions of dollars. The total yearly expense of running them is four million and a half. Sixty-six boats went out of service during 1831, '32 and '33; of these, 15 were abandoned as unfit for service; 7 were lost by ice; 15 were burnt; 24 snagged; and 5 destroyed by being struck by other boats;—thus 31 were lost by accidents. The investments in these boats are now decidedly unprofitable; the business is overdone, and though of incalculable advantage to the valley of the Mississippi, they are too often the ruin of their owners.—Moore's Price Current.

FUNERAL HONORS
TO THE MEMORY OF GEN. LAFAYETTE.
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 21, 1834.
The Major General commanding the army, has received through the War Department the following General Orders from the President of the United States:

GENERAL ORDERS.
WASHINGTON, JUNE 21, 1834.
Information having been received of the death of General LAFAYETTE, the President considers it due to his own feelings, as well as to the character and services of that lamented man, to announce the event to the Army and Navy.

LAFAYETTE was a citizen of France, but he was the distinguished friend of the United States. In early life he embarked in that contest which secured freedom and independence to our country. His services and sacrifices constituted a part of our Revolutionary history, and his memory will be second only to that of WASHINGTON in the hearts of the American People. In his own country, and in ours, he was the zealous and uniform friend and advocate of rational liberty. Consistent in his principles and conduct, he never, during a long life, committed an act which exposed him to just accusation, or which will expose his memory to reproach. Living at a period of great excitement and of moral and political revolutions, engaged in many of the important events which fixed the attention of the world, and invited to guide the destinies of France at two of the most momentous eras of her history, his political integrity and personal disinterestedness have not been called in question. Happy in such a life, he has been happy in his death. He has been taken from the theatre of action, with faculties unimpaired, with a reputation unquestioned, and an object of veneration wherever civilization and the rights of man have extended; and mourning as we may and must his departure, let us rejoice that this associate of Washington has gone, as we humbly hope, to rejoin his illustrious commander, in the fulness of days of honor. He came in his youth to defend our country. He came in the maturity of his age to witness her growth in all the elements of prosperity, and while witnessing these, he received those testimonials of national gratitude, which proved how strong was his hold upon the affections of the American People.

One melancholy duty remains to be performed. The last Major General of the Revolutionary army has died. Himself a young and humble participant in the struggles of that period, the President feels called on, as well by personal as public considerations, to direct that appropriate honors be paid to the memory of this distinguished Patriot and soldier. He therefore orders that the same honors be rendered on this occasion, at the different military and naval stations, as were observed upon the decease of Washington, the Father of his Country and his contemporary in arms.

In ordering this homage to be paid to the memory of one so eminent in the field, so wise in council, so endeared in private life, and so well and favorably known to both hemispheres, the President feels assured that he is anticipating the sentiments, not of the Army and Navy only, but of the whole American People.

ANDREW JACKSON.
In obedience to the commands of the President, the following Funeral Honors will be paid at the several stations of the army:

At daybreak twenty-four guns will be fired in quick succession, and one gun at the interval of every half hour thereafter till sunset.

The flags of several stations will, during the day, be at half mast. The officers of the Army will wear crape on their left arm for the period of six months.

This order will be carried into effect under the direction of the commanding officer of each post and station, the day after its reception.

By command of Major General MACOMB, Commanding in Chief:
R. JONES, Adj't. General.

COINCIDENCE.—The 20th of May—the day on which Gen. La Fayette expired—is somewhat marked in Chronological History. On that date of the month, Americus Vesputius sailed on his first voyage of discovery, and that date of the month witnessed the last mortal agonies of Christopher Columbus.

On the 20th of May, Gen. La Fayette, with an inferior force, baffled the British General, Grant, who at the head of 7,500 men, attempted to surprise the Marquis, at Barren Hill. La Fayette's retreat on that occasion, was pronounced a masterly military manoeuvre. It was on the 20th of May, at a later period, that La Fayette's hopes of a free French republic, experienced a total destruction, in the ceremony, where Napoleon Bonaparte was declared Emperor.

These coincidences may appear trivial, but they are curious, and worthy of a passing notice.—Albany Advertiser.

SOMETHING NEW.—A stern boat arrived here a few days ago, from Cincinnati, loaded with Flour, Bacon and Whiskey. A large quantity of Oats has likewise been brought here from the same place. It is believed that there is much more Wheat and Flour in this neighborhood than will be required for home consumption, but is principally in the hands of those who are holding it back with the expectation of receiving higher prices.
Wheeling Gazette.

THE MARKETS.
NEW ORLEANS, JUNE 14.
Flour—There is a regular, but rather limited demand for Flour, at former quotations, $4 75 a $5 per bbl., and there is a fair supply in the market.

Pork—Small sales are made at quotations—for Mess inspected, $12 a $12 50—Prime, $8 50.

Beef is scarce, and continues to meet with a steady and fair demand. We quote Missouri, Mess, inspected $12 50; Prime, $9 a 9 50.

Bacon—We notice no change in the price; the demand, as heretofore, continues pretty fair, particularly for sides, which are very scarce.

Lard—The demand for Lard continues to be very good, and our previous quotations, 7 cents, is still the current price.

Whiskey—There is quite a fair demand for the article at 24 cts per gall.

SHERIFFALTY.

Fellow Citizens—Through the solicitation of many friends, I consented to have my name announced among the list of candidates for the office of Sheriff of Dearborn county. I now understand a report is in circulation that I do not intend to be a candidate. Those who have said that I did not, are mistaken in the matter.

I am a candidate for that office, and from the very flattering prospect I have of succeeding, will continue, with a fond hope of success; and I avail myself of this medium to solicit your votes at the coming election. I have been sick, but am fast recovering, so that I will see many of you before the election. Whether I possess the requisite qualifications to serve you as Sheriff, is submitted to your deliberate and candid decision. Should it be favorable, I shall cherish a fond recollection of your kindness, and will acknowledge the obligation by a faithful discharge of the duties of the station.

The public's humble servant,
JAMES W. HUNTER.

PROPOSALS FOR EXTENDING THE CIRCULATION OF THE RISING SUN TIMES.

AS this paper has now been established better than six months, the public are enabled to judge what claim it possesses to public patronage. It is devoted to the best interests of the Farmer, the Mechanic, and Laboring Man; and is intended to be a medium through which to convey useful and interesting intelligence to all classes of the community. The editors do not interfere in Politics, and they promise that their columns shall remain free from the political discussions which have so long agitated and disturbed the country. Religious discussions shall hereafter be excluded—the Editors being well satisfied that their publication has a greater tendency to stir up discord, jealousy, and strife, than to promote the happiness and welfare of the human family.

The village of Rising Sun is becoming a place of considerable importance, in respect to manufacturing and commercial resources—and the improvements of the country will vie with any other section of the State; and to aid and protect these is one of our chief objects. The paper will also contain Foreign and Domestic News, Sketches of History and Biography, Moral Essays, &c. &c.

With the above statement of the character of their paper, the Editors come before the people as candidates for public patronage, and respectfully solicit an extension of their subscription list.
