

Notre Dame Regulars Will Take Part in Game Against Yale on Saturday

BOSTON TEAM TO LIVE IN HISTORY

Miracle Workers is Only Title That Describes the Great Record Made by the New World's Champions.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 15.—When you speak of Boston today you just naturally think of miracles and wizardry and such. George Tecumseh Stallings is the miracle man. Johnny Evers is the miracle captain. "Rabbit" Maranville is the miracle infielder. "Hank" Gowdy is the miracle shortstop. Dick Rudolph and Bill James are the miracle pitchers and the Braves are the miracle baseball team. Everything Bostonese, in fact smacks a touch of the miraculous and they have there now even the miracle beans.

You have to admit too that the description fits as neatly as the well known paper on the wall. That is exactly what the Brave team is—a collection of miracles from James Gaffney, the miracle coach to Willie Conners, the miracle bat boy who wears miracle spectacles. They had to be, all of them, first to pull the National league championship Bostonward after getting away to such a disastrous start; second to beat the hitherto unbeatable Athletics; and third to establish a new world series record of a clean sweep without even so much as a tie.

From the last place in the National league on July 18 to a world's championship on October 13—and the most clean cut, decisive championship in history, at that—is the tidy little job which the Braves have just completed. It sets a record at which ball teams will probably be shooting still, when the fans will have to dig into baseball history to recall the deeds of Gowdy, Maranville, Rudolph, James and the rest. It stands out as the most brilliant achievement of all time, combining miracles affects with wonderful ball playing and sensational performances with inspired judgment. The Brave charge dating from July 18 will live forever.

They got the jump on the Athletics at the start and they never relinquished it. Stallings knew in this lay his greatest hope. If the Athletics could be overwhelmed in the opening skirmish two big advantages had been gained for the Braves. One was the effectual destroying of the spectre of the Mackmen's greatness and the buoyancy thus given to their own spirits and the other was the upsetting of the Philadelphia machine and the sudden thrusting upon it of the realization that it had finally met its match. Stallings believed the overwhelming victory of his players in the first game sealed the fate of the three-time world's champions.

Already a team which was moving at terrible speed the Braves needed just that touch to give them the confidence that would permit them to ride rough shod over the Athletics as they had over all clubs in the National league. Up to then they had been hopeful of victory almost to the point of being sure of it, but the ease with which they beat their supposedly unconquerable opponents in the first game left them with no doubt regarding the outcome. They were aimed toward the world series goal and nothing could stop them.

WILL STAGE BOUTS AT SAN FRANCISCO

Willie Ritchie to Meet Johnny Dundee—Clabby Will Box George Chip.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Two pugilistic encounters that will bring into action championship contenders in the light and middle weight divisions within the next month were arranged for here Wednesday.

The first contest will be a four-round affair between Willie Ritchie, former champion of the lightweight division, and Johnny Dundee, who has just graduated from the ranks of the featherweights. The men will meet on the night of October 23.

Jimmy Clabby and George Chip will be the principals in the second half of the carnival. They will travel over the twenty-round route either on October 20 of November 6, and the winner will be proclaimed middleweight champion of the world. This bout, which has been hanging fire for two weeks was clinched Wednesday when Chip agreed to do 155 pounds four hours before the fight.

YALE SUBSTITUTE HURT AT PRACTICE

Atwood Violet, One of the Most Promising of the Youngsters, May Not Play This Season.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 15.—Atwood Violet, Jr., of New York, one of the most promising substitutes on the Yale varsity, was injured during practice Wednesday afternoon and may not be able to play again this season. Violet collided with Carroll Knowles, the big half back and was knocked out completely. He recovered later in the New Haven general hospital, but has been advised to abandon football for some time to come.

Practice Wednesday began active preparation for the Notre Dame game next Saturday. The varsity was put through two stiff fifteen minute halves, but the lineup was changed frequently in order that the substitutes might be tried out in the new formations and plays. The work of the first team was very satisfactory. It scored four times while holding the scrubs pointless. Ainsworth and Knowles were in the lineup for the first time this week. Johnny Field is the latest addition to the coaching board.

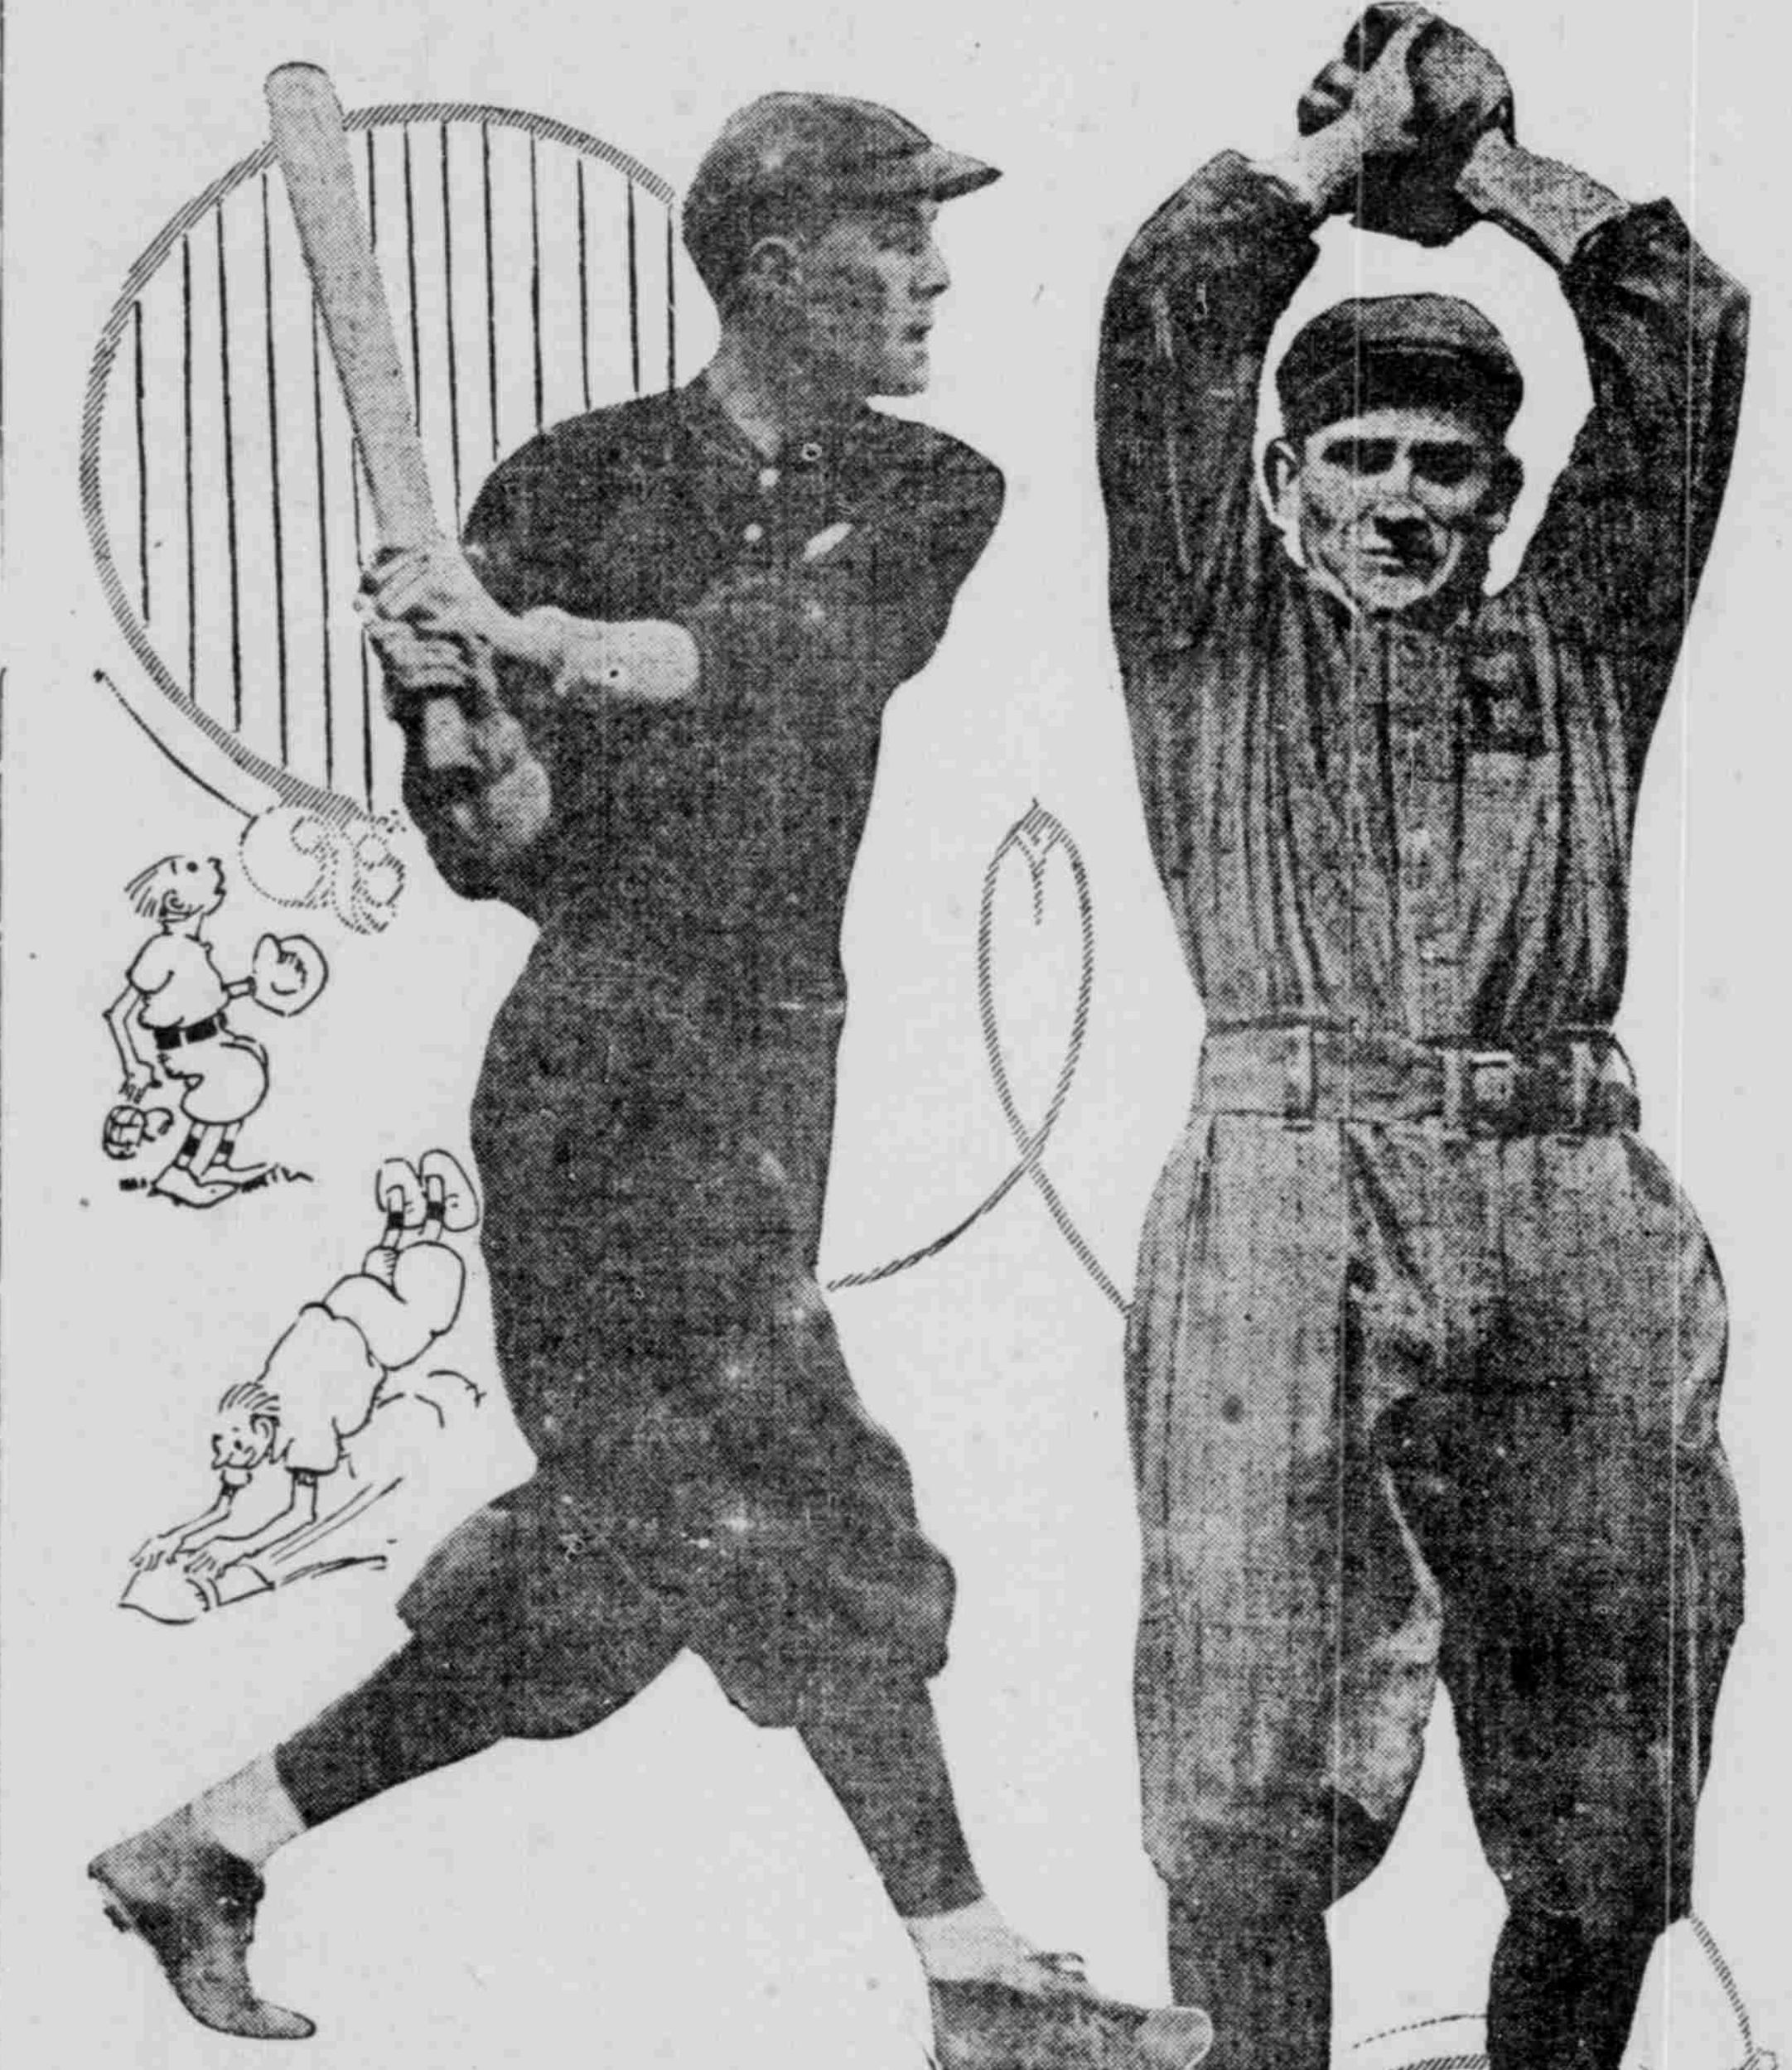

BUSY AT HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 15.—The crimson pigskin chasers were given one of the most strenuous workouts of the season this afternoon and it was only after they were completely exhausted that they were sent to the locker building.

After the preliminary practice of punting, drop kicking, forward passing and tackling, teams A and B of squad A were lined up against each other and with the first string back field playing behind the second string line and the sub back field behind the regular line scrimmaged for 15 minutes without any letup. The team with the regular back field scored a field goal from the 25-yard line by Mackin Lock.

The scrimmage was hard and fierce. Then the first string line was taken out and the remaining subs put in.

Work of This Pair in Last World's Series Puts Them on Par With Any Keystone Kings of History

JOHNNY EVERS.

Picking the greatest pair of Keystone kings has always been a favorite sport with baseball fans and every few years has produced a new pair who were held to be the best ever. So many years ago it was Joe Tinker and Johnny Evers who were given the crowns.

This was back in the days when the Cubs were in their prime. These two men grabbed practically everything that came their way and appeared to be one machine. They seemed to know the other was waiting for the play and "Tinker to Evers to Chance" became one of baseball's classics.

Then the Cubs mixed it with the Athletics and lost. Then fans began noting the playing of Collins and Barry. They were declared by many to be the greatest pair ever developed. Their work was brilliant and had much to do with keeping the Athletics well up in the front these last several years.

Now the Collins-Barry combination is given the second seat while Johnny Evers and "Rabbit" Maranville are given the crowns. These two combinations met in the series just closed and while the Braves made one error each, it was their brilliant defense that stopped several threatening Athletic rallies.

TRACK MEN START WORK

First Cross Country Run of Season Held at N. D.

The Notre Dame track men had their first cross country drill last evening. Although the weather was unpleasant for men in track suits still a number of the old squad and a promising number of new men were out to get limbered up. Work in the gymnasium will begin this afternoon. The track men have been unable to get the gymnasium because of indoor football practice every evening. With

CUBS AND SOX ARE IDLE

Rain Steps in and Prevents Ending of Series.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Neither the Cubs nor the Sox are champions of this city for 1914. Both still have a chance as both have won three games, but when they were ready to play Wednesday the weather was in no condition and the game was called off. With both teams tied the game Thursday afternoon promises to be a lively affair. The Sox have taken a great brace and evened the count. The hose routers are figuring right now that Callahan's lads were given an advantage by the rain Wednesday.

POSTPONE RACES

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15.—The grand circuit trots were again postponed today on account of rain.

TO FIGHT JACK JOHNSON

Willard to Get Chance at World's Title on March 17.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The Jess Willard-Jack Johnson fight will be staged St. Patrick's day, March 17, at Juarez, Mexico, said Tom Jones, manager for Willard Wednesday. Johnson's demands have been met, according to Jones, who said a New York man will sail for London at once to get the big fellow's signature.

The authorities at Juarez have sanctioned the bout. Havana, Cuba, also asked for it.

TO GIVE BATTLE TO YALE ELEVEN

Students at Notre Dame Will Give Team Great Send-Off. All Cripples Will Be in Game on Saturday.

With the encouraging cheers of the entire student body ringing in their ears, the members of the Notre Dame football team left South Bend at 10:20 o'clock this morning for New Haven, Conn., in a special car, where they will clash with Yale in what promises to be one of the greatest, inter-sectional battles ever staged on any gridiron.

The students gave the squad a rousing send-off on the Notre Dame campus. There was cheering and singing, mingled with the strains of the Notre Dame military band. New words have been composed for a song, especially for the occasion. Under the leadership of Cheer Leader Joe Gargen, the students gave one of the greatest farewells to a team in the history of the local school. The team was taken to the depot in automobiles.

Coaches Harper and Rockne hurled their men through the final home drill before the big eastern game on Cartier field yesterday afternoon. There was no scrimmage. It was a general "brushing up", that was given the varsity.

Men in Good Shape. The local athletic heads have left no stones unturned, no loop holes open in their endeavors to have the blue and gold in the best possible condition for the game. Things looked gloomy a few days ago with several of the stars on the hospital list, but the majority are again in good shape. Bruises have been tenderly cared for, even "charley-horses" have received unusual attention in the efforts of the coaches to have the men in good physical condition.

The last two weeks of practice have been perhaps the most strenuous in years. The men have kept constantly on the go. Efforts have been made to remedy every weakness and it appears that the coaches are ready to reap the benefits of their hard program.

All four of the former cripples will be in the game. Eichenlaub, Keefe, Lathrop and Bachman, four towers of strength, are on the mend and will be in the lineup when the whistle blows. The lineup of the Notre Dame team when the Yale game starts will be as follows:

Elward, lc; Jones, capt, lt; Keefe, lg; Fitzgerald, c; Bachman, rg; Lathrop, rt; Mills, re; Coffall, qb; Finegan, lbh; Kelleher or Pliska, rbb; Eichenlaub, fb.

Since the game was scheduled last spring, the eyes of all the football world have been looking forward with eagerness to the coming Notre Dame-Yale clash. It will be a test of eastern football against western football, for it will be a great eastern team against a great western team in Saturday's game. Last year, Notre Dame invaded the east with great success, beating both West Point and Penn State on their home grounds, in less than a week's time. The Notre Dame team awoke eastern critics with a start at its wonderful exhibition of the open game in the West Point clash.

Reports from the east are to the effect that Old Eli is represented by one of the strongest teams in years. At the same time, newspaper dispatches declare that numerous injuries have weakened the Yale lineup. Coach Harper and his men, however, are prepared to meet Yale at its strongest.

Besides the coaches, the following men will be taken on the trip to Yale: Capt. Jones, Keefe, Lathrop, Fitzgerald, Bachman, Ward, Sharp, Holmes, Voelkers, H. O'Donnell, Bergman, Coffall, Eichenlaub, Kelleher, Pliska, Dugan, Larkin, Berger, Finegan, Mills, King, Bauman and Elward.

The squad of players is unusually large, there being 23 men, more than two men to each position. White, a center on the Yale team, is a former Notre Dame student. White graduated from the Notre Dame preparatory school. He was for three years in Carroll hall and one year in Walsh. While in the latter hall in 1911, he played center on the interhall football team.
