

Nerve Sick

If weak, worn-out, nervous, cannot sleep; have indigestion, headache, neuralgia or periodic pains, it is because your nerves are weak. It is the lack of nerve force that makes the stomach, heart, lungs, etc., work imperfectly—become sick. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick when it restores nerve strength, and puts the power behind the organs to do their work.

"Almost three years I suffered from nervousness, indigestion, and palpitation of the heart. I could not eat or sleep with comfort, or walk or talk without suffering. Altogether I was in a bad condition. My doctor did not seem to do me any good. I had tried so many remedies that I did not have much hope of any of them doing me any good. Dr. Miles' Nervine was suggested by a friend. I got relief from the first, and after a few days I felt like a new person. It not only relieved my heart and nerves, but has invigorated my whole system. I am very grateful because since I have stopped using it, I have had absolutely no return of my old trouble."

What a Man Is Up Against.

Recently we were handed a slip of paper on which the following was type written:

"If you save your money, you're a grouch;

If you spend it, you're a loafer;
If you get it, you're a grafter;

If you don't get it, you're a bum;
So what the H—'s the use."

There is not much optimism in the lines, and we should like to believe that there was not much truth, but a careful survey of the people around us makes us believe that the author knew about what he was about when he penned the lines.

Truly, the man who saves his money and deprives himself to accumulate a little or tries to lay some by for a rainy day is called a stingy old miser and about half the people are knocking him because he don't open up and spend his money. They don't figure that he is simply economic and that he has as his example in his efforts to secure a competency every man who has ever made a success from a small beginning. They don't care what his plans are for the future; they don't care how honest he may be; they don't care how willing he may be in the support of worthy charities; they don't care what the direct purpose of his thrift and economy are, if he don't go out with the boys and spend every last cent he makes he's a grouch and a miser, and therefore no good on earth.

The second proposition is nearer the truth, with the possible exception of the use of a wrong word. The fellow that spends his money is not necessarily a loafer. There are people that work long hours and diligently too who never have a cent, yet who loaf but little. A better word would be spendthrift. The public soon learns of the habits of a young man and if he gets rid of all of his money they learn about it and talk about it, and there is many a young man who makes good wages about whom the public are truthfully saying, "He's a spendthrift." It is a bad reputation for any young man to get, and it is not the reputation but the habit that injures the person that has it. He had better be called "stingy," "grouch," and "miser," and have the money, than be called "spendthrift" and be without it.

Concerning the third proposition there does seem to be a disposition on the part of the public to speak of any man who has accumulated money as a "grafter." A man may have got his start by the hardest knocks, and simply have been in his guard all of the time to keep others from getting the best of him in a business way, and never have had a tainted dollar in his possession in his life, and yet there are many people who believe that such a man can only be attained by dishonest means, and lately there seems to be a little prejudice by some against those who have been successful in the accumulation of money, and it is not infrequent that we hear of men of means referred to as "grafter." And yet Rensselaer is largely made up of men who have made successes in a business way by the greatest diligence and economy, and there have been very few who were born with silver spoons in their mouths. This attitude on the part of many is really covet-ousness or envy and if unchecked leads to crime and destroys the grandest privilege in our boasted land of freedom. It is not the case that the man who has the money is a grafter, but there are lots of people who allege that it is, and who treat the man with money like he was really dishonest.

And on the other hand it is not true that the man without money is a bum, although the bum is usually without money, and perhaps long continued money drouth would make more or less of a bum out of a man.
The great trouble is not in getting it but in keeping it, and it is not every one who can act on the plan of "getting all you can and canning all you get." Unless there is some natural reason, some misfortune, some lack of faculties, every man can "get" some money and then it is up to the man as to what he does with it. It is not what a man gets but what he saves that counts, and the fellow that gets it and has the public call him a "grafter" and the one who saves it and has the public call him a "grouch" has considerably the best of a bargain. True, many find it difficult to meet the needs of every day life with their earnings, and yet men have saved from the smallest incomes until they had enough to make some investment, for which their keen eye has been looking and beckoned them on, and they have become successful, while others with many times the income are constantly in debt.

If the object of life were to please the people there would, indeed, be little use, for the public is prone to criticise. With some a man is too brash, with others he is too backward; with some a man is too partisan, with others he is too lukewarm; with some he is too fast, with others too slow; and, of course, everybody has an opinion of everybody else.

But we do not live for the opinion the public or any part of it has of us, and the man who is going to lay down and give up the struggle because of criticism won't amount to much. A successful man once said that whenever he heard of an unkind thing being said about him he just tried real hard to think of something good about his critic and then tried to make the man ashamed of himself by publicly praising him. In the matter of what one has or has not, how they got it or failed to get it, public opinion should cut but little importance, and the man that tries to regulate his habits and his manners to suit the public is not so apt to succeed as the one who is "just himself" all of the time with regard to what people may think.
If trying to appease public opinion was the only aim in life, there wouldn't be much use, but as the aim of man should be higher there is considerable "use" and a little pessimistic suggestion should not mar the ambition of any one.

POULTRY AND BEEES

DOUBLE BROODING COOP.

It Is Not Hard to Build and Will Do Good Service.

The double brooding coop shown in the drawing is four feet square and three feet high at rear, 2 1/4 in front.
It may be built of tongue and groove stuff or straight-edge boards one-half or three-fourths-inch thick. The hinged lids should have two cleats each to Double Brood Coop.

make them firm. In front is a one-inch mesh wire netting and at the edges are strips of three-quarter by 1 1/2-inch stuff, to insure rigidity. In one corner, as shown, is the nest, four inches deep and 15 to 18 inches square, according to the size of the hens kept. The board floor, explains the Orange Judd Farmer, is covered with sawdust or sand. Food and drink are more readily supplied through the door, which preferably lifts in front, as shown.

PROFIT IN POULTRY.

Farmer Keeps Accounts and Finds Biggest Money in the Chickens.

One farmer down east, in order to find out where the leaks and where the gains were, kept an exact account with every department of his farm.
He discovered that he was losing money on his beef cattle, that hogs just paid for themselves, that sheep were good if his lambs came early, and that the poultry made the largest per cent of profit of any feature of his farm. The result was that he quit fooling with beef and hogs and put more money and time into poultry.
The increased prosperity on that farm was so marked that he wrote out for publication his experience.

Because a hen is small and a steer is big is a child's reason for having contempt for the former and respect for the latter, says Farmers' Voice.
One of the biggest money makers in the world is the street car business, which depends entirely upon its income for five-cent sales. A stick of chewing gum costs but a penny, yet just recently a syndicate was organized with over a million dollars capital to make "trust chewing gum." It will pay the farmer and his wife to consider the money there may be made in poultry if wisely directed. Organize the hen on a business basis; put up new, clean, airy quarters; get proper egg-making feeds; learn the value of cleanliness, light, warmth and sunshine in winter; get a good incubator and control your hatches so that you will have winter layers, broilers, etc., when they are most profitable. You will soon learn that for the money invested and labor required, the hen is the most economical and highly efficient converter of rough feeds into money you have ever tried.

POULTRY NOTES.

Breed up the flock and get uniform birds.

Shape makes the breed-color the variety.

Do not try to keep a larger flock than you can take care of.

Keep dampness out of the poultry house; that will help keep out disease.

The habit some hens have of laying every day is not shared by all. If you hatch eggs from these every-day layers you will soon find you have no drones in the flock.

In running your incubator follow each and every instruction given by the manufacturers to the letter. They want to see you succeed and are not imposing tasks they consider needless.

Neglected Fowls.

It is seldom that neglected fowls are profitable. A great many people have conceived the idea that they can start a flock and let it alone and that the results will be profits day by day.
As well might a farmer plant a field to anything and expect it to produce a good crop without caring for it. The weeds would soon grow up and choke the economic plants. In the poultry house we do not have weeds, but we have lice, mites, rats, cats, hawks, diseases of many kinds and thieves.
These all correspond to the weeds that choke the crop in the field. They make it impossible for the lay person to succeed.

Lime for Sour Soils.

Lime is the best corrector of sour soils. If you had a plot that contained or produced a crop of sorrel last year you may rest assured that it is sour and crops will not make a profitable growth thereon until the sour-ness is overcome. Usually an application of from one to three tons per acre will be ample in the average cases. Besides correcting acidity, the lime will liberate much of the unso-luble plant food, thus increasing the productiveness of the soil.

HOW IS YOUR DIGESTION?

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c at A. F.

How to Cure Constipation

Simple Home Remedy That Is Safe and Pleasant

Few people escape constipation. Catching cold, over eating, worry, lack of exercise, failure to answer promptly the calls of nature, diseased or weakened system or strong medicines may cause it.
The too common practice of taking salts, or pills or some such violent cathartic always does more harm than good. They make the bowels act quickly and violently simply because they irritate them and leave them in a worse condition than before.

What is needed is a mild easy herb laxative, that gives regular daily movements in all cases, yet does not pain or gripe, and which will strengthen the bowels and tone up the system instead of depleting it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin taken at night before going to bed will bring an easy pleasant natural movement in the morning even in the most obstinate cases and without any bad effects. No pain, no gripe and it is so safe and pleasant to take, mothers give it to their babies with splendid results. It is an aid to digestion and tones up the system as well as cures bowel troubles. Dr. L. E.
Covey, Savannah, Tenn., writes: "I get better results from it than any Pepsin I ever used." Dr. T. Jones, Osgood, Mo., says: "I consider Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the best of all laxatives." Mrs.
Almon Willis, Jamaica, Vt., says: "I truly believe it saved my little boy's life." Rev. A. J. Fletcher, Rutherford, Tenn., says: "I am 80 years old and your Syrup Pepsin has cured me of dyspepsia and bowel trouble."

W. D. Jackson, Burns Station, Tenn., says: "I was afflicted with constipation and dyspepsia for nine years, and found no relief until I used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin." All druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

We are glad to send a free sample to any reader of this paper who has never used it and will give it a fair trial. Write
