LOCAL HAPPENINGS

FRIDAY

Bennie King is recovering from a weeks serious sickness.

Grandma Hayes, in the east part of town, is so seriously sick that small hope is entertained for her recovery.

Mrs. Carrie Lagin has returned to her home in Woodstock, Ill., after a short visit with her father Nelson Randle.

The young married people have organized a card club, and 28 couples met with Bert Hopkins and wife Wednesday night.

Candidates for county nominations in Wayne county have entered into an agreement not to do any treating in the way of handing out cigars or otherwise.

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Kindig went to Bonney Thursday afternoon, where he addressed a meeting that evening, and near which place they have relatives with whom they visited over night.

Frank Wood, formerly with For sythes' Department Store, but now manager of a big department in Billings, Mont., recently purchased some land near Billings for which he paid $300 per acre.

Mrs. F. P. Morton and younger children took their final departure for Goodland Thursday, Mr. Morton and the two older boys having gone over a day or two before. They will live in the town of Goodland.

Phil Henson won the first prize in the pool tournament at the Little Indian. Bruce Hardy captured second and Albert Hahn won the booby prize. Henson won 12 out of 15 from a classy field. Landy McGee, Joe Lewis, Paisley Olak, R. G. Mills and Anson Cox all going down to defeat before the great work of the winner.

Superintendent Lamson returned from the Purdue corn show Thursday afternoon. He says there are only 12 or 13 Jasper county people in attendance. Lee Adams, with the corn that took first prize in the county contest, won fourth prize in sectional contest, a boy from Kentland won 1st. Lee and young Augburger are now engaged in the corn judging contest, the best boy judge of corn wins a $40 prize.

W. B. Stover was in today to get his sale bills the Republican had printed for him. His sale date is Jan. 30th, and a list of his stock will be published in each issue of the Semi-Weekly Republican until that date. Last fall Mr. Stover and several other parties not far from his home in Jordan tp., made a trip to Litchmore, N. Dak., and all purchase farms. Mr. Stover bought a half section. He will move to his farm there shortly after the sale. He will also look after a half section of land that John Zehr, of Carpenter tp., bought there, and which is located only a mile from where his farm is.

The talkative Wolcott checker players seem to have altogether ignored the direct challenge of the Rensselaer players, as no answer to the challenge has been received and the Enterprise did not mention the challenge this week. W. N. Jordan, from up near Gifford, was in town and tackled Thomas Stevens and Frank Hill Thursday. He has always been equal to holding his own with these players in the past, but they all defeated him on this occasion. These three and McFarland are now in fine shape and all are aching to take the concait out of the Wolcott players. Since they have offered to go there, entertain them here or meet at Reynolds, it would seem that a match should be arranged.

SATURDAY

Robert Milliron, of Knox, Ind., is here for a short visit with Leo Reeves.

Mrs. Joe Lash and Mrs. Fred Phillips attended the poultry show in Monticello yesterday.

Dave Yeoman Jr. has returned from South Bend where he been in business for the past few days.

Luther Randle, son of John A. Randle, left today with the car of household goods for Mangum, Okla., where they will make their future home.

Joseph Luers has returned from Woodstock, Ill., where he was called as chief witness in a big law suit. He reports much more snow there than we have had this winter.

E. W. Gwin was in town today making arrangements for his public sale and the Republican will print his bills in a few days. It will take place Monday, Feb. 3rd. Wayne will move to South Dakota, and expects to let Republican readers hear from him after he moves.

President Infield, of the Inter-urban railroad, was in town this morning. He was going down to Round Grove tp., White county, this morning to look after the interests of the subsidy election to be held there on Feb. 11th. It had been postponed from Jan. 11th.

At Warren Poole's sale in Hanging Grove tp., Friday, one team of mares brought $340, and other things a good price, the sale totaling over $1,500. The crowd was not large, the day being rather bad, but everything was sold and at very satisfactory prices. Mr. Poole will move to Muncie to take charge of his father, John Poole's brick plant.

Mayr Ellis received a telephone message, last night, from Mayr Becker, of Hammond asking him if it would be possible for him to come to Indianapolis today to attend a meeting to endorse the proposed water way from the great lakes to the gulf of Mexico and to assist in the attempt to have the canal pass thru the northern part of this state.

E. P. Holly, secretary of the Monon Y. M. C. A., at Lafayette was in town on business today. He says, "Rensselaer is one of the prettiest cities I have ever seen in the middle west. Its streets are wonderfully good and has a larger number of pretty residences than any town its size in Indiana. I would like very much to spend next summer here."

W. R. Geier and ye scribe attended the Monticello Poultry Show Tuesday where they have birds on exhibition. The show at that place is a grand success, over 400 birds and some very choice specimens. Mr. Purvis, the judge who also judged the big show at Nashville, Tenn., last week, pronounced Mr. Geier's White Rocks the best birds he had handled this year.—Remington Press.

Today is bright and sun shiny again and the little cold snap that did not register lower temperature than 16 degrees above zero has been dispelled. The coldest weather so far reported seems to have been 10 above zero, which occurred early in December. R. A. Parkinson today recalled the winter that the Monon railroad was being built. He hauled ties all winter, and most of the time thru mud. It has probably been a great many years since a winter passed that did not register some zero temperature in this latitude. The open winter will give the "oldest citizen" a chance to be heard.

MONDAY

Dr. Wallace Parkinson is in Lafayette today on business.

A fine big baby girl was born to Commissioner John Pettit and wife, last Saturday.

James Clark and John Jones have gone to Springfield, Mo., on a prospecting trip.

Percy Hunter has gone to Mangum, Okla., where he will work for John Randle.

Attorney Geo. Williams and Court Reporter, Ira Stigler are in Muncie today on business.

Grandma Kayes is somewhat better this morning but still remains in a critical condition.

Wallace Miller has gone to Chicago where he will spend a couple of weeks visiting with relatives.

Mrs. S. S. Barnes, of Fowler, was here over Sunday, visiting her father, Simon Phillips, who is still confined at his home as a result of an attack of grip, which has very stubbornly held on to him.

Ernest Clark has returned to his home in Big Rapids, Mich., after a short visit with his brother, Will Clark.

F. A. Baker, editor of the Delphi Herald, and wife, spent Saturday and Sunday with his uncle, D. C. Hopkins.

Little Ed Duvall, who recently had an operation performed on one of his eyes, is in Lafayette today for further treatment.

Judge William Spangler, of Winamac, dropped dead Saturday morning in his law office in that town. He was 76 years of age.

John L. Moorman, editor of the Knox Republican, has been unanimously elected chairman of the thirty-eighth district organization.

H. A. B. Moorehouse, a well known former White county treasurer, and later president of the state bank of Monticello, died last week.

Mrs. John Randle and son Russell have gone to Chicago to spend a day or two before departing for their future home in Oklahoma. Mr. Randle will follow tomorrow.

Swindlers are abroad trying to sell coupons to the sum of $10, said to be good for that much trade on merchants of northern Indiana towns. Don't buy any, they are frauds.

John Hessler, the Kokomo man who has lived for the past seven months on a diet of soft boiled eggs, is still living, altho suffering sinking spells from lung trouble at intervals.

Former Post-Master Frank B. Meyer, now assistant post-master at Gary, is here arranging for the removal of his drug stock which has been stored in the Nowels House block. He will probably place it in the Thompson cement building.

The show at the Bijou was exceptionally good Saturday night and good crowds greeted both performances. If managers, Mills and Ellis continue to give the same class of shows in the future that they have in the past, the 5 cent theatre will no doubt be a permanent institution in Rensselaer.
