Good News from New York.

The shortage in currency which has prevailed since October is now a thing of the past in New York and financial conditions are rapidly improving all over the country. An Associated Press dispatch from New York of Saturday says:

For the first time since the beginning of the financial stringency in October the clearing house statement-to-day showed that not only had the heavy bank reserve deficit been entirely wiped out, but a surplus of $6,084,010 above 25 per cent legal requirement had been established. The figures made known today exceeded the most expectant hopes of bankers and brokers, and when the statement appeared on the stock tickers it was greeted with a round of cheers in practically every banking house in Wall Street.

Bankers declare that no better evidence than the clearing house statement could be obtained to show the rapid restoration of confidence and the tremendous outpouring of hoarded money.

The excellent statement forces shadows an early retirement of clearing house certificates, which were first issued on Oct. 26 of last year. With the end of the money stringency, there will now be plenty of cash for the business and industrial field and many contemplated projects, which were temporarily abandoned during the money pinch, can now be financed and proceed with.

The clearing house banks faced a deficit in reserve on Nov. 23 of $51,103,600, the largest in history. Since that time the deficit has constantly decreased, and with the rapid return of hoarded money and funds from the interior last week's deficit of $11,509,550 has not only been obliterated, but a substantial surplus of $5,000,000 estimated.

She Rode Bumpers, Too.

Burrell Lindsay and his wife, who were married several months ago and went to Portland, Ore., to make their fortune, found themselves knocked out by the financial flurry and they have returned to their home in Mitchell, Ind. They were too independent to send for funds and so Mrs. Lindsay put on a suit of her husband's clothes and together they took the "bumpers" for the East. They left Portland sixteen days ago and came thru without mishap. Mrs. Lindsay found man's clothes attractive while making the trip. However, she is very willing to return to sacques and skirts.

"The Stay's the Thing."

In corset comfort, style and wear, a superior article is always in demand. Spirella conforms to all movements of the body. It is the most comfortable, unbreakable stay yet produced. It being sufficiently strong gives all the support that is consistent with hygiene and good health. The rigid yielding corset which supports the body in an armorlike fashion is never healthful. What every lady needs in a corset, is a garment to fit her form perfectly, and give her grace and style which nature intended she should. Call let Mrs. G. W. Goff take your measure and send direct to the factory.
