In the cities girls are beginning to take the place of boys in offices and the reason assigned for the change is one that boys would do well to consider. The old-fashioned office boy, who swears, smokes cigarettes and is impertinent usually, and reads dime novels in a corner, or loaf when sent on an errand, is fast disappearing and it is predicted that in the course of time the office girl will have entirely taken his place. No one wants an impertinent, swaggering cigarette smoking boy about an office or as a clerk, bookkeeper or stenographer. Girls do not acquire these detestable habits, and are, therefore getting the places.

Today, Monday, they will play the Boy City band team.

Boy City Election.

After one of the fiercest campaigns ever waged in Boy City, Lester Upton, of Muncie, Ind., Conservative, was elected mayor of the city by a majority of thirty-three votes over Varnum Evans, of Chicago, Liberalist. The Conservatives carried the entire city ticket.

The polls opened at 3:00 o'clock and the voting was brisk. The booth was placed in the building occupied by the Camera Club and the Australian system of voting was used.

At breakfast yesterday morning the talk of the election began and all day until the polls were closed at five o'clock the main conversation was of the coming election. Towards time for the polls to close the excitement reached fever heat and a noisy crowd of citizens gathered around the polls waiting for the returns. At all times during the day the leaders of both parties predicted victory for their side.

When the results of the election were announced a cheer went up from the crowd assembled that resounded among the hills around the city and the echoes of which could be heard clear up in the Park.

The members of the victorious side evicted an Indian war dance around the plaza and then, headed by the band, and with the mayor-elect on their shoulders, they marched on around the city. This celebration continued until supper time.

After supper the big jollification meeting was held in which the members of both parties took part. The band gave a short concert, and this was followed by speeches by all the candidates—both the successful and unsuccessful. All expressed their devotion and loyalty for Boy City and a high regard for the present management. All expressed their determination to unite and co-operate with the management in its efforts to have a bigger and better Boy City and to give a "Square Deal to All."
