

Nervous Indigestion

The action of digestion is controlled by nerves leading to the stomach. When they are weak, the stomach is deprived of its energy. It has no power to do its work. If you want permanent relief, you must restore this energy. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores nervous energy, and gives the organs power to perform their functions.

"For many years I was an acute sufferer from nervous indigestion; at times I was so dependent on food as to be almost a burden. I tried all kinds of remedies and various physicians with little or no relief, until one night last summer I saw Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure advertised. I resolved to make one more trial which I did in the purchase of one bottle of Nervine and one of Heart Cure. In a few days I began to feel better, which encouraged me so much that I continued the medicine until I had taken more than a dozen bottles. I am very much improved in every way; in body, mind and spirits since. I make a special point to recommend the medicine, and I feel a sincere pleasure in knowing that several persons have been benefited through my recommendations."

A. S. MELTON, Asheville, N. C.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Warren Robinson, president of the Commercial Club; C. G. Spittler and A. Leopold will go to Chicago on the 9:55 train tomorrow to investigate the factory plant that is offered to Rensselaer. They will report to the Club probably Friday night.

Geo. Parkinson, son of R. A. Parkinson, jumped out of a wagon last Thursday night and alighted on a broken pop bottle, badly cutting his left foot. It later became infected and gave him quite serious trouble for a few days, but is now getting along very nicely.

A. L. Branch, former proprietor of the Rensselaer Feed Store, who moved some months ago to Stockton, Cal., where he was engaged in the automobile and bicycle business with his brother, has made another change. He is now in San Francisco, where he is the general manager of a large flour and feed milling company.

Louis P. Shirer, sheriff-elect of Jasper county, will hold his public sale on Monday, December 21st, preparatory to his removal to this city to occupy the jail, from which Sheriff O'Connor will move to his home at Kniman after the expiration of his term of office. The Joe Jackson farm on which Mr. Shirer has been living for the past three years, has been rented to Joe Truly, son of Anton Truly, and it is understood that Joe is going to have his sister keep house for him.

Frank E. Lewis, the Gifford railroad superintendent, is down from Kersey today. He has not yet recovered from the assault of several weeks ago, having suffered a partial paralysis as a result of the blow he received on the head. A blood clot formed there and caused the paralysis. He is being treated by an Indianapolis specialist and thinks he will eventually overcome the paralysis. Nothing positive has been found out about the assault and robbery, but Mr. Lewis is now having the officers work on a clue that may lead up to the arrest of the scoundrels that assaulted him.

T. Layton, of Indianapolis, was the guest Monday of his old friend J. L. Hagins, and the two spent several very pleasant hours together. Mr. Hagins was not expecting his old friends and as Mrs. Hagins is still in the hospital in Chicago, he arranged for a fine dinner at the home of Mrs. Anna Yeiter, and the only drawback there was the fact that the dinner was so good that Mr. Layton did not get down town to see the city. For the past 16 years Mr. Layton has been the Pullman car agent at Indianapolis, and for many years prior to that time he was a Pullman conductor. He is now 87 years old and will be retired on Jan. 1st at a salary of $1,000 a year. Mr. Hagins served as a Pullman conductor for 29 years and is also retired on a salary. The Pullman company is not one of the heartless corporations that are so much talked about these days.

Vice-president Fairbanks is to go on the lecture platform following his dissection from office, and there is a spirited contest between lyceum lecture bureaus to book him.

Perry Marlatt returned last night from Newcomersville, Ohio, bringing his daughter, Miss Katie, home with him. He found upon his arrival there that she was not in as poor health as he had feared and after a short visit there, it being his old home, they returned to Rensselaer, and his daughter seems to be in about her usual state of health.

Abe Hardy is here today, having dropped off here last night on his way from Chicago to Lafayette. He was with the Crouch horse exhibit at the International Stock Show.

The Ladies of the Christian church wish to thank the public for their liberal patronage at the bazaar held last week. They enjoyed a very nice business and disposed of most of the articles offered and feel very grateful to the public.

R. P. Benjamin is confined to the house with a severe kidney trouble. Persons wishing to see him on business should call at his home on Austin avenue. He may not be able to be at his office for several days yet.

Fish Gilmore and wife are visiting for a few days with Chas. Gundy and family. Fish was running a saloon at LeCrosse, but was deposed by the remonstrance route and expects soon to move away from LeCrosse, but he has not decided on a location.

The gross receipts at the Christian church bazaar held last week were about $200. This included the meals served. It was one of the best patronized bazaars they ever held and they had an unusually large number of fancy and useful articles for sale.

J. A. Keister, of Jordan township, did not enjoy very good success at his sale Tuesday, in fact, he was unwilling to see the stock go for the prices bid for it and he bid most of it in, allowing but one of the horses to be sold. The farming implements went at ridiculously low prices.

Conrad Kellner, the ice man, has had day and night forces at work since Monday morning filling his ice artificial pond, which he recently built on his land across the river from the ice house. The water is pumped from the river to the pond by Jim Clark's steam engine, and Jim and Bert Campbell constitute the day pumping force and Cooney and Horatio Ropp constitute the night force. Monday night it was quite cold and the coal supply became exhausted and they were afraid to let the fire go out because the pipes would freeze and burst. So from about midnight on they had to burn wood, Cooney going up the river and getting large willow drift wood that lay on the bank. Horatio burned the wood about as fast as Cooney gathered it and Cooney had about the busiest time of his history.
