Delegates to the National Convention

Will R. Wood, of Lafayette, George Ade, the playwright, of near Brook, Warren McCray, of Kentland, and Kitt Sills, of Monticello, are thus far announced probable candidates to the republican national convention.

These delegates will be two in number and will be selected at a district convention to be held in Rensselaer on Feb. 4th.

This convention is important and the outcome is important in the selection of a republican presidential candidate. While the delegates selected will be for Fairbanks as long as there is a chance for his nomination, the delegates to the Rensselaer convention should ascertain for whom the man they ballot will vote in the national convention should Fairbanks fail of nomination.

It is said Will R. Wood and George Ade and Kitt Sills are for Fairbanks and after that for a transfer of their support to Knox, Foraker or any one except Taft.

Warren McCray is said to be a Taft man, should Fairbanks be disposed of.

Taft is pledged to the furtherance of the Roosevelt policies, is a man of clean record and equal to every emergency of statesmanship he has yet encountered. He is undoubtedly the choice of the people and the people are greater than the politicians. Let every republican turn out to the convention Saturday, Jan. 11th, and name men to the Rensselaer convention who will see to it that Fairbanks-Taft delegates are sent to this convention, and then let them find out that the delegate they vote for to the national convention is for Taft after Fairbanks.

Probably the republican party was never in greater danger than now of being stolen by New York finance mongrels and by corporation men everywhere who fear to have their business exposed to law enforcement as they are having it done by this administration and are certain to have by Taft. Hughes, Cortelyou or LaFollette. The people at these primaries can control in the national convention.

Turn out and vote.

Some Pointed Truths.

Every newspaper has its kickers in the way of people who are forever telling you that such and such an article concerning the death of so and so, or the marriage notice of a certain young couple fail to extol them as it should have done. An Indiana editor became tired of being called a liar, so he made the announcement that he would tell the absolute truth in the future. The next issue of the paper contained these local items:

"John Bonin, our dry goods merchant was in Bellville yesterday to get his son out of jail."

"Sam Doyle, the groceryman, is doing a poor business, owing to his store being so filthy and the stale goods he has."

"Rev. Stix preached Sunday. His sermon was rotten."

"Dave Shankey died yesterday at his home here. The doctor gave it out as heart failure. The fact is, he was drunk and whiskey is what killed him."

"Miss Sylvia Rhodes and James Conham were married Saturday afternoon at the Baptist parsonage. The bride is just an ordinary town girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jack-rabbit does about flying a kite, and was never known to help her mother do an hour's work in her life. She is not a beauty by any means, and has a gait like a fat duck. The groom is an up to date loafer. He's been living off the old folks all his life and don't amount to shucks. They will live with her parents while all they can do to get enough for themselves to eat."

GENTLEMEN:

We the undersigned party on your "homeseekers" excursion of Dec. 17th, 1907, want to express to you our appreciation and at the same time thank you and compliment you, on the completeness of the arrangements by which we have had such an enjoyable and comfortable trip all the time from the time we left Chicago, until we were ready to leave for home including our trip over land, to inspect the land you have for sale.

We had been told of this central Texas land by your workers and thought we had a fair idea of what we would see when we got to the land, but many of us were favorably disappointed and all of us thoroughly pleased with the land, believing it is well adapted to diversified farming such as we are accustomed to in Illinois and Indiana. We are satisfied that a man with the energy manifested in the northern farmer, exerted in this country, very profitable results can be obtained.

Some of us have purchased land, others must complete arrangements for the purchase, before we are able to buy, but we all recommend this territory to all intending purchasers for we find a delightful climate, splendid water at a shallow depth, plenty of rain fall, building material much cheaper than where we now live, fuel very reasonable, costing $2.12 for the best of coal per ton, school facilities are good, rural mail delivery and telephone services at your command.

Your Pullman Palace private car enables the "homeseeker" to travel in perfect ease, without being jostled and crowded as is common on regular excursions, and to all intending purchasers, we want to recommend that they go with the South and West Land Company, and see as we believe the best land to be obtained in the great State of Texas. Again thanking you we are

Very truly

McVicker's Theater.

Dennis O'Sullivan, the new Irish star, has made a sensation in Chicago where he made his debut in McVicker's Theatre Sunday night, using a new romantic Irish comedy called "Peggy Machree." Mr. O'Sullivan brings to his task of entertaining the public a delightful personality; abundance of magnetism; a handsome face, and a superb voice. He had long experience as a singer in the best English grand opera company, that of Carl Rosa in England, and he has studied for years under the finest singing teachers of Europe.

In "Peggy Machree" he sings Chas. Lever's "The Widow Malone," Tom Moore's "Believe Me," Needham's "The Donovans," "The Birds Fly South," "The Wearin' of the Green" and other of the songs dear to the hearts of all Irishmen, and a pleasure to listeners of every nationality. Mr. O'Sullivan's singing of these ballads and folk songs is considered the very highest form of the art of song. The newspapers both in America and in Europe have praised his art in the most enthusiastic terms.

"Peggy Machree" tells the pretty story of a mock marriage which turns out to be a real wedding, and the complications which ensue on the discovery of the reality of the ceremony. In the company engaged by Joseph Brooks and A. W. Dingwall to support the new star are: Elsa Ryan, Annie Yeamans, Mellicent McLaughlin, Marie Welsh, Elsie Smith, Beth Harkness, J. D. O'Hara, Dan Fitzgerald, Percy F. Leach, Marcus Morarity, Jiquel Lanoe, Charles Lamb, and a chorus of sixty.

Mr. O'Sullivan will remain in McVicker's until Saturday Jan. 18.

If you are in the market for any farm stock or equipment, look over John A. Randle's list. His sale will take place on Jan. 8th, at his farm one-half mile east of Pleasant Grove.

Women's Pains

"I was a total wreck," writes Mrs. Beulah Rowley, of Champoeg, Oregon, "from pains I had suffered, for 4 years, every month. Sometimes I would be unconscious for 12 hours at a stretch. I did not know that anything could stop the pain entirely, but Wine of Cardui did. I advise all women suffering with painful periods to use Cardui and be relieved."

It does this by regulating the functions and toning up all the internal female organs to health. It is a pure, specific, reliable, female remedy, with a record of 70 years of success. It has benefited a million others. Why not you? Try it.
